17 Workers Killed By Gas at Swiss Generator Project

Italians Begin Investigation; Origin of Fumes Not Known

LOCARNO, Switzerland (AP) — Seventeen workmen suffocated Tuesday night by a cloud of poisonous gas at a remote Swiss mountain power station.

Fifteen of the workmen were Italian. An Italian investigation commission arrived today, and details of the inquiry were withheld until its completion.

Police said the dense cloud of yellow gas swept through a tunnel north of Locarno, where a power station has been under construction for several years, shortly before 15 Italian workers were to end the evening shift.

Feeds Lake

The tragedy occurred in a tunnel at the Robiei hydroelectric station being built in a barren, uninhabited mountain area north of this scenic resort in central Switzerland. The tunnel was one of several waterways built to feed the station's artificial lake.

Police said the gas spread from the southern part of the tunnel after three workers opened a ventilation shaft that had been closed for the winter.

Except for the small crew working in the tunnel's northern part, only a handful of engineers and workers was at the station site.

Full construction work was to be resumed in the next few weeks with the return of seasonal workers from Italy who make up part of Switzerland's labor force but spend the winter months at home.

Wore Gas Masks

Police said the three men who opened the ventilation shaft—two Swiss fire guards and an Italian foreman—were equipped with gas masks when they set out through the tunnel more than four miles long.

A small crew of workers found them dead hours later, a few hundred yards from the shaft. Two were lying on the ground and the third was leaning against the rock. All three were without gas masks.

The other 14 Italian workers apparently suffocated when an air current drove the gas through the tunnel.

The tunnel runs under Basodino Mountain where the power station is being built. It links the two small Alpine valleys of Di Maggio and Bedretto.

The power station is in a remote area south of the Saint Gothard Mountain group in central Switzerland. The entire area is deep in snow and almost inaccessible at this time of year.

1,000 Jobs to Be Provided at Baraboo Plant

Ordnance Works Will Also Produce Rocket Propellant

BARABOO (AP)— A decision to manufacture rocket propellant material as well as gunpower at the reactivated Badger Ordnance Works will boost employment by the end of the year to nearly 1,000, but officials already have three times that many job applicants.

The Defense Department granted a $7.3 million contract Tuesday for the ordnance works. The contract was $5.5 million more than originally expected, said John Troyor, superintendent of the federal plant.

Troyor said the contract would result in an increase in employment to about 950 persons by the end of the year instead of the anticipated 340 announced earlier.

3,000 Apply

He said, however, 3,000 persons had already applied for the original 340 jobs. Many of the applicants have previous experience at the sprawling ordnance plant, Troyor said.

The plant, used in World War II and the Korean War, had been closed in recent year. Defense officials decided in December to reopen it because of a threatened shortage of ammunition for troops in Viet Nam.

The threat was due in part to a strike at an East Alton, Ill., plant of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., which also operates the Baraboo works.

Senate Starts Debate Over Viet Nam Funds

Nearly 30 Solons Announce They Wish To Discuss Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plunges into fresh argument today over Viet Nam with days of cracking debate in prospect before its expected overwhelming passage of a military supply bill.

Nearly 30 senators have notified the leadership they want an opportunity to discuss President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies before they vote on a $4.8-billion authorization measure. It covers part of the $12.3-billion emergency money request for Viet Nam outlays.

Acting Democratic Leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana declined a request by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, to delay consideration of the bill until next week.

"Frankly," he said, "the funds to support our men who are fighting in Viet Nam are a critical matter and I very much doubt the wisdom of further delay."

Morse, in a telegram Tuesday to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, recuperating in Florida from a respiratory illness, said that debate should be delayed until after the appearance of administration witnesses be-

Series E, H Rates Will Be Increased

Washington (AP) — President Johnson announced today an increase of four-tenths of one per cent in the interest rate on Series E ad H savings bonds, and made it effective as of last Dec. 1.

Johnson said the new rate, which will apply both to bonds already outstanding and new issues, will be 4.15 per cent. The present rate is 3.75 per cent.

The President could have raised the rate as high as 4.25 per cent without additional congressional action.

The increase is intended not only to make savings bonds a more attractive investment but by stimulating bond sales — as the administration hopes it will —to help avert inflation.

In announcing the increase, Johnson said the savings bond program strengthens the security of the American family and the economy of the nation, supports the cause of freedom and U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam, and helps preserve the buying powers of our dollars.

The last increase was in 1959 when the rate was boosted to its present level from 3.52 per cent.

Johnson said a month ago that the rates should be increased because alternative investments made savings bonds less attractive to the public. Most banks pay at least 4 per cent on savings accounts and some savings and loan associations pay close to 5 per cent.

The new interest rate will apply to all the presently outstanding $49 billion in savings bonds as well as to new issues.

This means that persons already holding bonds need not cash them and buy new issues to benefit from the increased interest rate.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler quoted Johnson last month as saying that the prime reason for maintaining savings bond sales is to help meet the cost of the Viet Nam war. The secretary also said at that time that the savings bond progran could prove one of the nation's most valuable weapons in averting inflation.

Savings bonds yielded 2.9 per cent interest in 1941. The rate was increased to 3 per cent in 1952 and to 3.52 per cent in 1957.

Series E and H bonds differ appreciably as far as the holder is concerned.

A $25 Series E bond, for example, sells for $18.75 and the holder receives his original purchase price plus any interest at the time he cashes the bond. If held to maturity, the bond is worth $25.

The purchaser pays face value for a Series H bond and the government sends him dividend checks every six months.

Allies Harass Viet Cong In Ground and Air Actions

Report U. S., Vietnamese Losses Reached 340 During Last Week

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied troops and air power gave the Viet Cong no rest today, but except for disengagement skirmishes the insurgents showed little inclination to defend any territory.

U.S. forces reported 66 more Viet Cong killed in two actions. American losses, if any, were not reported.

But U.S. and Vietnamese military spokesmen announced that enemy fire killed 340 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops last week, while the Allied forces killed 684 Viet Cong and captured 64. The enemy losses were less than half those the Communists suffered the week before, when 1,541 Viet Cong were reported killed and 245 captured.

With good weather over North Viet Nam for a change, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes stepped up the attack there and went for roads, railways, storage areas and warehouses in the Vinh area and around Dien Bien Phu.

19 Targets Hit

The Air Force reported 19 targets hit, including a road complex 85 miles west of Hanoi. Navy pilots said they dropped bombs on the Dong Ngam shipyard 12 miles north of Vinh and the Loc Diem highway bridge 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi, and cratered approaches to six other bridges.

The Strategic Air Force's big B52s from Guam bombed jungled Viet Cong hideouts in western Tay Ninh Province for the second straight day. A spokesman said the three target areas included a major Communist command center which had also been hit on Tuesday, but damage had not been assessed.

U.S. 1st Cavalry Division units in Operation White Wing 300 miles north of Saigon recorded another 61 dead Viet Cong in a fight Tuesday following an airborne assault 12 miles southwest of Bong Son.

Block Escape

Helicopters roared in with troops of the division's 2nd Brigade to squeeze off an enemy unit trying to escape pressure from the adjacent 3rd Brigade. When the Viet Cong finally broke off, they left behind 61 bodies and 11 weapons.

1st Cavalry patrols found a major headquarters complex which apparently had been used as a communications center. They captured 14 radios, some of U.S. manufacture and some Chinese, 7 field telephones and several hundred spare parts.

Supporting planes sighted the Viet Cong laying an ambush, hit them with rockets and called in artillery. Four of the Red squad were killed and seven captured.

The 1st Brigade of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division moved into a mountainous area about 13 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa on the coast and uncovered a cache of 10,000 rounds of ammunition. One patrol killed one Viet Cong and captured two more. The paratroopers are taking part in Operation Van Buren, which has rescued more than half the rice crop in an area where the Viet Cong used to collect it.

Search Operation

Council Seeks Bombing End

World Church Group Calls for Accord With Vatican

GENEVA (AP) — The World Council of Churches urged the United States today to stop bombing North Viet Nam to help bring peace to Southeast Asia.

The organization of 214 Protestant, Orthodox, Anglican and Old Catholic churches also appealed to North Viet Nam to halt its infiltration of the South.

A 10-point appeal urged a wide range of measures including admission of Communist China to the United Nations and the inclusion of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in any South Viet Nam negotiations.

The appeal particularly stressed "the futility" of military effort in Viet Nam.

The World Council said it is hopeful for joint action for peace in Viet Nam with Roman Catholic authorities and the Vatican.

It called on the United States to modify its policy of containment of communism and appealed to the Communist nations to stop supporting revolutionary movements.

The council's resolution, highlighting a 10-day meeting in its world headquarters here, underlined concern about the turn of events in Viet Nam.

Youth Fair Cancelled For Financial Need

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Exposition Board canceled its proposed first annual Youth Fair today. The event had been scheduled for April 9-17 at State Fair Park.

Acting Fair Administrator Vernon G. Wendland said the board acted because of a "lack of interest at this time of those who are needed to meet the financial requirements."

Pakistan to Get Loan

Humphrey Arrives For Indian Meeting

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today offered Indian farmers American know-how to banish hunger, then flew here to discuss with Indian leaders Red China's expansionist pressure and other problems.

Humphrey reached the capital after an hour spent at Ludhiana in the Punjab—Indian's bread basket — talking farming with a Peace Corps volunteer, the Indian birth control program with a family planning expert, and wheat culture with Indian farm researchers.

This was the fifth country on a 40,000 miles, nine-county tour that began in South Viet Nam and will end next week in South Korea.

In his formal arrival statement Humphrey listed several purposes behind his mission. He said one was "to explore questions in regard to China's expansionist pressure."

Chinese Woe

Twice in the past 3½ years India has suffered serious Red Chinese incursions.

Humphrey said he will meet later with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

This morning before leaving Pakistan, where President Mohammed Ayub Khan is under fire for joining in the Tashkent declaration to ease the Kasmir crisis, Humphrey twice patted Ayub Khan on the back publicly.

Knowing this, Humphrey put the weight of the U.S. government behind the Tashkent agreement, as he did in Pakistan.

"I can assure you that President Johnson is deeply interested in the peace and prosperity of the subcontinent," Humphrey said.

Offers Know-How

During an impromptu speech in Ludhiana, Humphrey offered the agricultural know-how which he said could make India as successful a food producer as the United States.

At an experimental goat farm, Humphrey met Peace Corps volunteer Jane Williams of Delta, Colo. She conducted him around the farm.

Humphrey will confer Thursday with India's ministers of food, finance and planning. They will discuss India's economic ills with special reference to the acute food shortage. Later the vice president was to talk with Foreign Minister Swaran Singh and then confer with Prime Minister Gandhi.

Pakistan Loan

Humphrey announced the $50-million loan to Pakistan Tuesday night. The amount disappointed Pakistanis who had expected Humphrey to announce resumption of general economic and military aid to their country. It had amounted to about $350 million a year.

Humphrey also announced that the U.S. and Pakistani governments have agreed to negotiate an interim agreement for food and wheat shipments to Pakistan, which like India is suffering food shortages due to the drought.

Arson Accused In Milwaukee Apartment Fires

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fifty persons were evacuated Tuesday night after 11 separate fires were discovered in three adjacent apartment buildings.

"It's definitely arson, and arson of the worst kind, when they do it in an apartment building where people are involved," said Deputy Fire Chief Herbert J. Gurn.

None of the occupants was hurt. Two firemen, Lt. Steve Kryscio, 55, and Gerald Skora, 52, were hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Eight fires were set in basements of two of the apartment buildings. The others were touched off in stairways of the third building. Total damage was estimated at $5,300.

Police were questioning three juveniles taken into custody in the area.

State Legislative Council Recommends New Election Laws

MADISON (AP) — A legislative council committee recommended Tuesday that Wisconsin's election laws be scrapped in favor of a new statute.

After the 10-4 vote, the council's Election Laws Revision Committee launched discussion of the proposed new legislation.

Louis Hanson of Mellen, state Democratic chairman and a committee member, offered the motion to recommend to the 1967 Legislature that new laws be written. It received bipartisan support.

Man Who Shot Detroit Rabbi Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Wishnetsky, 23, who shot the rabbi of his congregation before turning a pistol on himself, died of his wound today.

Wishnetsky, brilliant honors student and one-time mental patient, shot himself in the head Saturday after twice shooting Rabbi Morris Adler, 59, internationally known Jewish leader, as the rabbi conducted Sabbath services Saturday.

Rabbi Adler, in the intensive care unit of Sinai Hospital, remained in grave condition. Doctors who performed brain surgery on the rabbi for the second time Monday, said Tuesday they noted "a few small gains which suggest an improving trend."

Wishnetsky, a former Woodrow Wilson scholar at the University of Michigan before being committed to a Michigan mental institution, had been receiving counseling from Rabbi Adler.

Wishnetsky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wishnetsky, remained by the young man's bedside until his death.

U. S. Arms Help Israel, U.A.R. Defense Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sold arms to both Israel and the Arab nations to help them meet "legitimate defense needs," the State Department said in a policy statement made public today.

"United States military sales have been on a selective basis and in support of our objectives of maintaining friendly relations with all the states of the area while seeking to advance peace, progress and stability," the department said.

Holy Superman!

Library of Congress Collects Comic Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Batman, Superman and other heroes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Holy Thesis!

They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the sedate library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

Unless you're a sociologist, a reporter or a graduate student writing a dissertation, you can't get near the library's 12,000 or so comic books.

2,500 Titles

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

Unlike magazines, there are no bound volumes available, so the library has to take special care of the yellowing, cracking old comics. In addition their value is growing — a copy of the first comic in which Superman appeared sold last year for $100.

May Microfilm

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said.

The oldest comic book listed in the library's files is a January 1938 edition of Detective Comics. Although earlier comic books had reprinted newspaper funnies, Detective Comics became the first one with original material when it was first issued in 1937.

A year later, Action Comics came along and gave birth to Superman, followed by Batman who started in Detective Comics but got his own book in 1940.

Johnson Will Talk in Atlanta

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will fly to Atlantic City tonight to speak at the annual session of the American Association of School Administrators.

The White House said he is expected to speak some time between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m., then return to Washington.

Association officials had said previously Johnson would be in Atlantic City to receive the American Education Award given annually by that organization and the Associated Exhibitors.

Cold Weather Coming to Valley

Alice's Queen struck an imperious, despotic pose. There was no appeal possible. The King, the Queen and the executioner were present, in addition to the prisoners, of course. And tearful Alice. But these were all.

No jury, no public, no publicity. That last, most significantly. No newspaper reporters. Newspapers have no place in an autocracy. In Alice's chilling wonderland any spontaneous reaction — even applause, was "immediately suppressed by the officers of the court."

Not so in our day, in real-life America, 1965. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the rights of a public trial, says the Sixth Article of the Bill of Rights of the U.S. Constitution.

Not only is the accused assured a public trial, but, so people may know what is happening, newspapers must report these trials.

Freedom of the press? No. This is responsibility of the press . . . a solemn duty to report to the people the activities of the courts of the people.

Newspapers have no special importance as newspapers. Only as regards the services they render the reading public. Newspapers have no extraordinary rights. People do. And newspapers, with the stark basic drama of black and white, protect these rights.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. These are rights written into the Constitution and affirmed by the Supreme Court in 1829 when Mr. Justice Bagley wrote: "It is one of the essential qualities of a court of justice that its proceedings should be public."

The light of publicity reveals much that would otherwise flourish foully in the dark. It is the bright white light which searches out the dark corners of abuses wherever they may occur.

Your newspaper is proud to serve in a land such as ours where freedom is precious.

You support the freedom of your community when you support your newspaper. You support your community's business most when you advertise in the newspaper contributing most.

Planning Unit Begins Study of Consulting Firms

KAUKAUNA — The planning commission Monday began interviewing consulting firms interested in preparing a master comprehensive plan for the city

Plans call for four firms to be interviewed, one each week, after which the planning body will make recommendation on hiring to the council. Representatives of Harland Bartholomew and Associates were interviewed Monday.

They outlined the history and background of their organization, qualified personnel working on the project and things to be covered in the master plan They provided maps showing work accomplished in other communities and estimated it would take about 18 months to complete a master plan for the city.

Representatives recommended formation of a citizen's advisory committee to help study proposals by the master planners, providing the planning commission with support in attempting to put through master plan recommendations

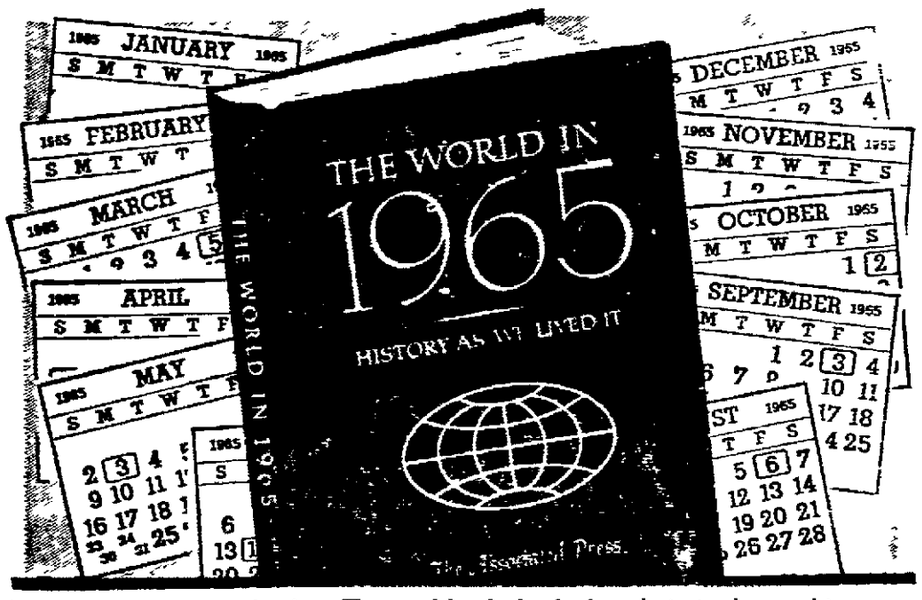
What a Year! Will You Ever Forget It?

You Will Unless You Have 'The World in 1965'



THE WORLD IN 1965 is a handsome, 288-page, dramatically illustrated and brilliantly written account of the year just past, prepared for readers of this and other member newspapers by The Associated Press, world's foremost news service.

With its in-depth articles and striking news pictures, in color and black and white it brings to vivid life the great events, the climactic moments, and the things you would like to remember about a great news year.

How well, for instance do you recall the details of such matters as these—

- The way Viet Nam's brush fire blazed up.
- The walk in space.
- President Johnson's push for the Great Society.
- Uncle Sam's role in the Dominican revolt.
- The student marches for free speech and peace.
- The Pope's visit to the New World.
- How Sukarno lost his grip in Indonesia.

These and hundreds of other events great and small are yours for all time in this magnificent book of living history. Only The Associated Press, with which this newspaper is teamed in reporting the news of the world, could have put together such a volume. It will be indispensable now and in all the years to come to students, teachers, and to everyone with an intelligent interest in what is going on in the world.

An $8 value, it is offered to readers of this newspaper for only $3. The books will be available in February. To reserve your copy, fill out and mail the coupon at once.

Work May Start in Summer On Pipeline to Winnebago

Plans for Project to Provide New Water Source for Appleton Should be Ready in Two Months

Construction of a multi-million dollar pipeline to Lake Winnebago — providing Appleton with a new water source — may start this summer, the board of public works indicated Tuesday.

The board:

—Heard a report from Public Works Director Robert W. Bues that preliminary plans for the pipeline and proposed intake station should be ready in 60 days.

—Asked the council to grant authority to negotiate for the purchase of property and obtaining of right-of-way required for the lake-tapping project.

Promise to help

—Received letters from U.S. Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) and Rep John Byrnes (R-Green Bay) in which they vowed to help the city obtain "a federal grant for the water expansion program.

—Got an estimate that it will cost about $15,000 to have a complete financial study made of water department operations, complete with projections and future rate schedules, by a firm specializing in financial analyses for major public works projects.

The board said if the price of an intake site could not be negotiated, the city would initiate condemnation proceedings. City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich was told to be prepared to start such actions if talks with property owners result in a stalemate.

Property Appraisals

The city intends to have appraisals made of the property it will have to acquire in connection with the water project which may cost up to $3 million.

Consoer Townsend and Associates of Chicago is preparing the intake line and plant plans while Alvord Burdick and Howsen, another Chicago engineering firm, has the contract for the water treatment plant expansion phase of the project.

Recently, the council petitioned the federal government for a public works grant to pay part of the cost of the project. Mayor Clarence Mitchell says he held informal conferences with federal officials and was encouraged.

Nelson, Byrnes Reply

In connection with letters Mitchell sent out to the Wisconsin congressional delegation seeking financial support for Appleton's undertaking, replies were received from Nelson and Byrnes.

Nelson acknowledged receiving a copy of the city's application for federal assistance for water, sewer and treatment plant expansions.

"I will be glad to contact the regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development in behalf of Appleton's application and ask that it be given prompt and careful consideration," Nelson wrote.

Byrnes said he had asked the federal agency to keep him informed as to what action the federal agency takes on Appleton's request.

"I sincerely hope the project will qualify," Byrnes wrote. "Needless to say, I will be glad to be of any assistance I can in connection with the reqest. . . ."

Knowles May Name Administrator

Fond du Lac to Get 2nd New Judge in 2 Days

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Fond du Lac area was expected to get its second new judge in the same number of days today.

Gov. Knowles, prior to leaving the state, indicated he would fill a county judgeship vacancy which was created Tuesday by one of his appointments.

The governor had appointed County Judge Jerold Murphy, 49, to the 18th Circuit district judgeship, succeeding the late Judge R. E. Hanson.

Murphy came here today from Fond du Lac and was sworn in to the $23,000 a year judicial post in a ceremony before the State Supreme Court.

Reliable sources said Attorney William Ashton of Fond du Lac is the frontrunner among candidates seeking the county judgeship formerly held by Murphy. The job pays $20,500 a year.

Ashton, a former Fond du Lac County Republican Party chairman and active in civic and legal affairs, is county administrator.

The 49-year-old Ashton is a native of Rhinelander. He attended the University of New Mexico and received his law degree from Northwestern University.

Ashton, who lives at 57 Elm Tree Lane, Fond du Lac, served in the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Green Bay Faces Delay In Getting Jet Service

FAA Evaluation of Projects Requiring Aid Indicates Airport May Not Get Runway

GREEN BAY — Green Bay and northeastern Wisconsin today faced the loss of jet passenger and cargo transportation for an additional year as the result of a federal aviation agency re-evaluation of pending projects requiring FAA funds.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Green Bay), in a letter to Robert J. Smith, director of Austin Straubel Airport, stated that Cole Morrow, FAA director of airport services, said, in view of President Johnson's reduction of FAA funds for airports from $71 million to $50 million in 1967, FAA has taken a new look at airport projects and will re-evaluate all petitions.

"We are being caught in a squeeze play by the FAA," Smith said. "Our petition has been before the FAA for three years and we have pushed it for the past year since North Central Airlines has announced that jet service will be available here April 25, 1967."

Seeks Aid For Runway

Brown County has petitioned for $505,650 in federal funds to pay half the cost of extending the northeast-Southwest runway 2,500 feet so that it will accommodate jet transportation.

"We are right in the middle of a time element," Smith said. "Unless FAA releases our funds immediately, we are in danger

Outagamie County's application for federal aid for construction of a crosswind runway originally was rejected by the FAA but the county earlier this year was told to submit another application for reconsideration. Winnebago County also has an application in to the FAA for aid on a $1.9 million runway extension project. Attempts to reach Outagamie and Winnebago County officials this noon to learn if they had received any word from FAA were unsuccessful.

Utilities for Appleton School

Council to Decide Merit Of Aesthetics Vs. Costs

Will seven 30-foot high power poles detract from the aesthetics of the new $5 million Appleton High School East being constructed on Appleton's southside?

The question was half answered earlier in the week by the city council's street-sanitation committee. Aldermen were split down the middle on the subject of overhead versus underground power installations.

A final decision may be made by the city's 20 aldermen at their meeting tonight.

Two weeks ago the council approved a drawing which called for all underground lines to be installed to the school site by the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co.

Doesn't Have Funds

However, the school board reportedly told city officials it does not have the money to pay the estimated $6,000 cost for underground lines.

On the motion to rescind the previous recommendation for underground power lines, the committee wound up in a tie vote.

Referring to the new school as the "school board's functional showplace," Ald. Fred Ziemann (6th) opposed having power poles dotting the campus landscape.

Public Works Director Robert Bues said he was informed by school officials and the architect that installation of underground power facilities would take weeks and delay construction.

Cost of the underground work would be $9,300 with the power company reportedly absorbing the first $2,230.

It was estimated construction of a quarter mile of overhead lines and erection of the seven power poles would take about two weeks.

Earlier in the week, the school board said change orders on the high school project to date have amounted to a total savings of $46,860.

Civil Defense Meeting Draws 50 in Oshkosh

State Director, University Engineers Headline Program

OSHKOSH — More than 50 representatives from 10 counties are taking part in an area Civil Defense meeting at the courthouse lounge here today.

Included in the group are county and city elected officials and personnel from police, fire, engineering and sheriff departments and from schools and universities in the area which includes Outagamie, Calumet, Winnebago, Fond du Lac and some counties to the west.

George Oaks, Winnebago County Civil Defense director, welcomed the officials and introduced Bruce L. Bishop, director of the state bureau of Civil Defense.

Bishop spoke on "Leadership in Civil Defense." He was joined on the program by Lowell B. Jackson, lecturer of the University of Wisconsin department of engineering who discussed "Nuclear Weapon and Natural Disaster Effects," and W. C. Dries, project associate of the university engineering department, who spoke on fallout shelter systems.

Also on the program were Robert A. Hansen, state Civil Defense area director, who spoke on Civil Defense in the counties of the conference area and John Quigley, also of the university engineering department whose topic was "Emergency Operations, Direction and Control."

Counsel Named For Man Charged With Burglary

Counsel was appointed Tuesday afternoon for Marvin C. Mauthe, 30, 545 N. Appleton St., charged with burglarizing Fleet Wholesale Supply Co., 3225 W. Wisconsin Ave. Monday.

Mauthe, who worked for the firm at the time of the alleged burglary, was found indigent and County Judge Gustave J. Keller named attorney William F. Hegner to the case. Judge Keller continued the case to 1:30 p.m. Friday and set bond at $2,500.

Africa's Role Topic for Decisions Discussion

Professor Schneider to Address Foreign Policy Study Group at Lawrence Thursday

Africa's role in world affairs will be the subject of a Great Decisions meeting to be held Thursday on the Lawrence University campus. Dr. Harold K. Schneider, chairman of the Lawrence department of anthropology, will address the foreign policy study group on the topic, "Sub-Saharan Africa: Can Stability Be Achieved?" His talk will follow a noon luncheon in the Terrace Room at Memorial Union.

Dr. Schneider, associate professor of anthropology, and a member of the faculty since 1953, has specialized in studies of African society.

In 1951 and 1952 he engaged in field research in the Kenya Colony while studying in a doctoral program at Northwestern University. His Ph. D. thesis, a result of this research, was entitled "The Pakat (Suk) of Kenya with Special Reference to the Role of Livestock in their Subsistence Economy."

Recent Publication

His most recent publication, a study entitled "A Model of an African Indigenous Economy and Society," was printed last year by the Journal of Comparative Studies of Society and History.

Dr. Schneider received his B.A. degree from Macalester College, St. Paul. He also studied at Seabury-Western Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill., and received his Ph.D. degree from Northwestern.

His talk is the fourth among eight in the weekly discussion series. Sponsor of the programs is the Lawrence Alumni Association. Persons interested in participating in the meetings are asked to call at the Alumni Office, 706 E. College Ave.

Papers may also be brought to the school throughout the day until 4 p.m.

Appleton Memorial to Take Bids on Hospital Addition

Hope for Early Construction Start on $4 Million Project

Letters were mailed this week to area general contractors asking if they are interested in the four million dollar expansion planned at Appleton Memorial Hospital.

Contractors will be interviewed by the hospital building committee Saturday at the hospital.

It is hoped work can begin immediately on excavation, foundations and the structural phase following the committee's selection of a contractor and approval by the board of directors.

First Step

Completion of the new X-ray and laboratory facilities last year was the first step in the hospital's immediate expansion program.

Drawings are being completed for the four-story addition to be constructed south of the present structure. This phase also includes remodeling of the present structure and space for a new cafeteria, general and dietary stores, two new operating rooms and a new laundry.

The four-story addition will consist of about 85,000 square feet, including 19,000 each on the second, third and fourth floors, which are patient bed units; 22,000 on the first floor, which will house public space, business and administrative offices, medical records, emergency department, gift shop and meeting room, and 6,000 square feet in the basement. There will be two new passenger elevators.

The exterior of the building will be face brick matching the present building.

Swim, Pizza Party Scheduled at YMCA

A co-ed swim and pizza party for university students and other young adults is scheduled at 8:45 p.m. Friday at the Appleton Family YMCA.

Swimming is planned from 9:15 to 10 p.m. The archery lanes and record players also will be available.

Crash at Kaukauna Injures Youth, 18

KAUKAUNA — Michael Baisch, 18, 111 Idlewild St., suffered scalp lacerations but appeared to be in good condition at Kaukauna Community Hospital today following an accident on Kenneth Avenue near Whitney Street from 6:40 p.m. Tuesday.

According to police Baisch was going east on Whitney Street and made a right turn onto Kenneth when his car left the road and struck a tree.

Man Pleads No Contest To Misconduct Charge

Arden L. Borchardt, 31, 3903½ Ballard Road, pleaded no contest this morning to a disorderly conduct charge brought by Appleton police.

Borchardt was arrested Feb. 11 in connection with a morals offense, according to the complaint.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller set bond at $500 and continued the case to March 1 in order to give Borchardt an opportunity to make arrangements with a psychiatrist.

Kaukauna Man Wounded in Viet Nam War

Dennis P. Kroes In Good Condition At Great Lakes

A 22-year-old Marine lance corporal from Kaukauna is expected to arrive at Great Lakes Naval Hospital today after being wounded in fighting near Chu Lai, Viet Nam, last Saturday.

Dennis P. Kroes, son of Mrs. Sylvester Huss, route 1, Kaukauna, received shrapnel wounds in the jaw and neck when an unknown explosive device went off while he was on a mission.

He was flown to a California military hospital Tuesday and is expected to arrive at the naval hospital near Chicago this afternoon. He told his mother in a telephone conversation Tuesday evening that he was listed in good condition.

Kroes is a 1962 graduate of Kaukauna High School and joined the Marines in July of that year. He arrived in Okinawa last May and was transferred to Viet Nam in August. He will complete four years of military service this July.

First Lt. Donald Jeruc of Sheboygan, received gunshot wounds in the left hip near Quang Ngai, Viet Nam, last Sunday. He is listed in good condition at an aid station in Viet Nam.

Lt. Jeruc is married to the former Susan Makoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Makoski, 1412 W. Lindbergh St., Appleton. The couple has one child. Mrs. Jeruc is attending the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Kaukauna Youth Says $20 Stolen at School

KAUKAUNA — Jeff Bangart, 801 Oviatt Street, reported to police $20 was missing from his wallet which was in a locker room at Kaukauna High School.

The theft occurred while he was playing basketball between 8 and 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Winners in the "Speak Up" contest for members of the Appleton Jaycees Tuesday night, from left, were Frank Mueller, third; Joseph Burns, second, and Ralph McHugh, first. The latter will represent Appleton in the district contest which will be held in Appleton on April 28. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Council Fight May Erupt

Appleton Board Supports Knowles Veto of Municipal Employe Bill

Gov. Knowles gained support for his recent veto of municipal employe union shop legislation from the Appleton Board of Public Works Tuesday.

However, there are indications the matter may erupt into a floor fight tonight when the council is called upon to pass on the board's action.

The board's recommendation is for the city to contact state legislation representatives in this area and urge them to vote to sustain the governor's veto.

Strong Opposition

Strong opposition to the stand taken Tuesday by the board came from Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th), a former union official, who said, "I think the city should keep hands off in this instance. To me it is very important that municipal employes have the same rights as those enjoyed by employes in private industries."

Under the union shop Bill 389A, passed by the legislature, all municipal employes would have to pay the initiation fee and dues whether they belonged to the union or not.

Ald. Roy Pointer (15th) also felt the issue was one for the individual aldermen and city officials to express themselves on — not the official municipal body.

But Public Works Director Robert W. Bues felt differently.

League Favors Veto

"I'm strongly opposed to this bill because it calls for a union shop," Bues declared. He said the Wisconsin League of Municipalities had requested cities to go on record favoring the governor's veto.

A major share of the employes in the department of public works are unionized.

Bues said in this instance the city was cast in the role of management, and as a result should be involved in the issue.

"I don't agree at all," Thompson said. "This is just a step to keep municipal employes from joining a union."

Established Agent

Thompson said if two-thirds of any group of municipal employes want a union, they should be able to have it.

"Under present law a union is the established bargaining agent and must provide equal protection to all workers — even those who are against the union and fail to assume their fair share of the responsibility," Thompson said.

Thompson indicated that joining a union wasn't any more un-American than taxes.

"A homeowner may be opposed to a plan to build a new school in town, but if he is outvoted, he still has to pay his share of the cost through taxes," Thompson declared.

He said to veto Bill 389A would continue to burden collective bargaining for municipal employes.

Kaukauna Fire, Police Units To be Expanded

Council Also Okays Use of City Crews As Extra Firemen

KAUKAUNA — The council Tuesday night accepted the recommendation of the public protection and safety committee to add two new men to the fire department The council also approved hiring a new man for the police department, as recommended by the police and fire commission, if he passes the necessary physical and written examinations.

The three men are to be added to the departments as soon as possible Council members also approved the use of city crew workers as auxiliary firemen for 1966 and left it up to the finance committee to determine how these men would be reimbursed for fire fighting training and assistance at fires

Karl Marzahl, city clerk, was instructed to write the State Highway Commission in an effort to have the speed limit reduced on State 55 from Henry Street to the south city limits Ald. Richard Helf, third ward, indicated the present speed limit was 50 miles per hour and with the two schools near the highway and plans for a crossing guard next year, he felt the limit should be cut to 25 miles per hour and less when children were present.

Sell Treasury Bonds

A resolution was adopted authorizing the Electric and Water Utility Commission to sell $200,000 in United States treasury bonds to help finance the $560,000 diesel generating plant project currently underway.

A request from officials of Combined Locks asking for a joint meeting with Kaukauna officials to discuss transfer of sewer lines from the village to the city was referred to the board of public works The sewers are owned by the village, but are located in areas recently annexed to the city.

The legislative committee was authorized to study a change in the ordinance which would increase the cost of permits for pigeons, doves and rabbits from $1 to $2 per year to help cover the added cost of collection and inspection.

Approval was given for purchase of plant and grass fertilizer for the park department at a cost of $323.

The operator of a dog kennel, who keeps livestock as pets, was advised no increase of any livestock will be permitted under the municipal code.

Land Sale to City

An offer from Mrs. Helen Garrison to sell land to the city at a cost of $2,900 was referred to the finance and health and recreation committees for recommendation.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon requested aldermen to meet with the planning commission and building inspector to learn whether city building codes were restrictive and whether the city should change its building regulations to permit construction of apartment houses or multiple dwelling units He indicated considerable interest was being shown in such projects, but all developers seemed to feel building codes were restrictive

Council members also approved a revised building code as recommended by the legislative committee

Menasha Council

Tenure Issue Referred To Committee for Study

MENASHA—With an overflowing crowd of some 65 citizens in the galleries Tuesday night, five aldermen tried to rescind the recently passed controversial ordinance placing the city attorney and treasurer on tenure, but the other seven refused to budge.

The seven councilmen voted down a resolution introduced by Ald William Zeininger to draw up a new charter ordinance that would repeal the ordinance passed by the council Jan 4.

The matter still is not dead, since, after several parliamentary maneuvers, the councilmen voted 11 to 1 to send the petitions to the committee of the whole meeting "for study," thereby deferring final action on the petitions.

Citizen's Group

The petitions were circulated by a citizen's group opposed to the manner in which the council passed the appointive city ordinances for the two offices. They were filed with the city clerk Friday with approximately 800 names on each, or some 14 to 15 per cent of the city voters in the last gubernatorial election.

The council passed the charter ordinances unanimously on Jan. 4 without any public hearing This was one night after the city attorney change was first mentioned on the council floor.

The effect of deferring action on the petitions until the next council meeting is to put the pinch on the petitioning group

State Statutes

Under state statutes, the charter ordinance goes into effect 60 days after passage. These 60 days would be up on March 5, just four days after the council meeting March 1.

This would give the petitioners only four days to circulate a second petition specifically worded to force a referendum. They would need to get 407 names on that petition to bring the issue to a vote of the people.

Symphony's First Concert Is April 11

NEENAH - MENASHA — The Fox Valley Symphony will make its first appearance at 8 p.m. April 11 in Lawrence University Chapel, Appleton.

Karlos Moser, director, has selected works by Sibelius, Frederick Delius and Beethoven for this performance.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors, committee chairmen and officers were elected.

Elected were Robert E. Najem, president; Franklin Doverspike, business manager; Edward Jandrey, vice president; Mrs. Curtis W. Tarr, secretary; Harold C. Adams, treasurer; C. J. Schubert and John J. Dixon, executive committee members; Robert M. Sigman, finance committee; Kenneth Byler, constitution committee; Dr. George Potter, orchestra personnel committee, and C. J. Schubert, long range planning committee.

Plans for enlisting community financial support and ticket sales will be formulated at a board meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Engineer Takes Leadership of Menasha Utility

MENASHA — After nearly three weeks without an official water and light utility superintendent, the commission of the utility has hired a 55-year-old engineer from Traverse City, Mich.

He is Francis M. Hageman, who graduated from Ohio State University in electrical engineering in 1933 and has been working in Traverse City as superintendent of the steam generating plant for the last 13 years.

He is a registered professional engineer and will be drawing a salary of $13,800, utility commissioner John Scanlon announced today.

He will not report for work until March 16, so the problem of what to do for a superintendent until then remains.

Kimberly to Add Woman to Guidance Staff

Expansion Would Qualify District For Federal Aid

KIMBERLY — The school board Monday night authorized Supt. Ray Hamann to hire a women's guidance instructor for the 1966-67 school year.

The woman would work in both the senior and junior high schools and could possibly be utilized for some class teaching work. The present student-guidance ratio is 453 to 1 and the state recommends a ratio of 400 to 1. Addition of a woman in guidance would help reduce the ratio and permit the district to qualify for aid under the National Education Act

The board voted down an opportunity to become part of a pilot program involving guidance service in the elementary grades. Under the plan, proposed by the State Department of Education, the district would begin a guidance program for elementary students. Local cost would be between 50 to 75 peper cent of the total program.

Stabilze Guidance

Board members felt cost of this pilot program would probably be unrealistic. They said guidance departments on the senior and junior high levels should be stabilized prior to initiating an elementary level program. The question may be reviewed in a few years after such programs are tried in other districts.

Hamann also was authorized to hire an intern principal to work with Darrell Larson, high school principal, and elementary students assigned to high school classrooms for the 1966-67 school year. Hamann also will hire an intern teacher to work in the senior high school English department.

An additional elementary school library will be hired for the coming year to work at Ryan and Janssen Schools. Combined Locks. The present librarian will be responsible for the schools in Kimberly.

Hamann was asked to select a person to draw up an educational program for the district under which the district would qualify for federal aids under Titles 1 and 2. They grant money for educating deprived children in a school district. Areas to be considered in the program, outlined by the board, were after school classes for students with special problems in reading, writing, arithmetic, summer speech correctional program and an additional reading program using reading machines.

The person preparing the program will be reimbursed with funds coming through the federal grants for the program. Hamann also was instructed to secure an additional speech correctionist for the remainder of the year through the Cooperative Education Service Agency at a cost of about $250.

Business Manager Myron Huth, was instructed to notify architects and contractors, the school board accepted the Janssen School addition as of Oct. 1, 1965, thus they would be held responsible for any faults which may be noticed prior to Oct. 1, 1966.

Kenneth Mitchell was named to the Citizen's Education Committee to replace Mrs. Nyles Manley to represent Combined Locks.

Welfare Board Says State Study Report Contains Inaccuracies

Public Expenditure Survey Looked At Winnebago Welfare Policy

OSHKOSH — A study made by the Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin on the Winnebago County Welfare Department administrative policies and procedures was labeled as containing inaccuracies, members of the county welfare board said at Tuesday's county board meeting.

The report was prepared at the request of the Oshkosh and Neenah-Menasha Taxpayers associations and submitted to the board Tuesday by Martin Kuether of Neenah.

The board will take up the report and a reply to the report by Welfare Director Norman L. Whitford at the March 15 meeting.

Supt. Laurel Heaney, Town of Neenah, welfare board chairman, said Whitford had written a five page single spaced reply to the taxpayers associations regarding statements made in the report.

The board also confirmed the appointment by the Winnebago County Medical Society of Dr. T. J. Kelly of Winnebago State Hospital as the Medical Society member on the guidance center board.

Approval was given removal of State 26 from the state highway system at the south end of the Winnebago County Regional Airport to permit expansion of the airport and the eventual relocation of that highway further south.

Viet Nam Situation Subject of School Film

NEENAH - MENASHA — A motion picture documentary on the Viet Nam situation will be seen in schools this month through Screen News Digest and Kimberly-Clark Corp.

Stocks Move Up Irregularly

Fairly Sharp Losses Suffered in Trade of Aerospace Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged irregularly lower early this afternoon in active trading.

Some fairly sharp losses showed among aerospace issues, color television stocks and airlines.

At the same time, selected issues showed strength, both among blue chips and secondary issues.

The market was mixed at the start following Tuesday's decline and there was little in the news to impel it either way.

As the session progressed, utilities and other stocks which are bought by big investors on a yield basis seemed to be adversely affected by news that President Johnson said he is raising the interest rate on U.S. savings bonds to 4.15 per cent from the present 3.75 per cent.

AP Average

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .2 at 366.6 with industries up .8, rails off .6 and utilities off .6.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .61 at 982.18, thanks to gains by some of its component blue chips such as General Electric, which advanced about 1½.

Prices were mixed in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Chamber Music Series

Violinist David Abel Presents Melodious Valentine at Concert

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN
Of Lawrence University

The Leventritt Foundation sent Appleton concertgoers a magnificent valentine Monday night in the person of David Abel, violinist, who appeared on the Lawrence University Chamber Music Series in Harper Hall.

Abel plays like a young god, and although his present slot in the hierarchy may be only part way up Mount Olympus, before long he surely will attain the height.

He illuminates every score he addresses; he floods the page with a beauty compounded of equal parts of tonal purity, peerless technique and a superbly critical ear.

Perhaps the element of taste is his most significant attribute. Abel is a 19th century man from first to last, but his romance isn't spelled with a big red satin-quilted "R." It is romance tempered with high intelligence and chasteness of spirit.

The program had Saint-Saens at both ends (audacious in itself) with Brahms and Schubert in between, and on paper was a very hog-wallow of sentiment. But when translated for the ear, it was magnificently understated. It had an opulence that had no hint of the voluptuous; it had a burnished depth that was quite different from simple surface sheen.

Abel began with Havanaise by Saint-Saens, liquid, persuasive, the sort of thing the violin does best.

Brahms Sonata No. 1, Op. 78 was a reverent pilgrimage to honor the Viennese spirit in its most sophisticated form. The composer's braided, occasionally convoluted musical lines were revealed immaculately, persuasively.

Then there was Schubert, without a care in his head, in the Sonata Op. 96, No. 10 in G, full of optimistic tunes and not a few fiddler's tricks, which Abel set forth in high style.

Stravinsky's Suite Italienne, dated 1933, was a gesture to a contemporary name if not the contemporary idiom. The suite was almost 18th century in theme and treatment, stately as a formal garden full of peacocks.

Saint-Saens Rondo Carpiccioso, Op. 28, is what the people wise in the ways of concert-going call a chestnut. Abel transformed the chestnut into a formidable Mont Blanc dessert.

As encores there were Rachmaninoff's sublimely beautiful Vocalise, and Moussorgsky's wild Hopak.

UCS to Elect New Directors At Annual Parley

New directors will be elected at the annual meeting of the United Community Services scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Alex's Manor House, according to Charles Heeter, president of the board of control.

John Torinus, editor of The Post-Crescent, will speak on "The Service Challenge Facing Appleton."

Fifteen new members will be elected to the UCS board. Current officers are Heeter, G. E. Hoffman, first vice president; Don R. Herrling, second vice president, and Marwin Wrolstad, treasurer.

Philip Garey Awarded Eagle Citation at Court of Honor

Philip Garey, 16, son of Mr and Mrs. C. L. Garey, 424 E McArthur, was awarded the Eagle citation, the highest honor given by the Boy Scouts of America, at a Troop 12 Court of Honor Monday night at Franklin School.

Phil's father, associated with the Institute of Paper Chemistry, presented the award. It was the same one he had received as a Scout.

The elder Garey also was honored by the troop for his work both at meetings and other events. He was presented a plaque "For recognition of service to the troop."

His interest in scouting has continued through the years. He was a member of the Scouting fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega at the University of Nebraska and has participated in scouting ever since.

The entire Garey family are avid scouts. Garey and three sons are members of the Order of the Arrow, an honorary service society. Mrs. Garey was presented with a bouquet of roses by the troop.

Other individual awards went to John Ernst star, Steve Shepard life, Dale Borchardt, first class and Gary Gavriel second class.

William Burger also showed the scouts slides of Isle Royale National park and some of the equipment they will need for their planned trip this summer to the island, located in Lake Superior.

Appleton Firemen Called When Truck Knocks Over Heater

Several units of the Appleton Fire Department were summoned at 8:35 a.m. Tuesday to the Shannon Co. warehouse, 1726 Ballard Road, after a large truck backed into a loading dock and knocked over a lighted heater.

The line feeding the heater was snapped and the fuel flow had to be shut off, firemen said. The only damage was to the heater.

At 4:39 p.m. Monday, firemen were called to The Institute of Paper Chemistry, 1043 E. South River St., when chemicals boiled over on a stove in the laboratory. The resulting flames were extinguished before firemen arrived.

Firemen were summoned to the John Plach Jr. home, 1414 S. Jackson St. at 11:41 a.m. Monday to handle a chimney fire.

DAILY NEWSPAPERS are a GROWTH BUSINESS

Newspapers go and grow where people go

America is people on the move. Nearly 30 million new housing units have been built since the end of World War Two. One out of every five Americans changes his residence every year. Every third day another town or village makes the transition from "rural" to "urban" status.

As America moves and grows so, too, do its newspapers go and grow—performing their daily mission of providing the information that people need where the people are.

To serve the needs of people, newspapers spring up or spread out to adapt to the changing face of America. Today there are more daily newspapers published in the United States than at the end of World War Two. There are more small ones and more large ones. For example, there are 20 more newspapers in the "over 100,000" circulation class today than in 1945 and six more in the "over 500,000" class. What's truly significant, however, is that today daily newspapers have greater circulation, contain more news and more advertising, and employ far more people than ever before.

Newspapers are growing for one reason: Only the newspaper covers the news fully and in depth. There is no substitute for the daily newspaper.

For more information on why daily newspapers are a growth business, write for a free copy of the new booklet, "The Growth of the American Daily Newspaper," an economic analysis published by the University of Wisconsin.

Green Bay May Not Get Jet Service

"This could mean a tremendous economic loss to Green Bay and the entire northeast Wisconsin area in cargo and passenger service," Smith said. "Even if we had the funds now, it would still be 90 days or more before a bond issue could be set up. That means construction couldn't possibly start until June and even with the best weather conditions it would be late fall before completion. If that schedule held, we could have jet service in April, 1967, just as it is planned."

Smith said that a recent letter from Sen. Gaylord Nelson (D.-Wisconsin) stated that the Minneapolis FAA regional office had recommended the Green Bay project for immediate consideration and that it should be squeezed into the 1966 projects.

A Life Membership certificate in the State School Boards Association, along with a gold-plated school bell, was presented to Harold Wentzel, center, president of the Kimberly School board, by Senn Brown, association representative. The award was in appreciation of Wentzel's service as president of the association in 1963 and 1964. Ray Hamann, left, Kimberly superintendent of schools, watches the presentation at the Kimberly school. (Post-Crescent Photo)

'66 Youth Government Program Scheduled in Madison for April

Plans for the 1966 YMCA sponsored Youth Government Day program, to be held April 1 and 2 at the state capitol, were announced today by Assemblyman William A. Steiger (R-Oshkosh), chairman of the state sponsoring committee.

The program has been in operation in Wisconsin since 1952. This year it will involve more than 275 high school students from YMCA's across the state. The model legislature is part of the North Central Area YMCA program in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

The Appleton Y annually participates in the event.

The state sponsoring committee includes Kenneth E. Priebe, now legislative assistant to Gov. Knowles and formerly an Outagamie County assemblyman, and Robert Taggart, Appleton.

Fox Cities Men Named To Governor's Panel On Fire Protection

Two Fox Cities men were named to participate in the panel workshop "Industrial Fire Protection" at Madison as a part of Gov. Warren Knowles' 1966 Conference on Fire Safety. They are Eugene J. Birchler, staff fire protection engineer, Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah and Raymond C. Max, vice president and manager, fire protection division, AZCO, Inc., Appleton.

The panel is under the sponsorship of the Wisconsin Chapter, Society of Fire Protection Engineers, and is being conducted by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education.

Milwaukee Democrats Seek State's 2nd Spot

2 State Senators, Industrialist, Minister Are Contenders for Lieutenant Governor

BY DAVE NOWAK
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The ring of Democratic contenders for lieutenant governor is getting a little crowded. And the crowd consists of four Milwaukee County hopefuls.

As of today, the contenders are Richard Zabroski, State Senate minority leader; State Sen. Martin J. Schreiber Jr., Abe Swed, industrialist, and Rev. Raymond L. Lathan, former assemblyman and pastor of a Baptist church.

Swed and Lathan have announced their candidacies, while Schreiber and Zaborski are still mulling it over.

Opponents Personal Friends

The main contest appears to be between Schretiber and Zaborski, who are personal friends.

Schreiber, 26, said he "has been thinking about" running, but "at present I have not made a final decision."

Factors which are uppermost in Schreiber's mind are his age and the realization that the job would be "quite a responsibility." He was elected to the State Senate in 1962.

Zaborski, 39, hopes to "make a decision within a week or two." A member of the Senate since 1954, he was elected minority leader in 1963.

May Run For Treasurer

Zaborski has also been considering running for state treasurer. Democrats feel the incumbent Republican treasurer, Mrs. Dena Smith, is vulnerable.

There has been speculation that Schreiber also is considering the posts of treasurer and secretary of state. Asked about this Monday, Schreiber said:

"I am not interested in the present time in the secretary or state treasurer's posts."

It appears that Zaborski and Schreiber want to avoid hurting each other's political future.

Zaborski cited the growing number of candidates, saying the party should be careful "it doesn't become too embroiled in the primary" and hurt its chances in the November election.

Lacks Finances

His disadvantages appear to be lack of finances for a primary fight.

Schreiber has one built-in advantage, his father, Martin J. Sr., is president of the Milwaukee council and has been an alderman for 20 years. The name is well-known to Democrats throughout the state.

Both Schreiber and Zaborski have been encouraged to run by prominent Democrats throughout the state, in some cases by the same individuals.

Zaborski, who is head of the Citizens for Lucey Committee, doesn't think his position on the committee has advsrsely affected his chances. Lucey is expected to run for governor.

He said he has remained "rather independent" during his senate tenure.

According to some reliable sources however, Zaborski has alienated some of the Carley people by heading the Lucey committee. (David Carley Wisconsin national committeeman, has already announced his gubernatorial candidacy.)

On the local scene, the Carley campaign has moved into the organizational state in Outagamie County.

It was learned that Monday night Pete Pethek, Madison, one of Carley's coordinators, and Miss Mary Lou Berg, West Bend, Carley's press director, met with about a dozen individuals in Appleton to discuss establishing a formal organization in the county.

At last report, neither Carley or Lucey had named a county campaign chairman.

Paper Institute Men to Attend New York Parley

Attending the annual Paper Week activities in New York next Monday through Thursday from the Institute of Paper Chemistry will be John G. Strange, Roy P. Whitney, T. A. Howells, I. H. Isenberg, Edwin R. Laughlin, Irwin A. Pearl, Wendall H. Smith, John W. Swanson, J. A. Van den Akker, Willis M. Van Horn, Jack Weiner and W. A. Wink.

Presenting speeches or technical papers at the conference will be John G Strange, "The Logistics of Knowledge," Jack Weiner, "Experiments in Centralized Literature Processing at The Institute of Paper Chemistry," Irwin A. Pearl, "Glucosides from the Bark and Leaves of Triploid Varieties of Populus Species" and I. H. Isenberg, "The Microsectioning of Fibers and Papers" coauthored with Institute staff member, J. D. Hankey.

Others will give reports as officers or members of several TAPPI divisions and committees.

Strange, Whitney and Smith will attend the Institute Board of Trustees meeting this Saturday.

Store Moves to New Location

MENASHA — Herb Steidl's Bowlby Candy Shop has moved from 115 Main St. to 111 Main St. doubling its floor space and stock.

The remodeling cost was $5,000 including new lighting, new flooring and doubling of shelf space.

The project was completed last week, and the store was opened.

Democrat Women's Clubs Plan Spring Tours Of State's Scenic Areas

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Tours of the state's scenic areas are being planned by women's clubs of the state Democratic party. Featured guests on the tours in localities throughout the state will be Mrs. Patrick Lucey and Mrs. Bronson LaFollette.

The spring tours will be similar to one sponsored last year by the Rock County women's committee. The county organization termed that trip a "splendid success."

Local clubs interested in sponsoring a tour in their region this spring may contact the state headquarters, the state Democratic party has announced.

Hubcaps Stolen From Three Automobiles

Filing reports were James Zemlock, 1213 N. Gillett St., Ford Galleske, 926½ W. Packard St., and Robert Smith, 713 Bluemound Drive.

All four hubcaps were taken off each of the three vehicles, police said.

Medical Miracle Mixed Blessing, Doctor Insists

MADISON (AP) — Medical miracles have created a myth that disease is no longer a fact of life, an official of the American Medical Society said Tuesday.

Progress of "miracle medicine" is a mixed blessing, an example of "too much of a good thing," said Dr. Roald Grant, who is director of professional education for the American Medical Society.

Dr. Grant told the State Medical Society's Wisconsin Work Week of Health conference:

"The big medical research center has created the myth that all man's medical problems can be solved miraculously if only enough energy and funds are invested in research.

"The public no longer passively accepts disease and accidents as facts of life. The miracles of modern medicine are considered a birthright," Dr. Grant said.

Northside Group Discusses Drive For Membership

Willard Johnson, president of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce, spoke at the board of directors and block captains dinner meeting of the Northside Advancement Association at Howie's Fiesta Restaurant Tuesday evening.

Ed Quevillon, president of the association, outlined the program for the coming year and spoke of the group's role in chamber plans.

The group discussed street lighting and the current membership drive, which will end Tuesday, March 15.

Group Formed to Back Ensley Candidacy

Attorney John J. Ensley, a candidate for city attorney in the March 8 primary, notified the city clerk's office of a committee formed to promote his candidacy.

Theodore C. Moder, 123 N. Durkee St., is chairman and secretary of the Committee for Ensley for Appleton's City Attorney.

Three local attorneys are seeking the post which will become full-time and pay $12,000 a year, starting May 1.

Name Omitted

Court Grants 3 Divorces, Separation

Cruel, Inhuman Treatment Charged In Four Cases

Three divorces, a legal separation and an annulment have been granted in Outagamie County Court Branch 1.

Lyla Rogers, 1721 N. Helen St., received a divorce from Neil E. Rogers, 40, Neenah, on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Rogers received custody of two children. The couple was married June 7, 1947.

Vance M. Wolff, 27, route 2, Black Creek, was divorced by Donna M. Wolff, 24, 820 W. Packard St., also on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Married Jan. 21, 1961, the couple had two children.

A property settlement was approved and Wolff is to pay $25 a week support.

Herbert G. Benz, 56, Lakeland, Fla., was divorced by Erna Benz, 57, 1621 S. Douglas St., who charged cruel and inhuman treatment. The couple was married Nov. 20, 1938 and has no minor children. Benz is to pay $100 a month support.

Mary Jean Taff, 35, 65 Bellaire Court, Appleton, charged cruel and inhuman treatment in her legal separation from Franklin G. Taff, 35, route 2, Appleton. Married Oct. 6, 1951, the couple has six children. A property settlement was approved and Taff is to pay $65 a week support.

Appleton Mills Inducts Member In Service Group

The Quarter Century Club of Appleton Mills inducted Mrs. Leone Moder, 634 W. Summer St., into membership Tuesday evening.

Presentation of an engraved watch to Mrs. Moder highlighted the program held at the Appleton Elks Club. The watch was presented by Miss Edith Cooney, a veteran employe and officer of the club.

Mrs. Moder joined the company on December 20, 1940 and has served in the burling and splicing department since that time. Formerly she had been employed by Appleton Mills in the yarn manufacturing department.

Members were welcomed by F. Harwood Orbison, president, who commended the guests for their loyal service.

Howard Bowers, Quarter Century Club president passed the gavel to newly elected president Ray Crane. Norman Pope was elected vice-president replacing Crane. Edith Cooney, treasurer, and Ruth Daws, secretary, were re-elected.

Lawrence Senior to Present Songs, Literature at Recital

Nineteenth and 20th century songs and operatic literature will highlight the voice recital of Lawrence Conservatory senior Karen Schiebler at 8 p.m. Thursday in Harper Hall at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Miss Schiebler, a soprano, will sing works of Poulenc, Wolf, Menotti, Kindemith, Lully, Gretry and Handel.

The soloist, from Port Edwards, is a voice student of Mari Taniguchi, associate professor of music. She is a candidate for the degree of bachelor of music with a major in music education.

For the past three years she has been a member of the Lawrence Singers, Concert Choir and Choral Society. As a freshman she played with the Lawrence Concert Band.

A member of Sigma Alpha Iota, professional music sorority, she has served for the past two years as the group's treasurer.

Miss Schiebler has made frequent appearances throughout the Fox Cities area as a church soloist. She was one of two Lawrence students who presented a series of vocal duo programs in 1965 for Appleton junior high school pupils.

Assisting on Thursday's program will be pianist Alice Smith, Villa Park, Ill., a sophomore.

What a stomach specialist says about

grouchy stomach

A little white penny tablet fights grouchy stomach faster than even prescription-type antacids costing five times as much. This startling fact has been confirmed by scientific tests at a famous medical center. The tablet? Today's TUMS®. You may think of TUMS as a mere candy mint. But stomach specialists know differently. TUMS beat all leading brands tested, even prescription-type brands. It is the medicine for grouchy stomach. TUMS.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X B
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Enter Today's Easy Contest And Win a Construction Set

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls! Here's a chance to win a realistic construction outfit consisting of four vehicles — a model cement mixer, a sand loader, a trencher and a dump truck. All these vehicles "work." The cement mixer has a revolving drum, the sand loader has a movable crank, endless belt and a hopper; the trencher has an operating scoop and back hoe and the dump truck has a movable tail gate. The outfit is a product of Tonka Toys.

Five sets of these toys will be awarded as the national grand prizes in today's contest, one to each boy or girl who sends in one of the five neatest, correct and most original entries.

In the search for the five best entries, local qualifying prizes will be awarded in each city where this column is published. These will be given for the 5 neatest, most original correct entries in each city, including Fox Valley Area. These qualifying prizes will be Cowboy Boot Whistles with revolving spurs. Each winner will receive two of these unusual whistles, one for himself and the other for a friend, if he wishes to give it away. When the whistles are blown, the spurs on the boots spin rapidly.

Extre's that win local qualifying prizes will be entered automatically in the judging to determine the five national prize winners.

The puzzle to be solved is in the picture above. A seven-word statement is represented by the things shown in the picture. Use the initial letters of those things to spell out the seven words. The words are separated from each other by small black squares.

When you have figured out the seven-word statement, clip out the picture, paste it on a sheet of paper or a postal card, print your name, age and address beneath it, together with the name of your school, then decorate the entry in any neat, original way, using paints, crayons or other means. Address the completed entry to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be published here, including the names of their schools. Their prizes will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Famous Ensemble to Appear in Appleton

Unique Wolfgang von Karajan Organ Trio To Give March Concert in Lawrence Chapel

One of Europe's most famous and unusual musical aggregations, the Wolfgang von Karajan Organ Ensemble, will appear in concert at Lawrence University at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 10. The ensemble, which performs masterworks by such composers as Bach, Mozart, Handel, Vivaldi and Hofhaymer on three Baroque pipe organs, will play in Memorial Chapel under auspices of Lawrence and the Northeast Wisconsin chapter, American Guild of Organists.

Tickets for the event go on sale Thursday, Feb. 17, at the University Box Office, Music-Drama Center, 115 N. Park Ave.

Leader of the ensemble is organ virtuoso Wolfgang von Karajan, elder brother of the celebrated symphony conductor, Herbert von Karajan. He is assisted by his wife Hedy, herself a prominent Viennese pianist, and Wolfgang Wuensch, of Augsburg, Germany. Wuensch is a student of Prof. Karl Richter, of Munich.

At 58, Wolfgang von Karajan is a dynamic and resourceful artist, as the history of his unique ensemble attests.

The group was founded in 1957 as "a new way of presenting organ music . . . to a wider audience," according to Von Karajan.

Taking a cue from Paul Hofhaymer, 15th century organist-composer who toured a Baroque pipe organ on a horse - drawn wagon, von Karajan undertook the design of three portable instruments in association with the Walcker Organ Co., of Ludwigsburg, Germany.

Von Karajan's design called for organs which would convey the clean, sparkling 18th century Baroque sound to 20th century ears. It is not surprising, therefore, that the organs which resulted were authentic reproductions of instruments by J. S. Bach.

One is a single keyboard instrument, another has two manuals, and the third is designed to produce deep pedal tones from a manual keyboard. The three organs combined contain 1,702 pipes and 28 registers of sound.

They are operated mechanically, rather than electrically, thus enabling the performers to produce a highly personal and expressive touch, as was the case with historic Baroque instruments.

The organs are carried in a custom van and in special cases, and are attended by technicians provided by the Walcker company. They are insured for $1 million.

The ensemble has recorded extensively in Europe. Its recent recording of Bach's "Art of Fugue" elicited warm praise on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Riddler Returns to Batman Show

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7 — Channels 2-7-12 — That Prince of Puzzlers, the Riddler, returns to Batman to recruit the River Rats for a dastardly crime. With the grinning, laughing Frank Gorshin again eating up the scenery in the role, the script is a potpourri of kindergarten double talk and outlandish tomfoolery. The questionable fun involves a Miss Galaxy beauty contest (Joy Harmon is the neat winner with a paste tiara) and a king (Reginald Denny) who loses no time in getting himself kidnapped. (Color)

7:30-8 — Channels 11-6-9 — Last week Robert Goulet, the double-jointed, double agent of Blue Light was bent on keeping his kid brother alive. In his latest outdoing he is doing the same with Jan Malmsjo, who plays a suicidal Russian from whom the Germans want to squeeze all he knowns before he does away with himself. (Color)

* * *

8-8:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — Green Acres is all about Ralph Monroe, a carpenter who has a boy's name and dresses like a boy although she is really a very funny looking girl, in love.

8-9 — Channels 1-6-9 — "Barbery Red" on The Big Valley provides the lushly attractive Jill St. John with some interesting moments as she plays the "red, hot mamma" of a sleezy waterfront saloon. She is quite the girl and becomes a bad habit with the Barkley boys. (Color)

8-9 — Channels 4-5 — Bob Hope Presents himself in another comedy special with guests Danny Thomas, Jill St. John, Martha Raye, and the Righteous Brothers. It's the usual hour of comedy and song highlighted by two funny sketches. (Color)

8:30-9 — Channels 2-7-2 — The Dick Van Dyke Show again has a winner with "Remember the Alimony." It's flashback time once again, with Rob and Laura remembering the early days of their marriage. The couple take a holiday to Mexico, with a room overlooking a bull pen.

9-10 — Channels 4-5 — I Spy has an interesting twist. Robinson and Scott, who have grown a bit weary of each other, decide to elude one another for a week, only to discover just how much each means to the other. (Color)

His mission: to sabotage and undermine the Nazi war machine. Robert Goulet plays the deadly game of double agent in a new high adventure series set in World War II Germany.

The way history is taught in school today, it's almost as fresh as yesterday's front page. If you had kept a file of the paper for last year and the year before that, your youngster would have a head start towards honors in current events.

You can do still better than that.

By obtaining a copy of THE WORLD IN 1965 — and, if you didn't get one already, of THE WORLD IN 1964—you can provide him with an educational tool that will set him apart.

No dry-as-dust yearbook, THE WORLD IN 1965 contains all the facts but recounts in dramatic, telling detail the big events, the interesting events, the significant events, of the year. The quality of the hundreds of news photos, in color and black and white, rivals that of the text.

This big, 288-page, handsome book, costing only $3, has been prepared by the world's foremost news gathering agency, The Associated Press, which cooperates with this newspaper in supplying you with the news of the nation and the world.

To obtain your copy of THE WORLD IN 1965, fill out and mail the coupon at once. The book will be ready in February.

CATV Ruling Won't Change Current Service, FCC Says

Federal Control Will Force Local Broadcasters to Stay Alert

WASHINGTON (AP) — How will the new ruling on community antenna television affect programs in the two million American homes equipped with the service?

Not at all, says Chairman E William Henry of the Federal Communications Commission

Gather Signals

"There s no change," Henry said in an interview "The only thing it s going to do is perhaps force the local broadcaster to be more on his toes and put on the kind of program that will ensure his place in the market "

Actually, Henry said, " we've been putting some conditions on CATV for almost two years now with no problems " He predicted that federal control over CATV would not affect the average monthly cost of the service, now about $4 50

CATV systems work this way Huge antennas are put up near communities in poor television reception areas. They pull down the signals of distant stations and feed them — sometimes by microwave relays—over a cable and into the homes of subscribers In metropolitan areas, the systems provide clearer pictures and more channel selection

The FCC took over control of the 1,600 CATV systems Tuesday At the same time it dropped its 15-day rule aimed at protecting FCC-licensed television stations The rule prevented CATV systems from duplicating locally broadcast programs for 15 days before and after their broadcast

Extend Control

"What the commission did," an FCC spokesman said, "doesn't really change anything It extends FCC jurisdiction to all CATV systems, but it did so under rules which by and large will have almost a minimal effect

"I doubt if the average viewer will notice it very much "

Henry described Tuesday's moves as the "best of both worlds We put into effect the same rules we've had for years, except that we've reduced the level of protection to local TV stations "

While easing controls on one hand, the FCC also clamped down on the introduction of CATV systems in big cities. It required all systems seeking to serve the top 100 television markets to first obtain its approval.

Friendly Quits TV News Post

Resignation Caused By Refusal of CBS To Show Hearings

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred W Friendly has quit his post as president of the Columbia Broadcasting System's news division in a disagreement over coverage of a Senate hearing on Viet Nam

Friendly, 50, who rose to fame in broadcast journalism as a close associate of the late Edward R Murrow resigned Tuesday over the CBS decision not to provide live television coverage of hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee

In a sharply worded letter, he charged that a decision made by John A Schneider, newly appointed group vice president, broadcasting, not to televise the hearing last Thursday "was a business, not a news, judgment "

Friendly said he became angered because CBS' chief rival, the National Broadcasting Co , was televising the hearing that day while CBS was showing its audience reruns of "I Love Lucy" and "The Real McCoys "

In accepting Friendly's letter of resignation, Dr Frank Stanton, CBS president, said

"It is with deep regret that I accept the resignation of Fred W Friendly Friendly has been an outstanding leader of broadcast journalism His contributions to the public, to his profession and to CBS have been great indeed."

Friendly charged that Schneider lacked the experience in national and international affairs to exercise a veto judgment over the news department.

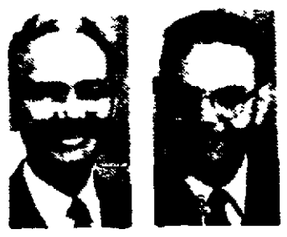
Preacher Tries To Get Son Out Of Cuban Jail

Rev. Clifton Fite Wants to Arrange Meeting With Castro

WAYNESBORO, Ga (AP) — Thrust into an unfamiliar world of embassies diplomats and red tape, a soft-spoken Georgia minister is working diligently to obtain his son's release from a Cuban prison

The Rev. Clifton E Fite, 62, pastor of Rosemont Heights Baptist Church, has traveled thousands of miles during the past six months, written volumes of letters and spent hundreds of dollars on telephone calls to free his 32-year-old missionary son, David



Clifton Fite David Fits

Young Fite, after five years as a Baptist missionary in Cuba, was jailed in April 1965, on charges of conspiring against the Cuban government. His wife and three small sons are in Cuba.

Not Bitter

The elder Fite feels no bitterness towards anyone connected with the arrest "My only interest is in the release of my son and his safe return to this country," he says

He is attempting to arrange a face-to-face meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro

Efforts to free his son put him in contact with Georgia Sens Herman Talmadge and Richard B. Russell and several officials of the State Department. His application for a visa has been sent to Castro through the Czechoslovakian Embassy. So far he has heard nothing.

6-Month Effort

The State Department and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention worked without success for six months to obtain David's release.

The patient hope of Fite and his wife, a teacher in the Waynesboro High School, has been a source of admiration to their acquaintances

Confidence has marked all their efforts Fite has not missed a Sunday sermon at his church Mrs Fite goes to the classroom every day.

Most of the expense of the Fite crusade has been met by contributions of friends and church groups Fite's financial resources are limited

Illinois Seeks Extradition of Killing Suspect

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Alfred W. Cowan Jr., an assistant state's attorney, was in San Diego today trying for a speedy extradition of Russell Charles Dewey, 25, charged with murder in the death of Susan Brady, 11

Dewey, a former Rockford office worker, was seized in San Diego Sunday on a federal fugitive warrant California FBI agents quoted him as saying he accidentally struck a girl with his car in Rockford Dec. 20 and burned her body in an incinerator when he discovered she was dead.

In San Diego, Dewey's attorney, Morris Sankary, told newsmen he plans to fight extradition of Dewey to Illinois Sankary said he did not think Dewey could have a fair trial in Rockford.

Rockford Police Chief Delbert Peterson said he believes that Dewey lured the girl to his grandparents' home near Rockford while they were vacationing in Florida, killed her with a sledge hammer and placed her body in an incinerator

Two Rockford detectives, Joseph Redmond and Joseph Brown, were en route to San Diego by car to bring Dewey to Illinois

Peterson said he has learned the name of a 12-year-old girl who was stopped by a man in a green Cadillac in the Brady girl's neighborhood the night of Dec 20 He said the girl will confront Dewey, 25, in a lineup when he returns

Susan disappeared Dec 20 as she walked home from a girlfriend's hounse

FBI agents said they found charred bones and teeth in the incinerator at Dewey's grandparents' house Jan 20 A bloody sledge hammer was found in a nearby garage Laboratory technicians said the bones were those of a little girl and that the blood was human

AFL-CIO Construction Convention

Discrimination Charges Being Used To Hold in Wages, Unions Feel

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO construction union leaders say that the government may be using racial discrimination charges to pressure them into holding down wage demands

President C. J. Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department broached the charge in saying "it is a possibility" that the first civil rights suit against a labor organization was part of the Johnson administration's campaign to bring pressure against what it considers inflationary wage increases.

Construction union spokesmen concede there has been trouble in the past in persuading some local unions to accept Negroes, but said that a Justice Department civil rights suit in St. Louis was not justified.

A high government source said that the suit against the St. Louis AFL-CIO Building Trades Council came "like a bolt out of the blue" while attempts were being made to settle the case amicably.

However, there was no immediate official reaction from the Labor or Justice departments on Haggerty's statement that the St Louis suit might be connected with a Labor Department effort to impose a national wage settlenent plan on the construction unions.

He made the statement at a news conference after hearing a detailed report from St Louis AFL-CIO officials, who were charged with racial discrimination under the 1964 Civil Rights Act for walking off the job of constructing the St. Louis arch when three Negro plumbers were hired.

Another Union

The AFL-CIO officials say the dispute is purely a jurisdictional matter because the Negroes belonged to another union.

The Justice Department suit came at a time when jsecretary of Labor W Willard Wirtz was proposing the national wage settlement plan, which Haggerty and the 18 construction union presidents are expected to formally reject Thursday.

The Johnson administration, in its effort to hold down what it considers the threat of an inflationary wage-price spiral, has singled out the construction industry and unions as one of several "problem areas."

Haggerty said that about 25 per cent of workers on the arch were Negroes, mostly members of AFL-CIO unions, and that there was no hint of racial problems until the Justice Department filed the suit.

'Great Nickle Ride' Finishes Go-Round

Hanna Smelting to Buy Surplus Metal It Sold to Government

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The great nickel ride on the Washington merry-go-round has completed one full spin. It took 13 years.

The General Services Administration announced last Friday it had signed a contract whereby the Hanna Smelting Co., would purchase 39 million pounds of surplus nickel, now stored in Riddle, Ore.

Further, the announcement said, the Hanna company had an option to buy another 25 million pounds stored at Hammond, Ind.

John Harlan, director of the GSA's Defense Materiel Service, confirmed that both stockpiles were originally created by Hanna.

The ore from which the nickel in both stockpiles was processed was mined by the Hanna Coal-Ore Corp., later changed to the Hanna Mining Co.

$22 Million Plant

This processing was undertaken by the Hanna Smelting Co., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Hanna Mining Co. in a $22-million plant built at government expense.

The Hanna Smelting Co., was formed Jan. 15, 1953, and the contract with the government was signed Jan. 16, 1953.

Subsequently, the federal government permitted Hanna Smelting to buy the $22-million plant for $1.7 million.

There were in fact four contracts signed with the government by Hanna firms on Jan. 16, 1953 — one for the delivery of nickel ore at $6 a ton, another for delivery of a minimum of 95 million pounds of processed nickel and a maximum 125 million pounds, a third which made Hanna Mining the government's sales agency and a fourth, which paid the company $100,000 for managing all this.

The processing contract called for delivery of the first 5 million pounds at a cost not to exceed 79 35 cents a pound and 60 5 cents a pound on the remainder.

Harlan said Hanna Smelting delivered the 95 million pounds plus about 17 million more pounds.

The federal government is now holding 280 million pounds of nickel it doesn't need.

This nickel is only one of 12 metals the government acquired at a cost of $5.1 billion which are now considered surplus to need and which it is now trying to sell.

From 1946 to 1962 the strategic stockpile of materials was classed as a deep secret. President John F. Kennedy removed the secrecy label early in his administration and invited Congress to investigate the whole business.

Senate Investigation

The end result was a lengthy investigation by a subcommittee of the Senate Armed Forces Committee, headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., in 1963.

The Symington subcommittee heard testimony from W. A. Marting, then president of Hanna, that the cost of mining the ore was $1.67 cents a ton. The price to the government: $6 a ton.

The Symington committee subsequently reported:

"Future Hanna profits on the combined mining and smelting operations, financed by the government with all risks assumed by the government, are estimated to be some $86 million "

Treasury Secretary

Four days after the contracts were signed with Hanna the firm's board chairman, George M. Humphrey, became secretary of the Treasury under President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Humphrey subsequently told the Senate committee in disputing the charges of excess profit:

"Our whole being involved $27 million of sales on which we made a net profit of $7.5 million in seven years. If that is unconscionable profit I would like to know what it is."

Republicans Having Trouble With Finances

Report Split Between National Committee, Senate, House Units

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Hostilities over control of the campaign purse have resumed in unusual ly virulent fashion between the Republican National Committee and Senators intent on keeping their traditional prerogatives

So spiteful has the in-fighting become that retured Gen Lucius

Novak Evans

D Clay, Republican finance chairman, questioned the char acter of Sen Thruston B Morton of Kentucky, one of the most popular workhorses in the Republican party

Moreover, Ray C. Bliss, Na tional Committee chairman, joined with Clay in downgrading a fund-raising dinner held to honor Morton here on Feb 3. As a result, some big contributors boycotted the dinner.

The outbreak of the fighting started with an apparently harmonious Morton-Clay meeting in Washington's swank Sheraton-Carlton Hotel the evening before the December meeting of the National Committee's budget committee.

The budget session was called to apportion National Committee funds for the congressional elections among the party's three major arms the National Committee itself, the Senate Campaign Committee (which Morton heads), and the House Campaign Committee, headed by Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

Opposed Dinner

In their conversation the night before, Clay pleaded with Morton not to have a special fund-raising dinner to finance campaign kitties for Republicsn Senatorial candidates next fall.

Clay wanted Morton to let the National Committee handle all the party's fund-raising, then ladle out to the Senate Campaign Committee what funds it might need. This fund - raising centralization has the highest priority in the Bliss-Clay reign at the National Committee.

Morton did not commit himself, simply noting that his needs had been met the past five years by a special Senatorial fund - raising party — not by the National Committee. The next morning, Morton presented his budget to the National Committee at GOP headquarters Clay again informed him the National Committee would take care of his and Wilson's financial needs

Decide to Go Ahead

The scene now shifts to Morton's office on Capitol Hill the same day. Present were Morton and Wilson, both skeptical of the National Committee's ability to finance their respective campaign needs and tired of being treated like small boys by Clay.

In this mood, they decided Morton should go ahead with the Senate fund-raising dinner

When Clay was notified, he reacted like a drill sergeant confronting a recruit caught going over the hill. He and Bliss actually undermined the dinner by advising Republican fat-cats around the country not to buy the $100-a-plate tickets.

Thus, the Senate Campaign committee was amazed to get a call from Michigan fund-raiser Harold McClure warning it not to solicit in Michigan. When told invitations were ready to be mailed, McClure threatened to send wires to all the party's money men condemning the Senate committee as an "outlaw."

In Ohio (Bliss's home ground) word went out to boycott the dinner. One contributor accepted, then cancelled at the last minute with the lame excuse of bad flying weather. A check to the Columbus airport to verify the bad weather discovered clear skies and all flights "go."

Manhattan Dinner

In New York, polite inquiry was made to George Champion, chairman of Chase Manhattan Bank, whether a dinner party he was having at the Links Club in Manhattan on Feb. 3 could be postponed Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania had agreed to attend Champion's dinner and therefore couldn't come to the Morton fund - raiser.

Champion brusquely replied a postponement was impossible. Even if he could arrange it, he wouldn't, because Bliss and Clay had told him, he said, that Morton had "doublecrossed" Clay by holding his fund - raising dinner at all.

Despite these difficulties, the Senate Committee went ahead and netted $500,000 Then, to thumb its nose at the National Committee, it turned $60,000 over to Wilson's House Committee.

Thus Republican fund - raising is as divided as ever. Bliss has failed in his primary goal of integrating party finances His use of heavy - handed though futile tactics to reach this goal has caused new stresses inside the party he so badly wants to unite.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

False Some faults can be overcome just by changing the crowd you run around with If, for instance, you drink too much, get in with a group that doesn't drink at all. If you live beyond your means, associate with an interesting group that spends less than you do If you feel you're too much of phony, find some simple, sincere group In other words, associate with friends who believe in and reward the qualities that you want to develop in yourself.

Are working wives satisfied with their lot?

Yes — No —

Yes A study by "Changing Times" finds nine out of 10 working wives saying they are achieving the goals they set for themselves when they went to work Most of them are pleased with their children's progress and with the comforts in their homes their earnings helped to provide One mother expresses her satisfaction, "It may not be the easiest or most ideal way to live, but it has distinct advantages. Not the least of them is learning how to enjoy the time we do have together and using it well."

Is "the Pill" affecting moral standards?

Yes — No —

Yes, many people believe that, now that it is possible for a woman to avoid pregnancy, morals will sharply decline. But there are many other reasons for chastity besides the fear of pregnancy. Some couples personaly prefer waiting until marriage before becoming intimate. Even on college campuses, where these questions are so widely discussed, there is a view that oral contraceptives neither promote nor discourage promiscuity. One co-ed says succinctly, "Use of the pill is a post-moral decision."

Tuna . . . An American Favorite

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
By Lillian Mackesy

Lent this year seems to have rushed upon us . . . with the season of fasting only a few days away, the wise homemaker arms herself with a collection of dishes to fit the eating tradition that's been going on since the third century. She also wants to keep her family happy and healthy at the same time.

So this is the time of year to take advantage of that all-time American favorite . . . canned tuna fish. Rich in protein and high in vitamin content, it is ideal for nutritious meatless meals. This flaky, delicately flavored dish may be served with complete confidence that it will meet everyone's approval. It is equally popular with young and old and statistics seem to prove the fact . . . American families eat more tuna than any other seafood.

When it comes to convenience, it's hard to beat canned tuna. The easy-on-the-budget old standby provides an endless variety of nutritious and delectable meals. The homemaker who has not been "rescued" by it at one time or another is, indeed, difficult to find. Whether planning a casserole, sandwiches, salad or soups, a quick lunch, company dinner or party refreshments, a can of tuna can solve the problem. So, keep a good supply of it readily available.

For meatless Lenten meals, try teaming tuna with convenient canned macaroni products. In addition to the excellent protein tuna contributes to the diet, the sauce on the macaroni contains cheese. The merger of these two handy foods will result in wholesome and enticing dishes, sure to bring requests for second helpings.

Meaty chunks of delicate tuna are combined with canned macaroni and cheese, pimiento - stuffed olives and chopped pimiento in a tasty and colorful oven dish that's ideal for Lent. It will be satisfying for more robust appetites and very appealing to the younger members of the family.

If spaghetti is more to your liking, mix tuna with canned spaghetti with tomato sauce and cheese. Creamed cottage cheese makes this especially nutritious. Slivered black olives and crunchy canned French fried onions add flavor and an interesting texture.

Another excellent recipe included in today's collection comes from the superb Mexican cuisine. In this country seafood is a favorite and the people there have become experts at preparing various fish and seafood, often combining several varieties in one dish. That's what happens in the recipe for Mexicali Tuna and Cod.

The two different fish flavors are enhanced by the subtle use of orange peel, slices of pimiento - stuffed olives and toasted almonds.

Spaghetti, always popular, teams with canned tuna above for an Italian-style dish that's served with parmesan cheese, crunchy sweet gherkins and crusty bread for a wholesome meal. Below, a Mexican entree features a savory tuna-cornmeal topping on fillets of cod.

An oven meal is even more appealing when it's made from convenience foods. Canned tuna and canned macaroni and cheese are enhanced with celery, onion, pimiento-stuffed olives and chopped pimiento in this festive and flavorful casserole.

TUNA SPAGHETTI AND CHEESE

- ½ cup sliced chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- ¼ cup slivered black olives
- 2 cans (1 pound, 3½ ounces each) spaghetti with tomato sauce and cheese
- 2 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained
- ¼ teaspoon marjoram leaves
- Grated Parmesan cheese (optional)
- 1 cup (8 ounces) creamed cottage cheese
- Canned French fried onions

Sharp Homemaker Buys Foods Most Plentiful to Aid Budget

Shop the plentifuls and you shop economically. February brings good market supplies of canned red salmon, prunes and prune products, red tart cherries, oranges, grapefruit, onions and potatoes.

The Florida Citrus Commission embargo which prevented fresh citrus fruits from being shipped out of state ended Feb. 10. Although inspectors determined that damage was not as extensive as anticipated, some higher prices will result.

The freeze finished the season for tangerines and tangelos in Florida but some tangerines are now coming in from California. Temple orange supplies were cut by the freeze. California navel oranges remain plentiful. Grapefruit may be up in price a bit — pink grapefruit is less plentiful.

Avocados, Apples

Apple supplies are beginning to come from controlled atmosphere storage and prices are moving up a little. Red and Golden Delicious from Washington State are not as abundant as last year, but Winesaps are quite plentiful. From Eastern growers, Rome and Jonathan supplies are dwindling, but McIntosh are abundant.

California and Mexico avocados are the lowest in price that they've been in months. Mexican strawberries are reasonable for this time of year. Bananas remain a top buy in fruits. Pears and grapes show no change.

Slightly higher vegetable produce prices due to the freeze in Florida should return to normal in two or three weeks. Leafy vegetables were nipped, but should grow out of it.

Potato prices are a little higher, but they're not expected to go up like they did last year. Good supplies are available.

Lettuce Improving

Head lettuce remains fairly expensive, but quality is gradually improving. Asparagus is beginning to show up which makes it seem like spring is coming soon.

Cabbage is higher in price. Carrots are up because of the rain in Texas a couple of weeks ago. Even so, carrots are still a moderate item.

Meat prices hold steady. Beef may increase just a trifle. Best values are forequarter cuts. Chuck has remained a good value since meat prices started climbing in the fall. It is best to watch for local specials for cuts and quality desired, but remember that cost per serving is a better way to judge meat prices than cost per pound.

Official Visit To Altrusa Club Set by Governor

The Appleton Altrusa Club will have the Governor's Official visit at its Thursday evening meeting at the Elks Club. Mrs. George Hoffer, a member and past president of the club, is governor of District Seven. One of Mrs. Hoffer's duties is to pay an official visit to each club during her term, to evaluate and assist each group.

To be discussed at the meeting is the 1966 district conference, to be held May 6, 7 and 8 in Winnepeg, Canada.

The nominating committee will submit a slate of oficers for 1966-67.

Teacher Wins Miss Photoflash Beauty Title

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — Danny Bucnis, 9, summed up what it's like to have a beauty queen for a tearher.

"Wow!"

Danny is one of 23 fourth-graders at Roosevelt Elementary School who five days a week attend class taught by Miss Judy Piorkowski, 22, a green-eyed blonde named Miss Photoflash of 1966 by the Chicago Press Photographers Association.

The pupils all indicated agreement with the photographers' choice when Miss Piorkowski walked into her classroom Monday.

"Our teacher is beautiful," read a message on the blackboard. It was the work of Cindy Haiz, 9, who had come to school early so she could "do something nice" for her teacher.

Valentine for Teacher

A lacy pink valentine from Daphne Morton, 9, read: "To Miss Photoflash. You sure are luky (sic) and pretty."

Other homemade red hearts proclaimed simply: "I love you."

Mark Zillhart, 9, told a reporter: "She's the prettiest teacher I ever had. She's nice too. She's always strict but she's nice when she's strict, sort of."

All the way around, Miss Piorkowski is 36-24-36, 5-feet-6 and 125 pounds.

A graduate of Marquette University, she began teaching in September and hopes to earn her masters degree in specialized education.

"I intend to make teaching my career — it is rewarding work," she said.

With her title, Miss Piorkowski received $1,000 and a new car.

Newlyweds To Live in Puerto Rico

Miss Darlene Marie Verbrick and John Dennis Walsh were married at 7 p.m. Saturday at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Menasha. The Rev. William E. Neal officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George D. Verbrick, 1345 W. Spring St., and Mr. and Mrs. John Walsh, Riverside, Ill.

Miss Grethe Ann Hallberg, Rochester, Minn., was maid of honor. Attending as best man was Seymour W. Priestly, Lake Forest, Ill.

Guests were seated by Thomas D. Van Buskirk.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

Mr. Walsh and his bride studied at Lawrence University, where he was affiliated with Delta Tau Delta. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The couple will live at Ramey Air Force Base, P. R., where he will serve as a lieutenant in the Air Force.

Mrs. Norman Troemel To Head Church Guild

Officers and area chairmen of Faith Lutheran Church Ladies Guild were installed by the Rev. H. E. Simon in a special ceremony Monday evening. Mrs. Norman Troemel is serving as president; Mrs. Henry Woods, vice president; Miss Lorene Loberg, secretary, and Mrs. Elmer Kunstman, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold Bertchy is chairman of the Evangelism area and Mrs. Simon, co-chairman; Mrs. Edwin Beilke, service area chairman, and Mrs. Fred Pahl, co-chairman; Mrs. Walter Rugland, Christian knowledge chairman, and Mrs. John Gall, co-chairman; Mrs. Frank Waltman, mission area chairman, and Mrs. Roland Borchardt, co-chairman; and Mrs. Allan Kline, altar area chairman, and Mrs. Gilbert Puls, co-chairman.

Mrs. Frank Waltman gave devotions and Mrs. D. W. Russler had charge of refreshments. A program on "mite box" collections was led by Mrs. Roland Borchardt.

Food Price Rise To Continue in '66

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government had some bad news today for American housewives.

The Agriculture Department said they probably will have to pay $102.30 this year for the same amount of food that cost them $100 last year. It predicted food prices will climb as much this year as they did in 1965 — 2.3 per cent.

There was one bright spot in the report.

The department said prices are expected to level off and possibly decline later in the year. Any lower prices would apply to the foods which went up the most last year — meat and other animal products.

College Coeds To Compete for Miss Wool Title

College coeds from Wisconsin and Michigan schools will compete for the title of Miss Wool March 11 and 12 at Wisconsin State University-River Falls.

The winner will represent the Wisconsin - Michigan Council of the Wool Growers Auxiliary in a national contest in June at San Angelo, Texas. Mrs. Paul Hietpas, Little Chute, is a district director of the Wisconsin Auxiliary.

Contestants must be between five feet six inches and five feet eight inches tall and wear a size 10 dress. One year of residence in a Wisconsin or Michigan college or university is also required. Judging will be done on personal beauty, charm and poise.

The national contest finalist will receive a wardrobe of designer originals, all fashioned in wool, and will travel around the world and the United States representing the wool industry.

Deadline for entries is March 1. Registration blanks may be obtained from Dr. James Dollahon, dean of the college of agriculture at WSU-River Falls, or Mrs. Clifford Fellows, Evansville, Wis.

Marvelous Misnamed Cake Stars at Washington's Birthday Coffee Party

The perfect combination for a Washington's Birthday party is this delicious cake with a pie name and cups of fragrant coffee

Almost as famous as its name sake, the Washington Pie is no more a pie than the celebrated Boston Cream Pie

Washington Pie is a beautifully delectable two-layer cake filled with raspberry jam and dusted lightly with confectioners' sugar Needless to say, it is one of the most delicious accompaniments a cup of coffee ever saw

As a matter of fact, the only thing that will make this fine cake any better is a large potful of fragrant coffee But make it really good freshly-brewed coffee Coffee should be kept on a warming stand no longer than an hour and once allowed to cool, should never be reheated It's best, of course served up right away in the fullness of its flavor

WASHINGTON PIE

- 3 eggs
- 1½ cups sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- ¾ cup milk
- 1½ tablespoons butter
- 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- Raspberry jam
- Confectioners sugar

Beat eggs until thick and very light Beat in sugar gradually Beat in vanilla Heat milk and butter to boiling point. Beat in. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt Beat in. Bake at 350 degrees in two greased and floured deep 8-inch layer cake pans for 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tests done Let cool in pans 10 minutes Finish cooling on cake racks Spread raspberry jam between layers Dust top with confectioners sugar Note 9-inch pans may be used Baking time will be shorter by about 10 minutes.

LWV Looks at Tax Problems Of the State

CHICAGO (AP) — A political scientist told representatives of the League of Women Voters Tuesday that the federal government should play a "greater role in reducing the tax impoverishment of the states."

The recommendations was made by Dr Clara Pennuman, chairman of the Political Science Department of the University of Wisconsin and a member of the League of Women Voters of Madison

Tax Credit

She told league representatives from 32 states that a federal income tax credit for amounts paid in state income taxes "presumably would force all states to adopt an income tax"

The conference on state fiscal policies was called with the view of strengthening state government, a long-standing interest of the League of Women voters

The league held a similar conference in 1961 focused on the need for revising many state constitutions and a second conference in 1963 centered on reapportionment

Celebrate Shrove Tuesday With Hotcakes

These Bran Hotcakes are tender, fluffy and light, an excellent choice for Pancake Day, just before Lent.

During the early Christian era, strict observance of Lent prohibited the use of eggs, butter and milk during the 40 days preceding Easter Sunday. Therefore, households were cleared of these staples for the long period of fasting by baking pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, the last day before the beginning of Lent.

As the years wore on, this day became one of merrymaking. Today, it's celebrated the world over as Pancake Day. For those who follow this delightful food tradition, here's a new, rich recipe to make it a bit more interesting. These pancakes use bran in their batter for fluffy, light and tender griddle cakes.

BRAN HOTCAKES

- ½ cup bran
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 egg, beaten
- ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2½ teaspoons baking powder
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¾ teaspoon salt

Soak bran (use only 100 per cent bran, not a mixture) in milk five minutes. Stir in melted butter and beaten egg. Beat lightly. Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine with bran mixture, stirring just enough to moisten dry ingredients. Cook on lightly greased griddle, turning each cake once. Serve hot with syrup, butter, honey or jelly. Recipe makes eight large cakes.

A Lovelier You

Colors of Spring

This spring color bids fair to make a stronger impact than any one silhouette or fabric. It is the largest single influence in fashion. And it is heavenly!

Pastels are cool and they diffuse like the Milky Way. Bright shades have the quality of a crystal-clear sky. Even those colors we once thought of as neutral send cosmic signals. Black-and-white, for example, is as vivid as lightning. Gray and beige are a-shimmer with moonbeams.

Whatever new color you elect to wear, it will not lack atmosphere. It will project the aura of your own loveliness, too, if it happens to flatter your skin tone. Purely as a guide to complementary choices, spring shades and feminine skin tones are mated on this chart.

Brunet Skin: All the sunny brights — lemon yellow, sharp yellow green, azure blue, intense pink and orangy reds, vivid orange. These pales — milky tints of yellow and apricot. Plus dramatic black and white, beige warmed with yellow, whitened gray and creamy white.

Blond Skin: All the milky pastels — delicate as the skin, paler than the hair. These brights — mauve-pink, turquoise blue, and lively blue-greens. Also navy splashed with white, violet, cloud gray, white washed beige, and white-white.

Florid Skin: The most subtle shades — misty blues and true navy, water and mint green, deep beige and gray, oyster white, matte black.

Crown Princess Beatrix and her fiance, West German diplomat Claus von Amsberg, plan to be married Mar. 10 in Amsterdam, it has been announced. This portrait of the couple was taken in honor of their forthcoming marriage. (AP Wirephoto)

- ¼ teaspoon oregano leaves
- 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained

QUICK BAKED MACARONI AND TUNA

- ⅓ cup chopped onion
- 1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 2 cans (15 ounces each) macaroni and cheese
- Dash Tabasco
- 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) flaked tuna, drained
- 1 can (1 pound) sliced carrots, drained
- Seasoned bread crumbs

Saute onion and mushrooms in butter until crisp-tender. Stir in macaroni and cheese and Tabasco; heat until sauce begins to bubble. Combine with tuna and carrots. Turn into 1½ quart rectangular baking dish. Sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in 375-degree oven 20 minutes, or until heated through.

PIMIENTO MACARONI AND TUNA

- ⅓ cup diced celery
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon salad oil
- ⅓ cup sliced pimiento stuffed olives
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
- 2 cans (15 ounces each) macaroni and cheese
- 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained

Saute celery and onion in oil until crisp-tender. Add olives, pimiento and macaroni; heat, stirring, until sauce is smooth. Stir in tuna, turn into 1½-quart casserole. Bake in 375-degree oven 20 minutes or until bubbling hot.

MEXICALI TUNA AND COD

- ⅓ cup yellow cornmeal
- 1½ cups water
- ⅓ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- 2 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained
- 2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 pound cod fillet
- ½ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
- ¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
- ⅓ cup dry white wine or chicken bouillon

Mix cornmeal with ½ cup water, heat remaining water to boiling. Stir in cornmeal mixture and bring to boil, stirring constantly, simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Meanwhile, saute onion and celery in butter until crisp-tender. In mixing bowl combine cooked cornmeal mixture, onion mixture, parsley, orange peel, tuna, sugar, salt and pepper, mix well. Place cod in bottom of 1½ - quart rectangular baking dish; spoon tuna mixture on top. Sprinkle with olives and nuts. Pour wine over all. Bake in 350-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Garnish with additional sliced olives, if desired.

Get-Acquainted Coffee Planned by Y Auxiliary

The Y Auxiliary has scheduled a 9:15 a.m. coffee hour Thursday at the Y. The event will serve as a get-acquainted session for all women who might be interested in joining.

During the program prospective members will meet those who work in the group, learn of their duties and of the facilities and activities of the Y.

Imaginative Dash

If you have a cup of white wine left from a bottle that has been served at a meal, you can use the wine (instead of 1 cup of the water called for) in making up a small package (four-servings size) of flavored gelatin.

Mulch Will Kill Weeds On Lawns

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q. We have a three-fourths - acre lot About one-fourth is vacant Later we will plant a garden, but right now we would like to keep the weeds down What is the cheapest, easiest method for such an area?

A. First pull out all you can Then get three or four bales of hay, salt hay, or even marsh grass, and cover the area with a good thick mulch, or you can use the overlapping strips of black plastic sheeting, the kind being pushed for gardens Whether you'll want such a black expanse next to your house is your decision. By smothering the ground this way, any weeds which do survive will be spindly and easy to pull.

THIS BASKET DESERVES PUTTING ALL YOUR EGGS IN

TOTAL SAVINGS PROGRAM

If you're buying stocks, it's often wise not to put "all your eggs in one basket." But, when it comes to groceries — you'll find it pays to put all your eggs . . . and all the other groceries you buy for your family . . . in one basket, IF it's the shopping basket at your T.I. Food Department.

There's no need to gather eggs at a half dozen different stores — no need to wait for sale days — because you can always depend upon Treasure Island Food Department's quality and low, low prices. At Treasure Island Food Department, every item is at its lowest possible price every day. We call it the Total Savings Program. Bargain hunters call it TERRIFIC!

So go ahead — put all your eggs, your meats, your fresh fruits and vegetables, your nationally-advertised brands of canned and packaged foods — all in one big T.I. shopping cart, because the more you buy, the more you save.

Treasure Island Food Department's Total Savings Program is an exclusive pricing formula providing savings of approximately $40.00 per person, per year. Therefore, an average size family of five can save as much as $200.00 per year, and more.

Shouldn't you be shopping and saving at the Treasure Island Food Department?

Your Problems

Literal 'Choking to Death' Not Uncommon, Doctors Say

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife received a letter from her cousin last week containing some shocking news. Their grandfather, who was 72 years old, choked to death at a family dinner.

The old man had had several cocktails and was in high spirits. He was eating a piece of steak when suddenly he stopped talking and began to cough. Nobody paid any attention until it became apparent that he was gasping for breath. By the time they realized what was happening he was dead.

I have never heard of anyone else who died this way. My wife claims she has read of similar tragedies. Can she be right? If so, please tell us how (or if) such a tragedy can be prevented. — Stunned

Dear Stunned: Several hundred people die every year in this grotesque and unnecessary manner.

I consulted with my medical authorities and learned that in the vast majority of cases the victim who chokes to death on food has ill-fitting dentures which makes proper chewing of food difficult. Usually, there's another factor — too much alcohol.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What can I do about an uncle who is in his 60's and will not take his eyes or his hands off our sweet, 21-year-old daughter?

Whenever he is in this girl's presence he wants to hug and kiss her. He pulls her onto his lap and refuses to let her alone. All this goes on right under his wife's nose. She acts as if she doesn't see a thing.

Our daughter does not like to be pawed and mauled by this old geezer but she doesn't know how to discourage him gracefully. She asked me how to deal with the problem. Can you suggest something? — Running Out of Patience

Dear Running: A 21-year-old should not need her mother's help in fending of either old elks or young bucks. Since she asked, tell her to discourage uncle the same way she would discourage any other eight-handed idiot. And the approach needn't be "graceful."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior in high school — no brain, just an average student who works harder than most of the kids I know. My college boards were pretty low. This worries me a lot.

Almost every night I'm up until 1:30 or midnight doing homework, so you can see I'm not just lying around waiting for some college to beg me to enroll.

The competition to get into schools today is wild. We are under terrific pressure. So please, parents, don't add to the pressure by telling us about a nut who got into Harvard or a moron who made Yale.

If I sould like a nasty kid I apologize. I'm not always like this. I've got "college nerves," I guess. Thanks for letting me get this out of my system. — Typical Senior

Dear Typ: I'm glad you wrote. It gives me an opportunity to get something out of my system. I'm fed up to here with parents who make their kids feel like cases of arrested development if they don't make the Ivy League. Yale and Harvard can't take everybody and it's just as well, because not everybody belongs at Yale or Harvard.

There are many excellent small colleges who want students. I hope parents will urge seniors to consult with their counselors and take their advice.

Mediocre Guessers Need Help

If you're a super-guesser (and play bridge when relaxing from playing the stock market) you need no help to win at bridge. If your guesswork is only passable, you need all the help you can get. Don't forget the opponents.

(with a finesse) and gave up a club trick to East. Back came the king of hearts, and South ruffed.

Declarer next tried the diamond finesse, losing the queen to the king. Back came another heart, and South ruffed again.

Now South tried to guess who had the queen of spades. He worked it out that West had started with more spades than East, so he finessed through West for the queen. This was the wrong guess, and South was down one.

Should Finesse

South needs no guessing if he remembers that the opponents are there to help. He should play the ten of hearts at the first trick. East wins with the king but is then stuck for a return. Thanks to the 4-0 trump break, East can return a trump without sacrificing a trick.

Declarer wins with dummy's king of clubs, returns the ten of clubs to overtake with the jack and continues with the ace of clubs. Now South gives East his trump trick.

If East returns a spade, he guesses the finesse for South. If East returns a heart or a diamond, he gives dummy a free finesse. In short, any return at all gives declarer his eleventh trick without guesswork.

ANSWER: Bid two hearts. Do not leave partner in notrump when you have a void suit. Bid your long suit and hope that you can come close to making eight tricks, despite the weakness of your hand.

Parents' World

Child Must Feel Insecure if He Can Intimidate His Parents

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: I don't get to see my grandchild very often. When I do, I'm appalled at the lack of discipline his parents exert and at his lack of respect for anyone. Over Christmas, my son, his wife, and my grandson were together with me for eight days. Never once during this time did this four and one-half year-old boy obey. He would talk back. He would say he didn't want to do whatever anyone asked him to do. He wouldn't call me by name — he called me "that thing." He would hit and kick his father and demand all his attention even when we had company and his father wanted to hold a conversation. He called his mother names and said he didn't like her when she took him away from a guest he was bothering.

I realize parents give children some leeway when visiting away from home, to make things run more smoothly, so I didn't say a word. But it has me worried. My son and his wife are both college graduates, very fine people, active in their church. They don't drink or smoke, and they were chosen the family of the year in their community a few years ago. They seem very much in love and have been married almost six years, so you can see that they offer a stable home atmosphere. Please suggest what needs to be done, if anything. MRS. G.R.

These parents need to realize that no child can feel securely protected and cared for by parents he can strike and intimidate. If their demands are reasonable and if they're giving him his necessary satisfactions and freedoms, they can help him get back his respect for them easily simply by insisting that he do what they tell him to do, without comment or fuss.

DEAR DR. JONES: My daughter is just 13 years old and she used to be a very pleasant girl. But since she matured and has been having monthly periods, she gets so jumpy and mean toward everyone that there's practically no living with her two days out of the month.

A friend tells me this shows my daughter hates the idea of being a woman and really wants to be a man. I don't want that for my girl! Please tell me where I can take her so she can get help to cure this terrible attitude she has. MRS. G.O.

Take her to your physician first. The majority of women have this same problem, and it apparently rests on hormone changes, not on neurotic attitudes. A few rules about diet and some safe medications are usually all that's needed to restore good humor.

To Your Good Health

Infant Convulsions Can Run in Families

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What should be done for convulsions? My husband had them when he was a child, then our son; now our two grandchildren.

When our son was small, the doctor said to put him in a tub of warm water, then give him aspirin and an enema and keep him warm enough to sweat.

Dr. Molner

Now the doctors say to sponge children with cool water until temperature is normal, and give aspirin. Which method is right? — Mrs. J. D. P.

Convulsions are not an illness. They are a symptom. The commonest cause in infancy is a high fever. And little ones can have a high fever quite suddenly at the onset of a cold or one of the common childhood diseases, as measles, scarlet fever or the like.

There can be other causes: Low blood calcium or sugar; birth injury; brain infection; poisoning; epilepsy. If convulsions continue beyond the ages of five or six, careful search should be made for such causes, but the majority of cases are triggered by fever — the infant equivalent of "chills and fever" in an adult.

Why do some children have rather frequent convulsions while others have none, or perhaps only one or two isolated attacks? It appears that some have more sensitive nervous systems which can be triggered into a convulsion. One study showed that in about 50 per cent of such attacks, there was a family history of others having had the same experience when young.

These convulsions, while scary for parents to watch, are brief. The first rule is to keep the youngster from hurting himself as his muscles convulse. Just wrapping him in a light blanket gives such protection.

After that, sponging with tepid (not cold) water tends to reduce the temperature. Rubbing the back with alcohol is good, too, but be sure that it isn't too cold. Use just a little alcohol at a time on the palm of your hand, which will moderate the coldness.

A small dose of aspirin is fine, but nothing should be given by mouth until the convulsion is over. I would not torment the child with an enema, and see no purpose in it. This was advised some years ago, and I judge it was the product of an idea which once was popular, that an enema automatically helped "whatever ails you." This has long since been discredited, and an enema should be used only when there is some distinct need for one.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read in a magazine that babies are fully developed three months after conception and are the approximate size of a man's thumb. Is this correct? — Miss L. M.

It is correct to the extent that at three months the embryo has progressed to the stage of being a fetus — the baby is about the size you describe, weighs about two ounces, and has acquired most of its physical structural features — fingers, toes, ears, nose, etc.

This does not mean that the baby is yet ready for life. It has to develop, strengthen and grow, accumulate a little fat, and muscle substance. Born earlier than 5½ or 6 months, the child usually will not even start to breathe. Slightly after that, a small chance of life exists, and improves gradually up to the full nine-month term.

Note to J. F.: Flat feet are normal in infants. The arch develops later on. Eighteen months may be a bit early to determine whether a particular youngster's gait is abnormal, but if in doubt consult an orthopedist (bone specialist).

Loren-Ponti Bigamy Hearing Put Off to April

ROME (AP) —A hearing on the nine-year-old bigamy case against film producer Carlo Ponti and actress Sophia Loren was postponed Tuesday until April 28. The case may have to start all over again from the beginning.

The case has dragged on so long that the three-man court no longer includes one of the three judges who started hearing testimony back in 1957. Under Italian law, the composition of a criminal court cannot be changed during a trial.

Court sources said the latest postponement was to see whether the court could be re-formed with its original judges.

Limits on Censors

Court Displeased With Own View of Obsenity

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine years ago the Supreme Court decided sex isn't necessarily obscene. Perhaps it would have been just as well if the court had stopped there

But the justices didn't. They went on to try to define obscenity. And though they have refined the definition since, no one seems entirely satisfied, least of all the justices themselves

The reason The definition appears to have posed as many questions as it answered. The result: The court took on a new batch of obscenity cases this session, others are being pressed on it and a new definition may be in prospect before adjournment.

This much is clear· unless there is a great change of heart on the bench certain types of literature will remain outside the First Amendment guarantee of free speech. And both the federal and state governments will retain the right to censor this material and to jail the publisher.

Like 1712

Thus, in a sense, the United States hasn't moved very far from 1712 when Massachusetts made it criminal to publish "any filthy, obscene, or profane song, pamphlet, libel or mock sermon."

What has changed is that limits have been placed on the censor and the court has tried to narrow down what may legitimately be considered obscene.

A sexy tract can't be banned unless it has "a tendency to excite lustful thoughts."

The dominant theme of the material as a whole — not a passage or a page or two — must be taken into consideration.

"All ideas having even the slightest redeeming social importance" must be given the "full protection" of free speech

And the material must be considered obscene by the "average person" applying "contemporary standards."

This, then, is the keystone of the Supreme Court's definition — and its guideline to lower courts, publishers and the nation.

Problems Raised

But what, exactly, is a "lustful thought" and how do you prove it was excited by the material in question? Who is to judge if an idea has "social importance?" What are the "contemporary standards" and who is the "average person" equipped to apply them?

"We know of no area of the law in which there is more confusion," the Arkansas Supreme Court said last May.

The record bears evidence of considerable division of the Supreme Court.

Two years ago in a movie case Justice William J Brennan said obscenity should be judged against a national standard while Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Tom C. Clark doubted any exists. Instead they would have "community standards" applied Justices William O. Douglas and Hugo L Black, meanwhile, have said "any test that turns on what is offensive to the community's standards" cannot be squared with the First Amendment.

And Justice Potter Stewart has said criminal obscenity laws should be limited to "hard-core pornography."

Perhaps best illustrating that the field is mined with subjective judgments, he said he might never be able to define such material and yet added: "I know it when I see it."

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 16, the 47th day of 1966. There are 318 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1804, the U S. frigate Philadelphia ran aground and was captured while pursuing a pirate ship in Tripoli Harbor. Lt. Stephen Decatur, with only 75 men in a captured ketch, boarded the Philadelphia and set her afire. Lord Nelson called it the most bold and daring act of the age.

On this date

In 1846, the first Texas State Legislature met in Austin, the capital.

In 1871, the Franco-Prussian War ended, with the French defeated and the Purrians in control of the German Empire

In 1918, the English port of Dover was bombarded by a German submarine

Five years ago—A communications balloon was launched into orbit from Wallops Island, Va.

One year ago — Three Negro men and a Canadian white woman were arrested on charges of plotting to destroy the Statue of Liberty, the Liberty Bell and the Washington Monument.

Fire Kills Widow In Watertown

Firemen said the blaze evidently erupted as the victim, Mrs. Ruby Eisfeldt, 45, was sleeping

Mrs Eisfeldt, who lived alone, was the mother of three sons, one of them currently a serviceman in South Viet Nam.

Fire Capt. Paul Buchholz said the victim's body was found by the bedroom door where she apparently collapsed as she tried to escape.

Oshkosh, Berlin Cited For Achievements in 'Cleanest Town' Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of winning cities and towns in the 1965 National Cleanest Town Achievement Award Contest receive their prizes today from Mrs. Lyndon B Johnson.

Engraved trophies go to 24 cities and towns. The grand prize, known as the Trigg trophy, goes to one of the 24 yet to be announced. Many other cities and towns get lesser awards.

Among those receiving distinguished achievement awards were Beloit, Berlin and Oshkosh, Wis

Death of Appleton Man Ruled Accidental

The death of Earl G. Besaw, 62, found dead in his room at 404 N. Appleton St. Feb 8, was caused by respiratory depression due to ethyl alcohol and barbital intoxication, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

The death was ruled accidental following laboratory analysis completed this week at Milwaukee.

Farm Union Head Wants to Include All in Rural Areas

EAU CLAIRE (AP)—The National Farmers Union should embrace all rural residents, its president said Monday night.

"A great many people who are farmers in Wisconsin work off the farm part or all of the time in factories. Building a bridge between the farmers and city workers, many of whom live in the country, is a vital role for an organization such as the Farmers Union," said James Patton

Patton, who is retiring next month after 25 years as national president of the organization, was honored at the 35th annual Wisconsin Farmers Union convention.

The Denver, Colo., president's remarks were reflected by a report listing 7,958 members in the Wisconsin organization—a drop from last year—and a financial report $33,016 in the red for 1965.

Soybeans Are Playing Significant Role in Oil, Fat Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — World production of oils and fats in 1966 will be a record 36 8 million short tons, predicts the Agriculture Department

This is only slightly larger than the previous record of 1965, but it is one-fourth above the 1955-59 average Most of the increase from 1965 is expected to be in edible oils

The department said a sizeable increase in soybean oil will dominate the entire production pattern and for the second successive year soybean oil production probably will displace butter as the largest single category of all fats and oils.

Parochial Pupils Won't Get Physical Education

Kaukauna Board Fears Instructions Would Set Precedent; Could Cause Problems

KAUKAUNA — The board of education Tuesday instructed the board secretary to notify St Aloysius Parish the district would not furnish physical education instruction for fifth through eighth grade parish pupils as requested

The parish was seeking to have pupils take physical education on a shared time basis at the new school to be opened for the 1966-67 school year Board members felt they would be establishing a precedent by starting shared time program which ultimately could lead to considerable problems The proposal by the parish would have called for the public school system to provide six and a half hours of instruction per week

The board voted to eliminate freshman representation in the Junior Prom court following the reading of a petition, signed by many city residents, opposing freshman participation at the prom A small delegation of citizens was on hand to explain that elimination of representation on the court might discourage freshmen from attending the dance

Parents Object

Most of the parents objected to freshmen participation since the prom is a date affair and they felt students of this age were too young to begin dating High school authorities were also instructed to sell tickets to dances on an individual basis rather than on a couples bases in order to discourage dating and more participation by individual students

A rule was adopted prohibiting students from smoking in the school, on school grounds or in school buses First violation of the rule will result in three days suspension and a second violation will result in suspension for the remainder of the semester in which it occurs The board instructed Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools, to notify residents of Sherwood the school board would go along with the majority on the question of whether to install a sewer and water system in that community.

To Name New School

Joseph Schouten, Marshall Bayorgeon and Robert Main were named to a committee to select three names for the new school The board will pick a name at the next meeting

Salary increases of $25 per month were approved for school secretaries, effective March 1 Clifford Hodgins was named principal for the new school He currently serves as supervisor of elementary education and principal at Park School No successor has been named for him

Victor Haen was authorized to prepare specifications on insurance coverage requested by the school district The board will then study the plan and possibly advertise for bids on a package basis

Approval was given to the hiring of Miss Joann Jacque, second grade teacher; Miss Judith Zentner, third grade Miss Marion Leisering, high school English, Mrs Barbara Roloff, high school English, and John Johnson, self-contained eighth grade

No Inquest Into Traffic Death of Kaukauna Driver

There will be no inquest into the Feb 5 traffic death of Mrs Milton Nagel, 58, 1813 Green Bay Road, Kaukauna, Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H Kemps said today

The decision not to call for an inquest was made following a conference Tuesday by Sgt Lowell Veitch of the county police, Dist Atty Nick F Schaefer and Kemps

Mrs Nagel was killed in a two-car collision at Pearl and Smith Roads, four miles east of Seymour Her southbound car collided with an eastbound vehicle driven by Harvey Melchert, route 1 Oneida.

Authorities said following the accident that there are no traffic control signals at the intersection

Melchert and two of his daughters were taken to a Green Bay hospital following the accident Mrs Nagel's husband was following her car about a quarter mile behind in a truck when the accident occurred

Kaukauna Driver Jailed for 20 Days

Joseph A VanHammond, 21, 311 W 10th St., Kaukauna, was sentenced to 20 days in jail Tuesday afternoon after he pleaded guilty of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been revoked.

Outagamie County traffic police arrested VanHammond Feb 7 in the Town of Grand Chute.

In addition to the jail sentence, County Judge Gustave J. Keller ordered VanHammond's driver's license revoked for an additional year.

Harrison Names Election Board

SHERWOOD — Named to the election board for two-year terms in the Town of Harrison were George Schwalbach, chairman, Clarence Zahringer and Carl Grassl

Leslie Stumpf and Gordon Mader were appointed clerks and Jerome Spang and Henry Herbeck, ballot clerks.

Alternates are Herbert Wolf, George Schaefer, Sylvester Meehl, Joseph Stumpf and Michael Schreiner

Four Youths Admit Thefts From Women's Purses at Laundry

KAUKAUNA — Police apprehended four boys, ages 11 through 13, who have admitted taking money from women's purses which they saw unattended at a laundromat.

Mrs. Mary Mueller, 164 W. Wisconsin Ave., Kaukauna, reported the theft of $4 from her purse and Mrs. Olive Busse, 518 Green Bay St., Kaukauna, reported the loss of about $8. Two of the youths also admitted being involved in the breaking of a window at Sully's Bar, 101 W. Second St., a few weeks ago

The youths were picked up shortly after Mrs. Busse reported the loss to police and they were seen playing pin-ball machines in a local restaurant Part of the money was returned, the boys turned over to parents for disciplinary action and restitution will be made.

The boys are also being questioned about other acts of vandalism.

Appleton Youth Fined $125 by Village Justice

LITTLE CHUTE — Roger Van Dera, 18, route 4, Appleton, pleaded guilty of hit and run driving involving property damage and was fined $125 when arraigned before Raymond Sanders, municipal justice, Monday night.

Van Dera was arrested Feb. 6 when police noticed his car strike a signal marker, back up and leave the scene of the accident.

Joseph Van Stippen, 22, 1044 E North St., Appleton, pleaded guilty of driving after license revocation and illegal use of license plates and was fined $130 by Sanders Van Stippen was arrested by police Feb. 3.

Kaukauna Resident Admits Non-Support

Robert Van Wychen, 26, 1513 Green Bay Road, Kaukauna, pleaded guilty to a non-support count and was sentenced to three months in jail Tuesday afternoon.

Van Wychen, who told the court he has been unemployed since early this month, failed to support his wife, Judith, between Jan. 15 and Feb. 14, according to the complaint.

Here. The frosty taste of Fresca. It's a blizzard.

Fresca is the new cold drink with the frosty, cold taste. And of course, it's sugar-free.

Just how refreshing is Fresca? This refreshing: Icy, biting, bold, cold, frosty, wintry, breezy, shivering, shimmering, shuddering, stinging, springy, sparkling, splashing, nipping, chilling, lively, light, bright, brisk, bouncing, bubbling, piercing, nearly freezing, and almost shocking.

There's never been a taste so refreshing.

It's a blizzard.

Rhodesian Sanctions Affect African Worker

By LYNN HEINZERLING

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) —"These sanctions are terrible, boss," the African taxi driver said.

He was driving into Salisbury from the airport. Red flowering flamboyant trees and the pale, pastel blossoms of frangipani trees slid past the window. In the distance was the skyline of Salisbury, glistening in the warm sun.

"I have six kids, boss," the taxi driver went on. "Four boys and two girls. If they go to school they all have to have school uniforms and money for fees. I want them to go to school."

The African wasn't whining or complaining. To him the problem of Rhodesia's independence was stripped of constitutional significance and all questions of racial equality or "one man one vote."

Rationing Sudden

The oil embargo and gasoline rationing had come along suddenly and endangered what is a respectable job for an African. He is working only three days a week now instead of six.

His reaction was: "What is this Mr. Wilson trying to do to us?"

He was talking about Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain, who has cut off trade with Rhodesia.

"I come home from work. We eat and the kids say they are still hungry. I won't want any more kids. I should have only four—two boys and two girls," the driver continued.

The African said he had stopped eating during the day so there would be more food for all in the evening. His six children still complained.

"A European lady told me we were going to get gasoline from South Africa," he said. "Where is it?"

First to Suffer

The taxi driver was confirming what almost everybody has seen from the beginning of Britain's economic war against her rebellious colony. The first to suffer is the African.

Unemployment figures are not published now, but Africans are losing their jobs as industries slow down and business houses retrench. There are more signs saying "Hapana basa"—no work.

"The Africans in the cities will suffer most," said Chad Chipunza, an African member of the Rhodesian Parliament who has challenged the legality of Prime Minister Ian Smith's government.

"They have nothing to fall back on when they lose their jobs," he said. "The Africans in the reserves will go on living as before, growing their own food. African farm workers may have their pay cut, but they will go on eating."

Apart from the gasoline rationing, the 225,000 Europeans in Rhodesia have scarcely been touched by sanctions so far. A shortage of cereal breakfast foods has developed, and imported cookies are disappearing from grocery shelves.

Local Foods

Imported canned goods probably will be disappearing soon, but Rhodesia produces most of its basic foodstuffs, including meat. Most fruits and vegetables are grown and canned here and locally produced frozen vegetables also are available.

The supply of scotch whisky is so abundant the dealers have been able to indulge in a price war. It has been selling for $4.50 a quart, American bourbon at $4.90.

To conserve gasoline, the post office is reducing the number of mailboxes in the city. Mail will no longer be cleared from most boxes on Sundays and holidays.

There is, however, no noticeable weakening in Rhodesia's defiance three months after independence day and the beginning of the economic war. "Forward Rhodesia" stickers seem to sprout on windshields and shop windows.

A sign in one shop window says: "There is no despondency in this house. We believe in ultimate victory to preserve Rhodesia."

How to Save on Taxes

Transportation May Be Deductible Item

BY SYLVIA PORTER

(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)

Countless numbers of us make religious and charitable contributions in cash for which we have no records and for which we must rely on memory as to whom and how much we gave. The Treasury is generally inclined not to allow deductions at all if they are supported only by memory — but on charitable contribution deductions some Internal Revenue Service offices around the country have been allowing a deduction by using a rough rule of thumb when examining our returns.

If you can convince the revenue agent that you actually made some charitable contributions in 1965, he will generally allow you to deduct up to $50 $80, even though you have no proof at all of the specific amount you gave. The top figure allowed depends on the revenue district. For instance, it was $78 in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, and New York. To permit more than this limit without proof, the agent must get his supervisor's okay.

But one warning. While you may be allowed $50-$80 without specific proof if and when your return is examined, claiming less than this amount on your return will not necessarily cut the odds that your returns will be selected for examination.

Free Transportation

If you use your car to furnish transportation for a religious or charitable organization, you can take a charitable deduction for this on your return. Here are the rules for figuring how much to deduct for your contribution of free transportation. The Treasury and courts let you deduct out-of-pocket costs, such as gas, oil, parking fees, etc. They won't let you deduct depreciation on your car or insurance or repair costs unless you can show that the insurance and repairs were caused by the charity or that your car was used only for charitable purposes. To simplify your figuring, the Treasury will let you deduct a flat 5 cents a mile for each mile you drove the car for charitable purposes — instead of requiring you to add your actual expenses. A court held last year that a taxpayer couldn't deduct the fair rental value of the car rather than his actual expenses or the flat 5 cents a mile.

If you are in the arts or have friends or relatives who are, here's an important tax saving opportunity.

If you're a painter, sculptor, writer or other artist and you give your services free to a church, school, etc., you cannot take a charitable contribution deduction for your services, no matter how valuable they are. For instance, if you painted a mural on a church wall as a charitable gift you could claim no contribution deduction. But if you painted a picture and then gave it to be hung on a church wall, you can deduct the value of the painting as a charitable contribution. The Treasury does not argue that you can't take the deduction in this second situation. Rather it usually contends that the value placed on the gift is too high — which means a cut in the contribution. The Tax Court in 1965, however, pointed out that the way to block this Treasury cut in the deduction is to have the contributed work of art valued by independent experts. The court refused to reduce a valuation placed on an artist's own paintings by his two experts when the Treasury offered no contrary expert opinion.

Fractional Interests

The Treasury last year cleared up an uncertainty caused by a provision in the 1964 tax law which barred any immediate deductions for charitable contributions of future interests in tangible personal property such as paintings, art objects, etc. The question was whether you could get a charitable deduction for giving away a fractional interest.

The answer is "yes" if, say, you contribute an undivided half interest in a painting to a museum, school, etc., with the understanding that the organization can display it for half a year and you can keep it at home the other half, you can get an immediate charitable deduction for the value of this fractional interest.

Questions and Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - My refund was held up last year because you said you couldn't read the name on my return. Why was this a problem if your ADP works on numbers?

A - Correct social security numbers are essential to the ADP system but we also use names in the ADP system. Your experience points up the necessity to print or type your name at the top of the tax form.

When we have the right number on a tax return but the name is wrong or illegible they won't match up in the system. This insures that only your returns, payments, etc. will be recorded in your account. When either the name or account number fails to match our records we have to ask the taxpayer whether the spelling is correct, the name has been changed, or the number is correct. As a result, there is a delay in the processing of the return and any refund due.

Q - When a husband and wife file separately can the husband ever claim his wife as a dependent?

A - No. Under the law husbands and wives are not considered each other's dependents. On a separate return you may claim the exemption for your wife, however, if she had no gross income and was not the dependent of another taxpayer.

Q - My son went to work last fall after his graduation. Can we still claim him as a dependent? He is unmarriedd and lives at home.

A - If you have provided more than one half his support for the year, you may be able to claim him as a dependent. In addition to this support test, if he earned $600 or more during the year, then he had to be under 19 at the end of the year, or else have been a full time student for some part of each of 5 months during the year.

Q - I paid my tax and now I get a bill for it. Why is that?

A - Your payment could have become separated from your return or the payment might have arrived after the day it was due.

To clear this up, write the office which sent you the bill and give them full details on your payment (date, amount, purpose etc.). Be sure to give your social security number and print your name when you write.

It's a good practice when making a tax payment to write your social security number, as well as your name, legibly on the check or money order.

Legal Limits Set Up When Trying to Change Name

Joe Plain was a dead ringer for movie star Peter Pretty. He also copied the actor's mannerisms and speech.

In real life Joe sold real estate. His resemblance to Peter Pretty helped his business. He printed Peter Pretty Jr. on his business cards and passed himself off as Peter's son.

Joe planned to change his name legally to Peter Pretty Jr. Joe filed his papers with the court, but when the case came up, Peter Pretty himself objected.

Ruling against Joe, the judge ordered him to stop using Pretty's name altogether. It confused the public.

As a rule you can call yourself almost anything you want to without even going to court. The court can make your new name a matter of permanent public record.

The legal limits on changing your name. You cannot falsely pass yourself off as someone else.

If a person does so, he is liable for any damage or harm to the reputation, good will or good name of the person imitated. The damages may be nil. One may call himself "John D. Rockerfeller" and do no harm.

No court can deny you the right to change your name without good reason.

In one case Sam Sampson, an actor, wanted to change his name, legally to one that he had been using for some fifteen years. At first the court refused to allow the change. Since Sam had gone through bankruptcy under his real name, the court thought that his name change might confuse his creditors. Sam appealed his case and the higher court ordered the change. Just because a person has once gone through bankruptcy is not sufficient reason to deny the petition to change his name. Of course showing that creditors or businessmen would be harmed is a good reason to deny the change.

The right to use a person's name does not extend to business names or products. The court will not help anyone who wants commercially to take unfair advantage of the benefits of another's good will.

Great Lakes Water Level Up From '65

DETROIT (AP)— Great Lakes water levels are up — from a couple of inches to a couple of feet — compared with a year ago, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' lake survey expects them to keep right on rising into July.

Michigan and Huron, rebounding from 1964 and 1965 all-time lows, already are up one foot, five inches over mid-February of 1965 and are expected to add almost another two feet by the end of July.

The forecaet is that Erie and Ontario will add within fractions of another foot. Erie already is 10 inches and Ontario an even two feet ahead of a year ago.

Superior, on which compensating gates were opened last fall to feed lower lakes, is two inches ahead of a year ago and the forecast is for another half-foot gain there.

The big upsurge is due to heavy precipitation in the fall of 1965, which brought that year's average for the Great Lakes basin up to 36.89 inches, compared with only 24.92 in 1953, 29.56 in 1964, and a long-term average of 31.02 inches annually.

Madison Interests Seek CATV at Two Rivers

MADISON (AP)—Robert Sundby, a Madison attorney, said Tuesday that Madison interests have filed corporation papers for a Community Antenna Television firm to seek a franchise in the Kewaunee-Two Rivers area. Sundby said members of his law firm were the primary persons involved in the corporation membership.

Bays' Claridge One Of Top Selections

Atlanta Takes Dan Grimm, Junior Coffey From Packer List; Also Get Alex Hawkins

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Quarterback Dennis Claridge and flanker-end Alex Hawkins were two of the top choices named today by the new Atlanta Falcons in their selection of experienced players from established National Football League teams.

Claridge was picked from the Green Bay Packers, Hawkins from the Baltimore Colts.

The Falcons picked 42 men, three from each of the 14 older teams, with the names of the 21 chosen from Western Division clubs announced first.

Among other selectees were 35-year-old Sam Williams, a first string end on the Detroit Lions' fine defensive line, and Junior Coffey, a promising young running back who was taken from Green Bay.

Dan Grimm, a starter this season at guard, was the other player chosen from the champion Packers.

Others named:

End Neal Petties and defensive tackle Guy Reese from Baltimore; end Bill Martin, defensive tackle Dennis Murphy and defensive back Ron Smith from Chicago; guard-tackle Jim Simon and center Bob Whitlow from Detroit.

Defensive Back

Center Frank Marchlewski, defensive end Tim Powell and defensive back Jerry Richardson from Los Angeles; defensive back Lee Calland, linebacker Bill Jobko and tackle Erroll Linden from Minnesota; and running back Rudy Johnson, flanker Dale Messer and defensive tackle Charlie Sieminski from San Francisco.

Claridge was a star halfback at Nebraska who was used sparingly by the Packers in his three seasons in the NFL. He is a big 225-pounder.

Hawkins, a versatile performer, was captain of the Colts' special teams — for kickoffs, punts and kick returns. The eight year pro also filled in at flanker and end.

The Falcons, who will start play next season, paid $3.5 million for the 42 players. They also participated in the draft of college players last December, and signed a number of potential rookie stars.

Of the 21 Western Conference men named, eight were starters this past season or have been starters — Reese, Simon, Williams, Grimm, Calland, Jobko, Whitlow, Linden and Richardson.

Gophers Dealt 96-87 Setback By Hawkeyes

Minnesota Falls Out of Serious Big 10 Contention

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Ten basketball race was narrowed to two teams Tuesday when Minnesota dropped a 96-87 decision at Iowa.

The result left Michigan (7-1) on top foilowed by Michigan State (6-2).

Minnesota, which could have climbed into a second place tie with Michigan State with a victory over Iowa, fell out of serious contention with its third loss of the season.

The Gophers were victimized by the Hawkeye standard of win at home and lose-on-the-road.

Have .500 Record

Iowa's triumph was its fourth of the season in the Big Ten but the Hawkeyes can boast of little more than a .500 record. While they have been unbeatable at home, the Hawkeyes have failed to win on the road.

Iowa took the lead at 30-28 in the first half and remained in front the rest of the way on the scoring of Chris Pervall, George Peeples and sophomore Ben McGilmer.

Pervall led all scorers with 28 points, Peeples had 25 and McGilmer 22. Lou Hudson was high for Minnesota with 26 and Archie Clark added 23.

The Big Ten race continues Saturday with all ten teams in action. Michigan State is at Wisconsin and Michigan is home against Purdue in the two important games.

Iowa is at Ohio State in a regionally televised contest and Minnesota invades Illinois with Northwestern at Indiana. All five games will be played in the afternoon.

Report Raps San Francisco Sport Centers

Facilities Not Up to Standard For Pro Squads

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) The city of San Francisco, already stung by the loss of its hockey team, has been hit with a report that states three of the four sports facilities in town should be abandoned by their professional teams.

The city's Chamber of Commerce and the private San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association (SPUR) released their report Tuesday. They favor construction of a 14,000-seat all-around downtown arena called the Yerba Buena Sports Convention Center.

The two groups said Kezar stadium, Civic Auditorium and the Cow Palace are inadequate for professional sports and that they are too widely separated.

The San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League will move after this season to the 15,000-seat Oakland Coliseum Arena, now under construction.

NHL Franchise

The move was made in connection with the award of a new National Hockey League franchise to the Seals' owners because the Cow Palace does not meet NHL standards.

The 7,500-seat Civic Auditorium, where the San Francisco Warriors play their National Basketball Association games, was adjudged to have not enough seating capacity to retain the team. The Warriors plan an expanded number of games next season in the Oakland Arena.

Kezar Stadium, home of the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League, "is an obsolete facility for professional football and the Shrine East-West game," the report said.

They recommended retiring Kezar to other uses and moving the 49ers and the collegiate all-star charity game to Candlestick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants.

However, the report stated that the baseball stadium must be modified for football and that something—they didn't say what—be done about the famous Candlestick wind.

Stanford Submits Expansion Report to NFL Club Owners

Circuit May Include 16 Teams By Beginning of 1967 Season

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The National Football League continued the job of stocking its new Atlanta franchise today and it talked about expansion to 16 clubs in 1967.

While the Atlanta Falcons were picking the 42 veterans who will form a base for their 1966 operation, the owners considered the expansion report from the Stanford Research Institute.

The Institute's report was strictly confidential. Commissioner Pete Rozelle clamped the lid on all pertinent information about the surveys of Boston, Cincinnati, Houston, New Orleans, La.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Portland, Ore., and Seattle, Wash.

"We expect to expand to 16 clubs, probably in 1967," said Rozelle. "I think we will then have two eight-team conferences, each divided into two four-team divisions. The division winners will play, and the two survivors will meet for the league championship."

Rated Seven Cities

Although the Stanford people said they had rated the seven cities on the basis of potential NFL attendance, stadium facilities, season ticket potential and estimated revenue from attendance and concessions, they refused to say if any one city was in the lead.

"This is as much as we can give out without making a circus of it," said Rozelle. "After our owners have a chance to evaluate their 200-page report, we will place our own weight on the ratings they have given.

"There is no precise timetable for the selection. The decision on the location of the franchise will be made only after the thorough study of the survey and the consideration of all other factors."

It is likely that the decision will be made at the spring meeting in late April. No site has been selected for that meeting.

Ticket Information Is Base

The research was based on ticket information from Philadelphia, Cleveland, Minnesota, Dallas and Los Angeles and findings were projected into the cities under consideration.

Tuesday was a day of surveys for the NFL. Lou Harris, head of an independent research polling firm, turned up figures that showed pro football ahead of baseball among sports fans and reported no evidence of overexposure of the sport.

The club owners, saddened by the death of the wife of George Halas, pioneer owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, named a delegation to attend Mrs. Halas'

GREEN BAY — Green Bay's Bobcats, having shaken a six-game losing streak with their first shutout victory in five years, have begun honing their blades for the biggest challenge of their home season.

The Bobcats, whose 7-0 conquest of the runnerup Marquette Iron Rangers last Sunday was their first whitewash win since Jan. 15, 1961, host the United States Hockey League-leading Waterloo Black Hawks Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

Waterloo, shooting for a third straight USHL championship, will skate into the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena with a six-point (three game) lead over Marquette after splitting a tight-fisted weekend series with the Rochester Mustangs.

The Bobcats, who have had little luck with Waterloo in the recent past, will be seeking their first victory of the season over the defending champions. The Black Hawks shaded the Bays 4-3 in overtime in their only previous Green Bay appearance back on Dec. 4 and have claimed 8-2, 3-2 and 10-4 victories on Waterloo ice.

The weekend series will be the Bobcats' last home set for a month. They will not return to Arena ice until March 19-20 when they entertain the Fox Valley (Ill.) Astros.

Palmer Keeps Money Lead On PGA Tour

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Young Dudley Wysong jumped into fourth place in the PGA money winners list with his $9,000 first place finish in the $60,000 Phoenix Open.

The 26-year-old Casper, Wyo., golfer also earned $1,990 in events not sanctioned by the PGA.

Arnold Palmer, who won one tourney this year and placed in the first five four times, continues to head the list with official earnings of $14,412 and unofficial $18,025.

The PGA computes the standings on official earnings alone.

Billy Casper trails Palmer with 10,890 official and $4,455 unofficial earnings. Ken Venturi ranks third with a$10,250 total, of that $9,675 in tourneys sanctioned by the PGA.

Others in the top 10, with official money first, unofficial second and total:

Miller Barber $7,458, $2000 and $9,458; Frank Beard $7,062, $1,128 and $8,190; Tom Weiskopf $6,137, $875 and $17,012, Dave Ragan $5,765, $1,488 and $7,253, George Archer $5,730, $1,642 and $7,372, and Gardner Dickinson Jr. $5,028, $540 and $5,568.

Onalaska Luther Breezes to 16th Consecutive Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stevens Point, Barron and Cumberland collected major victories in Wisconsin high school basketball Tuesday night while La Crosse Central was a surprise loser.

Onalaska Luther, the only ranked team in action, overwhelmed its 16th victim.

Stevens Point (11 - 5) registered its second victory of the year over archfoe Wausau (9-7), erasing a two - point halftime deficit to win 71-63 behind balanced scoring.

Barron (15 -1) bounced back from its first defeat of the season last week to crush Chetek 85-55 as 6-foot-7 Gary Christensen scored 26 points.

Cumberland (14-2) stayed one game behind the Bears, heading into a showdown next week for the Heart O'North Conference crown, by beating Bloomer 73-57.

Middle Border Conference champion River Falls (15 - 1) had 12 players share in the scoring as it ripped apart Colfax 87-38.

Winona, Minn. (12-3), among the top-rated teams in its home state, avenged one of its two losses to Wisconsin quintets this year by surprising La Crosse Central (12-5) the second time around 77-63.

"Of course we'll be out to win, but its hard not to be thinking of the tournament," commented Coach Gene Mason, in reference to Kimberly High School's remaining two regular season basketball engagements.

The Mason - directed Papermakers wrapped up their fourth consecutive Mid-Eastern Conference championship Saturday night with a 66-58 triumph over Neenah, while Menasha, the co-holder of second place, was losing to Clintonville, 77-61.

Kimberly entertains Shawano Friday night, while other M-E action sends Neenah to New London, Kaukauna to Menasha and Clintonville to Two Rivers. The postponed game of Feb. 12 between Two Rivers and New London will be played Saturday on the Bulldogs' court.

Host of Regional

The Papermakers conclude the regular season Feb. 25 at Clintonville and then play host to the Kimberly Regional Mar 4-5. Manitowoc, currently holding forth in the runnerup spot in the Fox River Valley circuit, is Kimberly's first opponent in the annual WIAA state classic.

"We have a chance to sit back and concentrate on the Manitowoc game," Mason continued. "There is no pressure on us to win in conference play, but we're certainly going to play to win. Our practice sessions are concerned more with Manitowoc at the present time, but if we hadn't clinched the title last weekend, things would be different."

Manitowoc must still fight for its second place berth in the FRVC with three games remaining on the agenda. The Ships are already eliminated from championship contention, but four teams remain in the fight for the runnerup spot.

Reider Leads Team

En route to the title Menasha shared it with Kimberly in 1964 and '65, the five Papermaker regulars all boasted averages in double figures.

John Reider, a 3-year veteran at guard, heads the team with 223 points in M-E play, while Bob Van Gompel and Gary Van Cuyk are next in line with 187 and 186, respectively. Ken Fries has 156 in the 12 M-E games, with Gary Gossens boasting 133 markers.

Menasha's Don Steffin appears (unless he breaks a leg in the words of one scribe) to have the M-E's individual scoring championship sealed. The 6-2 Bluejay senior has 231 markers to lead runnerup Reider by 58.

Eyes Tie for Second

With hopes of a second place tie still lingering, coach Ken VanderVelden's Ghosts eye a repeat victory over Menasha Friday. The Ghosts knocked off the Menashans, 69-58, earlier in the year. Kaukauna closes the season against New London, while Menasha and Neenah square-off in another finale.

A Kaukauna win over Menasha, coupled with a subsequent Menasha win over the Rockets, would give the KHS crew a share of the runnerup spot.

Others among the circuit's scoring leaders are Kaukauna's Pat Kavanaugh, 219; Clintonville's Mike Pasch, 211, Neenah's Gary Losse, 190; Shawano's Ron Jesse, 181; Clintonville's Pete Korb, 175; Kaukauna's Quinn Vanden Heuvel, 172, New London's Bob Rieckmann, 170 and Menasha's Tom Vanderhyden, 169.

Parilli Signs, Determined to Keep QB Post

BOSTON (AP) — Can benus boy John Huarte take the starting quarterback job of the Boston Patriots away from veteran Babe Parilli? Not if Parilli has anything to say about it.

The former Kentucky All-America signed his 13th pro football contract Tuesday and said "not only do I intend to play again but I plan to be the No. 1 quarterback again."

Parilli, who had an off year in 1965 after a tremendous 1964 performance, said he "can't remember looking forward to a season with more anticipation."

He said, "I'm glad John is with us. I always like a challenge." And he promised to do all he could to help Huarte, the former Notre Dame star who was paid $200,000 by the New York Jets to sign an American Football League contract but spent last season on the taxi squad.

In 1964, Parilli threw 31 touchdown passes — more than any other pro quarterback — and picked up 3,441 yards — the third highest total ever gained by a pro passer. In 1965, Parilli had to scramble to finish with 18 touchdown passes and 2,597 yards.

Cubs Capture Signing Derby For 7th Year

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs won the major league contract-signing derby for the seventh straight year today when pitcher Bob Humphreys became the 39th and last rostered player to accept terms for 1966.

It was the eighth successive year the Cubs were the first National League club to complete contract signings.

Humphreys worked 66 innings in 41 games for the Cubs last season, posting a 2-0 record and an earned-run average of 3.14.

Catcher Ed Bailey, 34, who was sold outright to the California Angels Tuesday, previously had signed his 1966 Cub contract.

New Manager Leo Durocher said he was satisfied young catching talent, including Randy Hundley — acquired from the San Francisco Giants — would offset departure of Bailey, 10-season major league veteran.

Hundley, 23, will compete with holdovers Chris Krug, 26, and Vic Roznovsky, 27.

Antigo Cager Player of Week

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mike Kretz of Antigo High School, who scored 39 points in a 72 - 57 basketball upset of Rhinelander last weekend, was named The Associated Press high school "Player of the Week" today.

"I haven't seen an exhibition of outside shooting like that since I've been a coach," said Antigo's coach and athletic director, Jamil La Ham. "Every shot he took was from outside."

Kretz, a 5-foot-8 guard, hit on 12 of 15 shots and 15 of 16 free throws in helping hand Rhinelander its first loss of the season in the Wisconsin Valley Conference.

"He's the best kid in the world," said La Ham. "He's a tremendous all-around kid. He's a straight A student, a good leader, a good ball player, everything."

20 Against Shawano

Kretz, an all-conference football player, didn't become a starter at Antigo until this season and before the Rhinelander game he hadn't shown much of a scoring touch. His best previous offensive night was against Shawano when he garnered 20 points.

But Rhinelander is a very special foe for Antigo and presented just the kind of psychological prod Kretz needed.

"He told me that night even before we left for Rhinelander that he wished the game had already started. That's how high he was," La Ham said.

"He didn't only have a fine offensive night. He also played an excellent floor game and did an outstanding defensive job. When I took him out of the game, they gave him a standing ovation and the Rhinelander fans were cheering for him too. That's how good he was."

Study Medicine

Kretz, who would like to study medicine, said he was undecided whether to attend Wisconsin or Oshkosh State.

His coach isn't predicting he'll be a varsity basketball player in college.

"His height might be against him," La Ham said. "But I wouldn't count him out because of his determination, his mental attitude and his shooting ability. This kid can stick in there real good and he's too good a shot ever to count out."

Others nominated by Wisconsin Sports writers for this week's award included Gene Wilcenski of Gilman who scored 49 points in Gilman's upset of Greenwood, Tom Nickel of Winneconne, Jim Mraz of Madison East, Tom Manchester of Racine Park, Bruce Borchert of West Allis Hale and Dave Egelhoff.

Editor Predicts Attendance Boost If Braves Return

Fans Anxious to Bury Hatchet, Larson Says at Pre-Trial Hearing

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The miracle of Milwaukee might be relived if baseball returns a sports editor indicated Tuesday.

Lloyd Larson, sports editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel predicted an appreciable—perhaps miraculous — increase" in attendance if the Atlanta Braves were returned to Milwaukee for the 1966 season.

Larson testified at a pretrial hearing in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League that he felt fans would "bury the hatchet and start from scratch."

"I know where they'd bury it—in back of the heads of the owners," said Braves' attorney Earl Jinkinson, who was questioning Larson.

"I don't believe so," said Larson.

Same Owners

The sports news executive testified he believed there would be increased attendance even if the Braves returned under the same owners who have twice tried to abandon the city. The Braves drew crowds above 2 million in the "Miracle of Milwaukee" after moving here from Boston in 1953.

A Milwaukee broker, Carlton P. Wilson, testified he thought there would be neither a sustantial increase nor major decline in attendance compared with the 555,584 figure in the Braves' 1965 lame duck season.

Wilson reported he and Edmund B. Fitzgerald, member of a group of prominent Wisconsin businessmen seeking a replacement franchise, had talked with Chicago Cubs owner Philip K. Wrigley in December, 1964, about the possibility of the Cubs playing part of their home game in Milwaukee.

Wilson said Wrigley replied he would consider such an arrangement on a temporary basis only if other clubs were also willing to play occasional home games in Milwaukee.

Wysong Posts First Tour Win

Earns $9,000 for Winning 278 Total; Palmer Records 291

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — On Monday morning Dudley Wysong's official 1966 professional golf earnings totaled zero, he still was looking for his first pro victory and he was wondering how he'd ever get into the field for the $200,000 Carling Open.

Today he's $9,000 richer, has joined the winners' fraternity and is assured of a trip to England for the big-money Carling event Augt. 27-Sept. 3.

Wysong, a determined 26-year-old from Casper, Wyo., stormed from six strokes off the pace with a five-under-par 66 Monday to catch veteran Gardner Dickinson Jr. and win the $60,000 Phoenix Open. The victory qualified him for the Carling.

Dickinson, a gutty 130-pounder from Lost Tree Gillage, Fla., led for the first three rounds, but finally succumbed to an ailing back and Wysong's furious charge.

Wysong had rounds of 73-69-70-66 for a six-under-par 278 on the 6,756-yard Phoenix Country Club course, a par 36-35—71 layout which was deluged by rains in the early going but was baked by the warm Arizona sun in the final rounds.

Dickinson, who shot 66-69-71-73, finished a stroke back at 27 and pocketed second-place money of $5,000. Gene Littler, who fashioned 17 pars and a birdie into a closing 70, finished at 280 and picked up $4,000 for third.

Mason Rudolph and Johnny Pott shot 282 and won $3,100. George Archer received $2,500 for his 283 and Dave Marr and R. H. Sikes each picked up $2,250 for their even-par 284s.

NHL Negotiating for National Television Pact With 3 Networks

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League is negotiating with three television networks for a possible national TV contract, William Jennings, president of the New York Rangers, said Tuesday.

Jennings described the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co. and American Broadcasting Co. as "most interested" in televising NHL games.

Jennings, a member of the league's Board of Governors, said the NHL's addition of six new American franchises approved last week "undoubtedly has changed the picture."

"Instead of us going to the networks," Jennings said, "the networks are coming to us."

Mrs. Audrey Bredlow had pleaded guilty to 10 counts of theft Jan. 14. She was sentenced by County Judge Frederick Fink.

Winneconne Cagers Seek Sole Crown

Travel to Brillion Friday; Omro to Meet Denmark

Shiocton	0	11

Unbeaten Winneconne High School, with at least a share of the Little Nine Conference title safely tucked away, goes after the sole crown Friday night when the Wolves travel to Brillion.

Winneconne has ripped through 11 games this season without a defeat and currently has a string of 23 straight conference wins to its credit.

Biggest Scare

Winneconne survived its biggest scare of the season last Friday when Tom Nickel's last-second shot gave the Wolves a narrow 59-57 victory over second place Omro.

With three seconds left, Winneconne had a time out. The ball was tossed in to Nickel who let fly from 20 feet out and sank the game-winning shot as the horn sounded. A win for Omro would have put the two teams in a tie for first place. However, Omro now is in a tie for second with Reedsville and the only hope for the runnerup teams is that Winneconne lose its last two games, something that seems highly unlikely in the rate the Wolves have been going.

Omro and Reedsville put their identical records on the line against a pair of teams which also have like marks. Denmark, Omro's foe and Hortonville, opponents for the Panthers Friday, each have 4-7 slates.

funeral in Chicago Thursday. They will continue the league meeting, which probably will end Thursday.

A proposal to increase the player limit from 40 to 42 was rejected. That means the new Atlanta team, which was granted special privileges, will be able to retain 46 men during the first two weeks of the season, and 42 the rest of the way.

Work All Day

Owner Rankin Smith, Coach Norb Hecker and Director of Personnel Gene Cronin worked all day Tuesday and into Wednesday picking the players made available by the 14 teams which operated in 1965.

Atlanta was permitted to select one player from a list of 11 submitted by each club. Then the lists were turned back to the clubs who exempted two additional veterans. Atlanta then took two more from a list of eight submitted by each club.

At the end of the selection process the Falcons would have 42 veterans, plus the 32 rookies they signed after the college draft and 19 free agent veterans.

Six Quarterbacks

Before they started adding the veterans the Falcons already had six quarterbacks of little pro experience. They include Randy Johnson of Texas AO—, Steve Sloan of Alabama and Tom Hodges of Virginia from 1965 college crop and Bill Lothridge of Georgia Tech, Henry Schichtle of Wichita and John Torok of Arizona State, who were cut by pro teams last fall.

When the Atlanta stocking is completed the freeze on trading will end. It is expected the Baltimore Colts will complete a deal involving Andy Stynchula, veteran defensive lineman of the New York Giants, who played out his option. There were reports that halfback Lenny Moore might be headed for New York.

Faculty, Alumni Cagers to Meet In Hortonville

HORTONVILLE — The Hortonville Education Association will sponsor a faculty-alumni basketball game at 8 p.m. Sunday in the high school gymnasium.

The proceeds will be used as a scholarship fund for reserving graduates who plan to make a career of teaching.

A preliminary game between the fifth and sixth graders from the Saturday Recreation Program will start at 7 p.m. The game will also be highlighted by the appearance of a group of alumni cheerleaders.

The physical education department of the high school is planning a half-time gymnastics and wrestling exhibition. In addition, the pep band will be on hand.

Tickets for the game can be purchased at Rindt's Barber Shop or from any faculty member.

Thursday's Game

Philadelphia at Los Angeles

Robertson, who missed last Sunday's game because of a groin injury, played all but two minutes and led the Cincinnati Royals past the Boston Celtics 136-123 Tuesday night in a game in which Russell played less than two minutes.

Chamberlain continued to lead Philadelphia in its drive to unseat the Celtics as the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division champion by scoring 34 points and grabbing 20 rebounds in the 76ers' 121-109 victory over St. Louis at Pittsburgh.

1½ Games Behind

In the other games Tuesday night, the Baltimore Bullets unleashed a fourth-quarter spurt and whipped the Detroit Pistons 114-105 and the Los Angeles Lakers overcame an early 14-point deficit and turned back the New York Knickerbockers 132-124.

Robertson, with 31 points, was one of four Royals who hit for 20 points as Cincinnati built a 70-58 halftime lead on its home court and coasted to the victory.

Russell started for Boston but had to leave because of a leg injury. His replacement, Mel Counts, quickly picked up five fouls and played only 17 minutes.

Happy Hairston added 25 for the Royals. Sam Jones and John Havlicek scored 23 apiece for Boston.

Philadelphia never led in the game until Billy Cunningham put the 76ers ahead 8-96 with a little more than seven minutes left. They outscored the Hawks 34-18 in the final period.

Pulled Away

Johnny Egan and Bob Ferry triggered Baltimore's late surge against Detroit. Egan accounted for nine of his 15 points and Ferry collected 12 of his 18 points in the final period as the Bullets pulled away after entering the quarter ahead 79-73.

Don Ohl, back to full-time action after being sidelined with a fractured cheekbone, topped Baltimore with 24 points. Player-coach Dave DeBusschere was high for the Pistons with 26.

Los Angeles broke open a close game at the outset of the second half and took command the rest of the way against New York. With the Knicks in front 63-62, the Lakers went on an eight-point spree to open an insurmountable gap.

Jerry West sparked the Western Division leaders with 29 points. The Knicks, who had won seven of their last eight starts, were paced by Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett with 30 points each.

Ice Fishermen in the Fox Cities area have been coming up with some fine catches of late and here are two more caught last weekend. Former Packer, Johnny Blood, Wed in Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — John Victor McNally, the "vagabond halfback" and "Johnny Blood" of professional football, was married Tuesday night to Katherine I. Kopp of St. Paul, Minn.

They were wed at a private ceremony by acting Nevada Supreme Court Justice David Zeneff at the home of the judge's brother.

On the marriage license, both listed one previous marriage.

McNally, who stands 6-2, played on four championship Green Bay Packer teams from 1929 to 1936. All told, he played 20 seasons of professional football before retiring in 1945.

He took the nickname "Johnny Blood" from the Rudolph Valentino movie "Blood and Sand."

The bride, 48, operates a St. Paul employment agency.

McNally said they planned to honeymoon in Southern California, including Palm Springs, for a few days before returning home.

Mayasich, Therrien Picked

2 Bobcats Named to U. S. National Squad

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—The U.S. national hockey team, which will compete in the 1966 world hockey tournament March 3-12 in Yugoslavia, is rated by manager Wayne Dornack "on paper as good as the 1960 U.S. team which won the Olympic championship."

It includes two Green Bay, Wis., players, one of them captain of the 1960 team.

"We could be a dark horse in the world tournament," Dornack said Tuesday, "but that's barring any injuries. On paper, we look real good. We've got a lot of experience; we've an older club than we've had the past few years.

"I think we're potentially as good as the '60 team which won the Olympics, and I think we're better than our 1964 Olympic team. We've got John Mayasich, who was captain of the '60 Olympic team."

Dornack is not going out on any limb to predict big things for the U.S. nationals in the 1966 meet, however. Asked to rate the top teams to compete in Yugoslavia, Dornack said:

"That's pretty easy to predict. I'd rate them in this order going into the tournament: Russia, Czechoslovakia, Swedep, and Canada or the U.S. after that."

Coached by former Michigan State University coach Vic Heyliger, the American team is made up mostly of players from the U. S. hockey league, a semi-professional circuit.

The 16 players the U.S. team will take to Europe are Mayasich and Hank Therien of the Green Bay Bobcats; Len Lilyholm, Tom Yurkovich, Brad Tea, Ken Johannson, Craig Falkman, Dick Haigh and Larry Stordahl from the Rochester, Minn., Rockets; Rod Blackburn, Bob Currie, Marsh Tschida and Jerry Melynchuk from the St. Paul, Minn., Steers; Roger Masisonneuve from the Toledo, Ohio, Comets; Dick Roberge from Johnstown, Pa.; and Emery Ruelle from the Waterloo, Iowa, Black Hawks.

The U.S. team works out here until Feb. 22, when it flies to New York, then on to Zurich, Switzerland. The Americans then play four exhibitions, at Lausanne, Switzerland, Feb. 24; At Thun, Switzerland, Feb. 25; at Belgrade, Feb. 26, and At Ljubljana, Yugoslavia, Feb. 27 or 28.

Stockbridge Records 15th Straight Win

Indians Roll, 89-51, Over Ashwaubenon In Non-Loop Game

ASHWAUBENON—The Stockbridge High School Indians retained their undefeated ways here Tuesday night by posting an 89-51 non-conference triumph over Ashwaubenon.

Bob Mayer, playing only 1½ quarters, rimmed 15 points while Daryl Bunnell added 13.

The Indians will be shooting for victory No. 16 Saturday night at Freedom, a Little Nine Conference member. The Irish boast a rangy front line, including 6-4 Jack Van Eperen and 6-3 Gerald Kieffer, and could be a threat to Stockbridge's unblemished record.

Betty Cutler Hits 545 in Women's Loop

Betty Cutler cracked a 201 singleton en route to a 545 threesome to set the pace in the Ten Pin Toilers League at Hahn's Lanes Tuesday.

Florence Haugen was next in line with a 514 set.

Elaine Krueger posted a 516 series, and Carolyn Gresl uncorked a 228 game on the way to a 514 finish to highlight action in the 5 X 8 League at Hahn's.

Ruth Behling's 500 series was the lone honor score in the Tag-A-Long League at the 41 Bowl.

Mazurek Refused Permission to Play Baseball

PITTSBURGH (AP) —Quarterback Fred Mazurek of the Washington Redskins has been refused permission to play baseball with the Pittsburgh Pirates, a spokesman for the Pirates said Tuesday.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates said the National Football League club feels that although Mazurek did not play much last year he has a fine future in pro football.

The Pirates drafted the former University of Pittsburgh star in January and hoped he could work out during spring training. Mazurek played the outfield in college.

Mount Horeb Cager Dies At Practice

MOUNT HOREB, Wis. (AP) — A 15-year-old basketball player collapsed during a high school practice scrimmage Tuesday and died of what authorities said was a heart attack that couldn't be explained.

The freshman athlete, Karl Baertschy, suffered an apparent dizzy spell, his coach, Larry Dangerfield, said. "He just walked over to the side and leaned against the bleachers and collapsed," said the coach.

An autopsy attributed death to a heart seizure. Coroner Clyde Chamberlain Jr. of Madison, Wis., said, "His death was apparently the result of an irregular heart beat which cannot be explained."

Chamberlain said the autopsy showed no history of previous heart trouble. The youth had been cleared in a medical examination before the start of the season.

4,083 Teams in WIBC Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The entry for this year's Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament, opening April 14 in New Orleans, La., totals 4,083 teams.

The WIBC said Tuesday night the final entry list comprises the second largest number of traveling teams in the tournament, 3,110, plus 973 New Orleans teams.

field Central (12 - 3) beat Menomonee Falls 68-61.

Among smaller schools, Onalaska Luther (16-0), rated No 8 in the "Little Ten," had six players in double figures as it smashed Melrose-Mindoro 96 - 74.

Upsets were ample among the smaller teams. Brandon (9 - 6) ambushed Rosendale (14-2) 65 - 42. West Salem (6 - 8) used a withering press to overcome a 10-point deficit in the final period and spill Hillsboro (13 - 2) 64-61.

Other rare losers included Gresham (14-2), Marathon (13-3) and Loyal (14 - 3). Vic Stewart scored 26 points for Pittsville (12-4) in its 74-69 victory over Loyal.

Lomira (14 - 2), Weyerhauser (12-2) and Fairchild (14 - 3) followed form with victories.

Ken VerGowe sank 39 points and pulled down 29 points for Cedar Grove for the top individual performance of the night in an 84-61 victory over Howards Grove.

Norway Jumper, Brandtzaeg, to Quit Competition

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Tor-Geir Brandtzaeg, Norway's 24-year old crack ski jumper who won two Olympic bronze medals for ski jumping in Austria two years ago, said Tuesday night he will never jump again.

"I have decided to quit ski jumping definitely; he told The Associated Press after visiting Olympic jumping champion Veikko Kankkonen of Finland, who broke his right collar bone during Tuesday's practice for the world championships here.

Brandtzaeg, who suffered a complicated leg fracture in Finland last year, still uses crutches.

"I was told about Veikko's injury when I arrived at the airport and went directly to the Finnish camp to see my friend," Brandtzaeg said.

Stange, Dicken Sign Indian Pacts

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pitcher Lee Stange and outfielder Paul Dicken have signed 1966 contracts with the Cleveland Indians, the American League baseball club said Tuesday.

The Indians now have 33 men under contract and six yet to sign, including pitchers Ralph Terry, Jack Kralick, Gary Bell and rookie southpaw Jim Weaver.

Stange had an 8-4 record last season, with three of his victories over Baltimore, two by shutouts. Dicken, 22, hit 23 home runs and batted .259 with the Reading, Pa., farm club last year.

Schedule on Wages Okayed For Teachers

Administrative Classes Extra Time Pay Covered

Schedule classifications for administrators, resource staff and extra pay for extra time for teachers was presented by the professional improvement committee and approved Monday by the Appleton Board of Education.

The first category, which involves department heads, junior high counselors, deans, vice principals and head teachers, is the only category where a flat rate of increase was changed to a variable rate of increase.

The classification includes a teacher contract year plus 10 half-days, which will be distributed at the beginning and end of the year, plus a 2.5 to 5 per cent salary differential on six steps.

Counselors, Principals

High school counselors and deans and junior high principals (certified) fall in the second classification. Stipulations include a teacher contract year plus 10 days and a salary differential from 5 to 10 per cent on six steps.

Third category includes supervisors (city-wide) of music, physical education, art, language arts and library who will be contracted for a year plus 15 days with a salary differential of 10 to 15 per cent on six steps.

Elementary principals and vocational coordinators are covered in the fourth category. Stipulations include a teacher contract year plus 25 days and a salary differential of 15 to 20 per cent on six steps.

Category Five

Category five includes junior high principals, director of the child service center, director of special education and senior high vice principal. All will be contracted for a year plus 35 days and have a salary differential of 25 to 30 per cent on six steps.

Sixth classification covers the senior high school principal who will be contracted for a year plus 45 days and have a salary differential of 40 to 45 per cent on six steps.

Administrative assistant to the superintendent and elementary and secondary directors of instruction are covered in the seventh step. It includes a teacher contract year plus 50 days and a salary differential of 45 to 50 per cent on six steps.

Extra Pay, Duties

The committee, headed by Charles Buchanan, also presented changes in the list of extra pay for extra time for teachers for the 1966-67 school year.

On the elementary level, intramural men and women teachers as well as noon lunch hour supervisers will receive $2.50 per hour for extra time.

Junior high teachers supervising lunch hours and in charge of printing also will receive $2.50 per hour of extra time.

All other teachers are involved in senior high activities.

The dramatic coach will receive an extra $400; his assistant, $200, and the stage manager $400. This is an increase of $50 from last school year.

In forensics, the teacher in charge of debate will receive an extra $200, an increase of $100; declamatory, $150; oratory, $150, and extemporaneous speaking, $150, an increase of $50 in the latter three categories.

Publications personnel have the following increases: Clarion, $400 extra in place of free time; Clarion business staff, $150, an increase of $50; Talisman school paper, $400 in place of free time; business staff, $150, an increase of $50; editorial assistant, $200, an increase of $100; "Patterns of Star Dust" publication, $150 increase of $50; publicity, $200 — increase of $100.

Music department personnel will have the following increases: band, $200, up $50; chorus, $100 and orchestra, $100, both up $25.

Printing personnel will receive $300 extra; visual aids, $250; locker manager, $200; cafeteria supervision and cashier, $2.50 per hour for extra time.

Miller to Buy General Brewing California Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—General Brewing Corp. directors voted to sell their plant at Azusa, Calif., to the Miller Brewing Co. for $8 million.

The sale is subject to approval by General's stockholders and is contingent upon clearance by the Department of Justice. General and Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co. are co-defendants in an anti-trust suit.

General brews Lucky Lager, Labatt's and Fisher beers.

Both Miller and Schlitz are Milwaukee firms.

Jess Nicks, General Brewing president, said his firm's breweries in San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Vancouver, Wash., have the capacity to meet present and anticipated demands.

Permanent School Milk Program Asked By Minnesota Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation which would make permanent the school milk program was proposed today by Rep. Ancher Nelsen, R-Minn.

The bill would also provide funds to carry out the program, starting with an appropriation of $110 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a House speech, Nelsen criticized the Administration's proposed curtailment of the school milk and lunch programs.

"Such cutbacks," he said, "should not be condoned as a necessity because of the war in Viet Nam when all the money supposedly saved is simply being spent on other more questionable domestic programs.

Appleton Teacher Attends Parley on Home Economics

Mrs. Ronald Goolsbey of the home arts department at Appleton High School who was recently appointed to the state curriculum committee for wage-earning home economics, attended the first meeting of the committee this week in Madison.

Sample curricula plans and a survey of new and developing ideas in the wage-earning home economics area were presented and the highlights and implications of the Vocational Education Act of 1963 were given. Also discussed was the development of high school programs and future activities on the state, regional and local levels.

Committee members include department heads, deans, and curriculum coordinators from state high schools, vocational schools, colleges and universities.

Hearing Set On Salt Price Fixing Charge

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn (AP) — Another pre-trial hearing is set for March 4 in U.S. District Court here on the suits of seven states and several cities and counties seeking civil damages from four major U.S. salt producers.

Defendants are the Morton Salt Co., Chicago; International Salt Co., Clarks Summit, Pa.; Diamond Crystal Salt Co., St. Clair, Mich., and Carey Salt Co., Hutchinson, Kan.

Named as co-conspirators in many of the suits are Cargill, Inc., Minneapolis; Culter-Magner Co., Duluth, Minn.; American Salt Co., Olathe, Kan.; Barton Salt Co., Hutchinson, Kan.; and Hardy Salt Co., St. Louis, Mo.

The federal government presented an anti-trust suit against the four defendants in 1961 and 1962, charging conspiracy to fix the price of rock salt. Carey entered a no contest plea and was fined $10,000. Morton, International and Diamond Crystal were acquitted by a federal court jury.

Twin Lakes Council Top State Recruiter

WEYAUWEGA — The Twin Lakes Council, Boy Scouts of America, led all Wisconsin councils in the 1965 breakthrough program to reach more boys, Herman Brandmiller, regional district deputy, reported Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the Twin Lakes Council executive committee at Hotel Weyauwega.

Brandmiller, who served as Valley Council executive with headquarters in Appleton several years after World War II, said Twin Lakes Council showed a 67 per cent growth in 1965, ranking 13th in the region and tops in the state.

"Twin Lakes Council rates real high regionally and nationally," Brandmiller reported. In Boys Life subscriptions, the national scouting magazine, the council ranks fourth in the region, it was ninth regionally in camping with 78.8 per cent of the troops participating and more than 50 per cent of the boys taking part. In addition, the council finished 1965 "in the black," the executive commented.

Marvin Mather, chairman, reported that the Sharapac District Klondike Derby will be Sunday at the Twin Lakes camp near Waupaca, weather and snow conditions permitting. Waupaca, King, Weyauwega, Fremont, Iola, Manawa, Wild Rose, Wautoma, Plainfield, Coloma, Hancock and Scandinavia are in the Sharapac District of the Twin Lakes Council.

Charles Johnson, Twin Lakes District staff member who had charge of activities in the Mascoutin and Sharapac Districts, has accepted a new scouting post at Muskegon, Mich. A search is underway for a replacement as well as for an additional staff member for the Oshkosh district, A. M. (Duffy) Meyer, Oshkosh, president of Twin Lakes Council, reported.

Omar Runyan, Oshkosh, council executive, reported Oshkosh will be the site of one of five regional seminars March 5. The course will include finance, organization and extension and new scoutmaster training course. The staff will be formed of National Council Headliners and local council training experts.

Oshkosh-Owned Dog Winner In Westminster Hound Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Ch. Zeley Mooremaides Magic, a wire-haired Fox Terrier owned by Marion G. Benker of Pebble Beach, Calif., became the first of her breed to go to the top in two decades Tuesday night when she took Best-In-Show at the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show.

Magic, with Jimmy Butler on the other end of the lead, is an english import and came to the United States three years ago. She has been trying to score ever since.

James A. Farrell, Jr., of Darien, Conn., the judge, required just 13 minutes to make his decision before a Madison Square Garden crowd of about 11,000.

The other five finalists aligned against Magic, who won the terrier group, included:

Ch. Round Table Cognac, a miniature poodle, sent in by the Round Table Kennels of Middletown, Del., the non-sporting victor.

Ch. Aennchens Poona Dancer, a Maltese, belonging to F. E. Oberstar and L. G. Ward of Euclid, Ohio., the Toy champion.

Ch Fezziwig Raggedy Andy, an old English sheepdog, entered by Mr. and Mrs. Hendrik Van Rensselaer of Basking Ridge, N.J., the working winner.

Ch. Blaneywood Country Squire, an Irish setter, owned by Marion T. Darling of San Jose, Calif., the sporting victor.

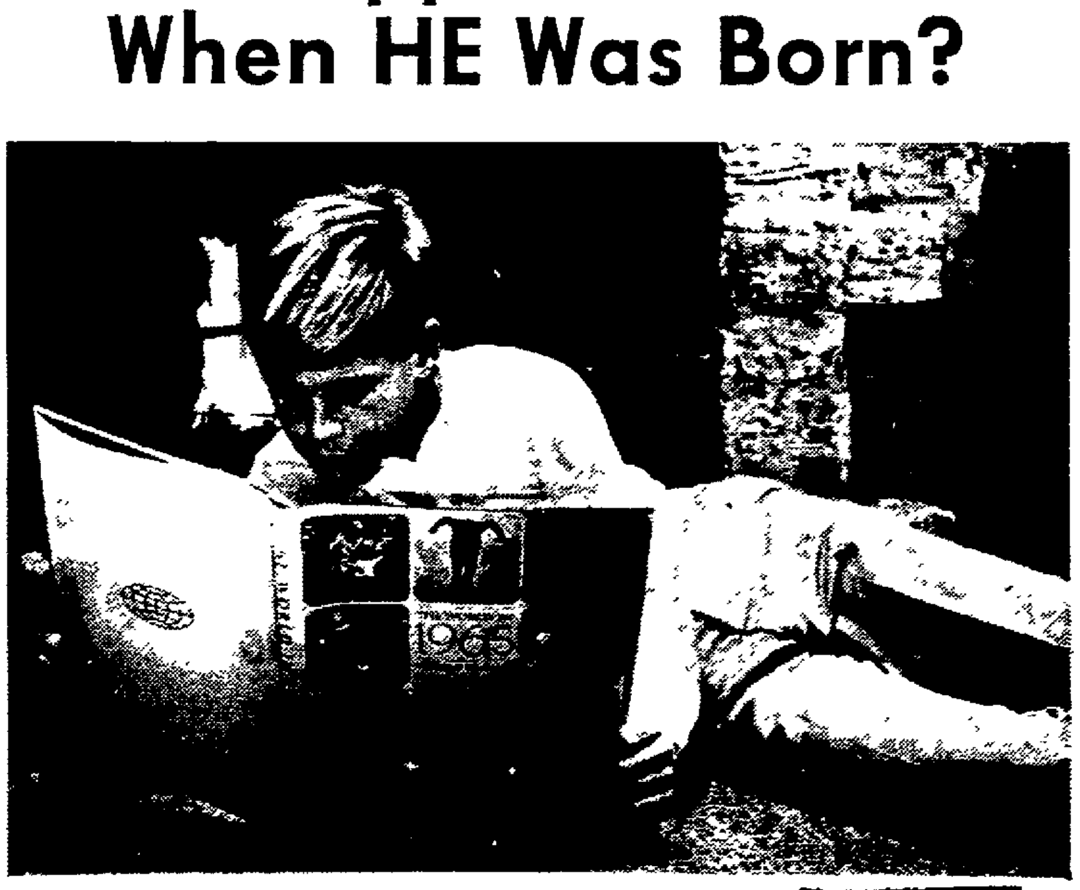
SUNDAY POST-CRESCENT

What Happened the Year When HE Was Born?



Ever wonder just what happened in the year when you were born?

Nearly everyone does, at one time or another. And, depend upon it, the 1965 babies that you know—whether your own or those of friends or relatives—will one day ponder the same question.

For them, what more thoughtful gesture than to order now a copy of THE WORLD IN 1965. This handsome, 288-page volume captures forever in exciting news pictures and memorable prose the drama and drive of a great year in modern history.

The 1964 issue of this important series also is still available. Both were prepared for this and other newspaper members by The Associated Press, the world's foremost news service.

WANT AD INFORMATION

CLOSING TIME

Want ads accepted to 4:00 p.m. the day before day of publication. For Monday—Include noon Saturday. For Sunday—Before 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

CORRECTIONS OR CANCELLATIONS

Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 8:30 a.m. for the same day publication. For Sundays—Before 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

IMPORTANT

Composition costs will be charged, if an ordered ad is cancelled before publication.

After an ad is ordered, it cannot be changed before one publication.

When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claim is recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days ad is published determines the rate of such ads.

ADJUSTMENTS

The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates.

All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad. Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which make the advertisement less valuable, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

NOTICE

The Post-Crescent is exercising all precautions to avoid publishing any fraudulent or misleading advertising. However, if any ad appearing in the classified columns of the Post-Crescent can be proven fraudulent or misleading, we would appreciate your informing us immediately.

Reform State Bonding

As our state capital correspondent has observed, there is something mildly startling about a public declaration by the Public Expenditure Survey, the agent of the usually cautious taxpayer associations of Wisconsin, in favor of a constitutional amendment to legalize the issuance of state bonds that are now literally prohibited under the state constitution.

The Survey has concluded that an inevitable alternative to the acceptance of legalized borrowing will be a continuation and expansion of the so-called "dummy corporations" for the circumvention of the constitution, and the accumulation of an ever larger de facto debt without the controls that a democratic order requires, and more important, without a declared limit on the total.

Says the Survey, endorsing a viewpoint that has been offered repeatedly in these columns during the recent years of vast enlargement of the dummy corporation device

"The constitution should be amended to permit full faith and credit state debt for capital outlay purposes, subject to certain restrictions and controls."

We would endorse also, and without hesitation, the reasonable and sensible controls the public affairs study agency suggests including

1 An annual maximum and an aggregate limit, both to be based on percentages of gross equalized valuations of the state.

2. If considered necessary and feasible, such general obligation borrowing for other than building construction purposes, including highway construction and recreation land purchases, could be authorized also, with the percentage limits governed by the range of borrowing thought to be needed.

3 All bond issues recommended should be authorized only by the legislature in a direct vote of a majority of the members elected to each house.

4 Obligations of all existing corporations, extra-legally contracted over a period of many years, should be included in the new aggregate debt limit to be written into the constitution and no new corporations for any other purposes should be created.

There is suggested here the growing public concern and understanding of the unfortunate, if necessary, evasion of the constitutional law, even as the legislature sensed that public concern some months ago when members of the assembly with only a handful of dissenting votes approved precisely such an amendment. The next step will come in the state senate, which should not hesitate to concur in the measure when it returns in May.

Given the evidence of increasing public understanding, there is a fair to good chance that the 1967 legislature will approve the measure again, and submit it successfully for popular ratification. In any event, we owe it to ourselves and posterity to try to devise the best and most efficient method of managing our state debt, if debt we must have.

Wisconsin Report

Cabinet Government Has Backers but Will Electorate Go Along?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The idea of a cabinet form of government for the state is evidently gathering interest and support. It is easy to exaggerate the importance of the proposals for change that come with the ebb and flow of debate in state politics. Fundamental characteristics of public institutions are changed slowly and only with great difficulty

Wyngaard

Yet there is reason to believe that there is a growing appreciation of the curious weakness of the executive office in the Wisconsin state government organization and that the revival of discussion about the so-called "cabinet" method is an example of that awareness.

The bipartisan Advisory Commission on State Government organization has received a plan from one of its working groups for a complete restructuring of state government administration, keyed to a limited number of functional departments headed by men who would be directly under the control of the elected governor and who would constitute his "cabinet".

Whether such a reshaping could be achieved through statutory legislation or would require an amendment of the state constitution has not yet been made clear. Presumably the authors would prefer the former, if only because it is easier to achieve. It is clear that they are looking upon the national government cabinet as a model, at least in general terms.

CANDIDATES LIKE IT

At least one of the Democratic candidates for the governorship in the election this year has already indicated his approval of the idea. In point of fact, some such reorganization of the top command of the state government administration has been a general objective of the Democratic Party's Wisconsin thinkers for several years. Govs. Nelson and Reynolds favored such notions, bnt they worked in such tight political harness that they never had a suitable opportunity to advance the idea, as they saw it.

It may be presumed that other gubernatorial aspirants will like the idea of a streamlining of the top administrative structure, with more power and initiative reposed in the elected executive office. No man who has a serious desire to perform as governor really likes the present system, once he understands it and its curious inhibition of the supposed mandate and responsibility drawn from his election to the office.

It is pertinent also that the discussion of strengthening the role of the governor comes at a time when there is an obviously increasing support for the idea of lengthening the term of the executive. Legislative reaction in this term has shown convincingly that a longer gubernatorial term is now in sight. If that extension of tenure is accompanied by an extension of the governor's powers and rights, it will be one of the most significant advances in state affairs in this century, at the least.

Yet it may be also that the essentially cautious and conservative temper of the electorate with respect to the powers of the governor will be shown in this instance, precisely because the two propositions coincide.

Much will probably depend upon the public assessment of the capacity of the man, or the men, likely to serve in the governor's office during the next couple of years and on their own ability to explain and defend the concept of power corresponding to the political responsibility of the office.

As matters now stand, the whole fabric of state law governing state administration has the effect of circumscribing and limiting the authority of the governor, almost as if the founding fathers, and their successors over more than a century, feared real executive power and initiative. The extension of the civil service to all except the highest positions, the staggering of administrative appointments to permit many chief officials to serve without regard to the governor's desires or purposes, the requirements for confirmation by the State Senate of most gubernatorial nominations, and most of all, the infinite division of administrative powers into independent agencies, boards and commissions, renders any governor's authority more nominal than real.

Dilemma in Russia

The changes that have come about in the Soviet Union since the death of Stalin have been emphasized lately by comments and actions of what may be a considerable body of artists and writers. The conflict for the Russian government is intense.

Two Soviet writers have been on trial in Moscow on charges that they wrote anti-Communist material, smuggled it out of Russia and had it published. This appears contrary to Article 70 of the Russian Republic's criminal code which prohibits "agitation or propaganda for the purpose of undermining and weakening Soviet power" and "the dissemination with the same intent of slanderous material besmirching the Soviet state and social system." But while Tass reports from the trial, to which all foreign newsmen were barred, that both writers acknowledged they did the writing, and were convicted, both also pleaded not guilty to violating the criminal code. It has not been usual for Russian courts to bring people to trial in cases involving criticism of Communism or the government unless they have been persuaded one way or another to plead guilty and ask forgiveness for their sins.

Meanwhile another critical writer, Valery Tarsis, was permitted to leave Russia and held a news conference in London to expound his views about Communism. "While I am now in this wonderful free city of London, Sinyasky and Daniel are in jail in Moscow," Tarsis told the conference. "They belong to the same camp as I belong. They struggle against the common enemy." Communism was merely "police-fascism," Tarsis said. After one of his anti-Communist books was published, he was committed to a mental institution and promptly wrote another book in which the characters are so committed for purely political reasons. But Tarsis plans to return to Russia and claims he was allowed to leave perhaps because "they hoped that I would not go back to the Soviet Union and then could be pronounced a traitor." Tarsis does not fear for the safety of his daughter and her child in Russia. "It used to happen in Stalin's time but not any more that relatives were punished"

Then there is a group called Smog, initials for the Russian words for audacity, thought, image and intensity, reportedly made up of rebellious young artists and poets. In an article sent to a British literary journal, the group asked for help. "Today we are fighting desperately against everyone from the young Communist league to the man of the street, from secret police to petty bourgeois, from incompetence to ignorance—everything is against us. We turn to the free world which has more than once shown its concern for culture in Russia. Give us help. Don't allow young saplings to be crushed underfoot by heavy boots"

The unrest—and the failure thus far of the Soviet government really to crush it underfoot—brings to mind the famous statement that a woman cannot be half chaste. Can a totalitarian government be only partly totalitarian—and survive?

Blanks Are Banned

As usually happens with a government which denies basic rights, the pressure grows in Rhodesia to deny more of them allegedly to protect itself And leaders of such a government fail to have any sense of humour.

When Rhodesia declared itself independent of England last fall, censorship on all publications was ordered Most newspapers began carrying little articles on their front pages announcing that they were under such censorship. Now any such an announcement has been prohibited

But of even more interest is the government's new ban on "white spaces" in publications. Until now newspapers which were censored and had to delete certain words simply left the space empty. It has become quite a game for readers to try to determine what words had been censored. One issue of the Central African Examiner, a liberal monthly magazine, was advertised as a "do it yourself" issue. Prizes were offered to readers who most accurately filled in the absent words. Other newspapers have carried nothing except white space in their editorial columns of opinion. But the government apparently cannot tolerate this sort of passive resistance or what might be called noncriticism.

The government has insisted that its right of censorship will not be used to hide failings but only to restrict the printing of anything that questions its legality to rule. But such self-discipline is simply not the way of government officials. And who is to prove otherwise?

Taylor Writes

President's Impetuosity in His Personal Diplomacy Causes Worry

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Whatever is pressing, pressing, pressing on President Johnson—I don't know what—is clearly pressing on his impetuosity. Only the President himself can save us from the results but the effect is throwing his world image, and America's into a shambles.

Taylor

The sudden midnight improvisation of the global "peace offensive" with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, totally uninformed, and the similar burst out to Honolulu are part of a pattern that seems to be accelerating.

So now the world sees a surprised Hubert Humphrey sent winging again to the Far East from which he just returned, reporting from there like a shipwrecked sailor sending his last message in a bottle

Impetuousness was known as bad diplomacy long before Talleyrand made the fault famous. And what foreign powers see of this from the outside, Washington sees on the inside of our government as well

ENJOYS HIS SURPRISES

Mr. Johnson is admittedly a complex man and not one word in this review is intended to be unfriendly, for the peculiarities we all have are natural and human. But the odd thing here is the supersecretive strain in Mr. Johnson and the way he enjoys—greatly enjoys—suddenly surprising his closest colleagues, his confidants, our public and the world

The President often remarks about his "sixth sense" hunches and has a distaste for predictability that borders on abhorrence. Again and again the sudden "sixth sense" shifts leave his chief advisers and supporters bobbing like a puppet's head on a broken string.

When Mr. Johnson entered the White House a Senate intimate told me he'd never known a man so strangely interesting in springing surprises or in keeping others in suspense

Mr Johnson's Senate friend reminded me of this during LBJ's days and days of literally toying with Hubert Humphrey and others in announcing Mr Humphrey as his vice presidential choice at Atlantic City And many another appointment charade documents the President's performances

These are the froth on the cake and may be fun. The central core, however, from which his ingrown supersecrecy and the yearning to surprise seems to burst, is extremely dangerous. Moreover, criticism of any sort reportedly angers LBJ. So does public nudging.

Some of the same elements accounted for the tragedy of Woodrow Wilson, likewise a complicated man in his very different way.

The great Virginian, also supersecretive, was also an exceedingly willful man. In truth, it was he who was more "willful" than the Senators he called the "willful little band" when they opposed the League if Nations in the form he wanted it.

On March 19, 1920, U.S. entrance was voted down under the Lodge reservations. But 49 Senators were for them. Had only seven more Senators defied Mr. Wilson's willfulness—his refusal of any change whatever—the required two-thirds vote would have been cast and the U.S. would have been in the League.

It is commonly agreed that Mr. Wilson took this result so personally that it shattered his health irreparably.

TONE TOO FAMILIAR

Today those Senators who question Mr. Johnson's Viet Nam policy may well be wrong, and this writer thinks they are, but Mr. Johnson's Honolulu castigation of them strikes a Wilsonian tone too familiar for comfort.

So does his nearly incredible personalizing of the war itself.

Among many others who testify to this a famous publisher recently found the President saying to him: "I'm the man who shoots those guns. I'm the man who sends out those planes. I'm the man who picks those targets. Mr. McNamara and I pick them personally, every one. And I often wake up at three o'clock in the morning to keep in touch." With another visitor Mr. Johnson pointed to a telephone installed for the first time in history on the underside of the President's place at the Cabinet table "I tell them what to do," he stated.

There was no braggadocio in this. But, as with Mr. Wilson, the emotionalized personal involvement was clear. So was the contraction of the entire government into a single authority in the minds of both Presidents.

Previous experience in life provides no real guidelines for the Presidency, but Woodrow Wilson showed a few that Mr. Johnson should not follow.

Here's Example How We Misread History

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A little joke I read in a magazine not long ago went: "The man whose great-grandfather built a railroad through the wilderness with nobody's OK now has to get a permit to remodel his front porch."

Harris

This is a part of the American myth, and it is surprising how many contemporary Americans still believe it. The fact of the matter is that great-grandfather not only needed permission to build the railroad, but he also was subsidized by the federal government for doing so

We look upon our western settlers and pioneers as the prototypes of the free enterprise system, as hardy competitive types who struck out boldly for themselves, but this is a gross misreading of American history.

Actually, the competition was in the East, in the growing towns and the burgeoning industrial activity of the early 19th Century. Many, if not most, of the men who went westward were not able to compete in that vigorous society.

They were offered free land and other inducements by the government. The granting of rights-of-way to railroads, the homestead act, the newly-created land grant colleges—all these were designed to provide an economic cushion as an inducement to get more settlers into the West.

This is not to disparge the admirable traits of some of these settlers, who were courageous, resourceful and hard-working. But it is to suggest that they were fleeing competition rather than seeking it, and usually with government promises of assistance and protection against loss.

The pioneers, assuredly, faced hardships—but these were hardships they chose in preference to other hardships. They opted for space and seclusion and withdrawal from the market place, and accepted whatever government help they could get to withstand the adversities and anarchy of life in raw communities.

Indeed, many of them were looking for "security" of a sort they could not find in the Eastern towns they emigrated from. In the hurly-burly of young industrial capitalism, they had only rustic skills that were not adapted to the urban and technical needs of the growing nation. Their westward migration was motivated as much by nostalgia as by the need for independence.

Certainly there were virtues in the pioneer attitude, some of which have diminished or disappeared today But it is foolish to perpetuate the mythology that those men were rugged individualists seeking new lands to conquer, when in fact they were the foremost beneficiaries of government aid.

Agencies Can't Do Things Themselves

Don't make a decision yourself. Hire a consulting firm. That is the unspoken, unwritten but seemingly universal policy followed by the numerous governments and agencies which in this complex era (it is they who are making it complex) have their fingers rooted firmly in the taxpayers' pocket.—Haywood (Calif.) Woolen Factory Has New Owners

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Feb 22, 1865.

We learn that Capt G W Spaulding has sold the Woolen Factory to J W Hutchinson of this City and Andrew J. Smith of Canada

The new proprietors will take possession on the 1st of April and we understand it is their intention to increase the machinery so as to more than double the present manufacturing capacity

The Appleton Woolen Factory under the past management of Spaulding & Hutchinson has earned a wide reputation for the superiority of their cloths and flannels, and we have no doubt the new owners, with increased facilities, will not only sustain, but improve, if possible, the reputation now possessed

Mr. Hutchinson is well known in this vicinity and State, and is an honorable and enterprising gentleman, with great experience in the woolen manufacturing business

Mr Smith is a stranger to us, and we learn brother to David Smith, Banker in this City.

25 YEARS AGO

Wednesday, Feb. 12, 1941.

While Hitler moved 25 new divisions of 400,000 men into Rumania, Britain was concentrating its raids on nazi-held Holland, Denmark and Norway as well as northwestern Germany

17 Workers Killed By Gas at Swiss Generator Project

Italians Begin Investigation; Origin of Fumes Not Known

LOCARNO, Switzerland (AP) — Seventeen workmen were suffocated Tuesday night by a cloud of poisonous gas at a remote Swiss mountain power station.

Fifteen of the workmen were Italian. An Italian investigation commission arrived today, and details of the inquiry were withheld until its completion.

Police said the dense cloud of yellow gas swept through a tunnel north of Locarno, where a power station has been under construction for several years, shortly before 15 Italian workers were to end the evening shift.

Feeds Lake

The tragedy occurred in a tunnel at the Robiei hydroelectric station being built in a barren, uninhabited mountain area north of this scenic resort in central Switzerland. The tunnel was one of several waterways built to feed the station's artificial lake.

Police said the gas spread from the southern part of the tunnel after three workers opened a ventilation shaft that had been closed for the winter.

Except for the small crew working in the tunnel's northern part, only a handful of engineers and workers was at the station site.

Full construction work was to be resumed in the next few weeks with the return of seasonal workers from Italy who make up part of Switzerland's labor force but spend the winter months at home.

Wore Gas Masks

Police said the three men who opened the ventilation shaft—two Swiss fire guards and an Italian foreman—were equipped with gas masks when they set out through the tunnel more than four miles long.

A small crew of workers found them dead hours later, a few hundred yards from the shaft. Two were lying on the ground and the third was leaning against the rock. All three were without gas masks.

The other 14 Italian workers apparently suffocated when an air current drove the gas through the tunnel.

The tunnel runs under Basodino Mountain where the power station is being built. It links the two small Alpine valleys of Di Maggio and Bedretto.

The power station is in a remote area south of the Saint Gothard Mountain group in central Switzerland. The entire area is deep in snow and almost inaccessible at this time of year.

1,000 Jobs to Be Provided at Baraboo Plant

Ordnance Works Will Also Produce Rocket Propellant

BARABOO (AP)— A decision to manufacture rocket propellant material as well as gunpower at the reactivated Badger Ordnance Works will boost employment by the end of the year to nearly 1,000, but officials already have three times that many job applicants.

The Defense Department granted a $7.3 million contract Tuesday for the ordnance works. The contract was $5.5 million more than originally expected, said John Troyor, superintendent of the federal plant.

Troyor said the contract would result in an increase in employment to about 950 persons by the end of the year instead of the anticipated 340 announced earlier.

3,000 Apply

He said, however, 3,000 persons had already applied for the original 340 jobs. Many of the applicants have previous experience at the sprawling ordnance plant, Troyor said.

The plant, used in World War II and the Korean War, had been closed in recent year. Defense officials decided in December to reopen it because of a threatened shortage of ammunition for troops in Viet Nam.

The threat was due in part to a strike at an East Alton, Ill., plant of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., which also operates the Baraboo works.

Senate Starts Debate Over Viet Nam Funds

Nearly 30 Solons Announce They Wish To Discuss Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate plunges into fresh argument today over Viet Nam with days of crackling debate in prospect before its expected overwhelming passage of a military supply bill.

Nearly 30 senators have notified the leadership they want an opportunity to discuss President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies before they vote on a $4.8-billion authorization measure. It covers part of the $12.3-billion emergency money request for Viet Nam outlays.

Acting Democratic Leader Russell B. Long of Louisiana declined a request by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, to delay consideration of the bill until next week.

"Frankly," he said, "the funds to support our men who are fighting in Viet Nam are a critical matter and I very much doubt the wisdom of further delay."

Morse, in a telegram Tuesday to Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, recuperating in Florida from a respiratory illness, said that debate should be delayed until after the appearance of administration witnesses be-

Series E, H Rates Will Be Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today an increase of slightly more than one-fourth of 1 per cent in the interest rate on Series E and H U.S. savings bonds.

Johnson said the new rate, which will apply both to bonds already outstanding and new issues, will be 4.15 per cent. The present rate is 3.75 per cent.

The President could have raised the rate as high as 4.25 per cent without additional congressional action.

The increase is intended not only to make savings bonds a more attractive investment but by stimulating bond sales — as the administration hopes it will —to help avert inflation.

In announcing the increase, Johnson said the savings bond program strengthens the security of the American family and the economy of the nation, supports the cause of freedom and U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam, and helps preserve the buying powers of our dollars.

The last increase was in 1959 when the rate was boosted to its present level from 3.52 per cent.

Johnson said a month ago that the rates should be increased because alternative investments made savings bonds less attractive to the public. Most banks pay at least 4 per cent on savings accounts and some savings and loan associations pay close to 5 per cent.

The new interest rate will apply to all the presently outstanding $49 billion in savings bonds as well as to new issues.

This means that persons already holding bonds need not cash them and buy new issues to benefit from the increased interest rate.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler quoted Johnson last month as saying that the prime reason for maintaining savings bond sales is to help meet the cost of the Viet Nam war. The secretary also said at that time that the savings bond progran could prove one of the nation's most valuable weapons in averting inflation.

Savings bonds yielded 2.9 per cent interest in 1941. The rate was increased to 3 per cent in 1952 and to 3.52 per cent in 1957.

Series E and H bonds differ appreciably as far as the holder is concerned.

A $25 Series E bond, for example, sells for $18.75 and the holder receives his original purchase price plus any interest at the time he cashes the bond. If held to maturity, the bond is worth $25.

The purchaser pays face value for a Series H bond and the government sends him dividend checks every six months.

Allies Harass Viet Cong In Ground and Air Actions

Report U. S., Vietnamese Losses Reached 340 During Last Week

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Allied troops and air power gave the Viet Cong no rest today, but except for disengagement skirmishes the insurgents showed little inclination to defend any territory.

U.S. forces reported 66 more Viet Cong killed in two actions. American losses, if any, were not reported.

But U.S. and Vietnamese military spokesmen announced that enemy fire killed 340 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops last week, while the Allied forces killed 684 Viet Cong and captured 64. The enemy losses were less than half those the Communists suffered the week before, when 1,541 Viet Cong were reported killed and 245 captured.

With good weather over North Viet Nam for a change, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes stepped up the attack there and went for roads, railways, storage areas and warehouses in the Vinh area and around Dien Bien Phu.

19 Targets Hit

The Air Force reported 19 targets hit, including a road complex 85 miles west of Hanoi. Navy pilots said they dropped bombs on the Dong Ngam shipyard 12 miles north of Vinh and the Loc Diem highway bridge 25 miles northwest of Dong Hoi, and cratered approaches to six other bridges.

The Strategic Air Force's big B52s from Guam bombed jungled Viet Cong hideouts in western Tay Ninh Province for the second straight day. A spokesman said the three target areas included a major Communist command center which had also been hit on Tuesday, but damage had not been assessed.

U.S. 1st Cavalry Division units in Operation White Wing 300 miles north of Saigon recorded another 61 dead Viet Cong in a fight Tuesday following an airborne assault 12 miles southwest of Bong Son.

Block Escape

Helicopters roared in with troops of the division's 2nd Brigade to squeeze off an enemy unit trying to escape pressure from the adjacent 3rd Brigade. When the Viet Cong finally broke off, they left behind 61 bodies and 11 weapons.

1st Cavalry patrols found a major headquarters complex which apparently had been used as a communications center. They captured 14 radios, some of U.S. manufacture and some Chinese, 7 field telephones and several hundred spare parts.

Supporting planes sighted the Viet Cong laying an ambush, hit them with rockets and called in artillery. Four of the Red squad were killed and seven captured.

The 1st Brigade of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division moved into a mountainous area about 13 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa on the coast and uncovered a cache of 10,000 rounds of ammunition. One patrol killed one Viet Cong and captured two more. The paratroopers are taking part in Operation Van Buren, which has rescued more than half the rice crop in an area where the Viet Cong used to collect it.

Search Operation

Council Seeks Bombing End

World Church Group Calls for Accord With Vatican

GENEVA (AP) — The World Council of Churches urged the United States today to stop bombing North Viet Nam to help bring peace to Southeast Asia.

The organization of 214 Protestant, Orthodox, Anglican and Old Catholic churches also appealed to North Viet Nam to halt its infiltration of the South.

A 10-point appeal urged a wide range of measures including admission of Communist China to the United Nations and the inclusion of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in any South Viet Nam negotiations.

The appeal particularly stressed "the futility" of military effort in Viet Nam.

The World Council said it is hopeful for joint action for peace in Viet Nam with Roman Catholic authorities and the Vatican.

It called on the United States to modify its policy of containment of communism and appealed to the Communist nations to stop supporting revolutionary movements.

The council's resolution, highlighting a 10-day meeting in its world headquarters here, underlined concern about the turn of events in Viet Nam.

Johnson Will Talk in Atlanta

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will fly to Atlantic City tonight to speak at the annual session of the American Association of School Administrators.

The White House said he is expected to speak some time between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m., then return to Washington.

Association officials had said previously Johnson would be in Atlantic City to receive the American Education Award given annually by that organization and the Associated Exhibitors.

Youth Fair Cancelled For Financial Need

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Exposition Board canceled its proposed first annual Youth Fair today. The event had been scheduled for April 9-17 at State Fair Park.

Acting Fair Administrator Vernon G. Wendland said the board acted because of a "lack of interest at this time of those who are needed to meet the financial requirements."

Pakistan to Get Loan

Humphrey Arrives For Indian Meeting

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey today offered Indian farmers American know-how to banish hunger, then flew here to discuss with Indian leaders Red China's expansionist pressure and other problems.

Humphrey reached the capital after an hour spent at Ludhiana in the Punjab—Indian's bread basket — talking farming with a Peace Corps volunteer, the Indian birth control program with a family planning expert, and wheat culture with Indian farm researchers.

This was the fifth country on a 40,000 miles, nine-county tour that began in South Viet Nam and will end next week in South Korea.

In his formal arrival statement Humphrey listed several purposes behind his mission. He said one was "to explore questions in regard to China's expansionist pressure.

Chinese Woe

Twice in the past 3½ years India has suffered serious Red Chinese incursions.

Humphrey said he will meet later with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

This morning before leaving Pakistan, where President Mohammed Ayub Khan is under fire for joining in the Tashkent declaration to ease the Kasmir crisis, Humphrey twice patted Ayub Khan on the back publicly.

Knowing this, Humphrey put the weight of the U.S. government behind the Tashkent agreement, as he did in Pakistan.

"I can assure you that President Johnson is deeply interested in the peace and prosperity of the subcontinent," Humphrey said.

Offers Know-How

During an impromptu speech in Ludhiana, Humphrey offered the agricultural know-how which he said could make India as successful a food producer as the United States.

At an experimental goat farm, Humphrey met Peace Corps volunteer Jane Williams of Delta, Colo. She conducted him around the farm.

Humphrey will confer Thursday with India's ministers of food, finance and planning. They will discuss India's economic ills with special reference to the acute food shortage. Later the vice president was to talk with Foreign Minister Swaran Singh and then confer with Prime Minister Gandhi.

Pakistan Loan

Humphrey announced the $50-million loan to Pakistan Tuesday night. The amount disappointed Pakistanis who had expected Humphrey to announce resumption of general economic and military aid to their country. It had amounted to about $350 million a year.

Humphrey also announced that the U.S. and Pakistani governments have agreed to negotiate an interim agreement for food and wheat shipments to Pakistan, which like India is suffering food shortages due to the drought.

Arson Accused In Milwaukee Apartment Fires

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fifty persons were evacuated Tuesday night after 11 separate fires were discovered in three adjacent apartment buildings.

"It's definitely arson, and arson of the worst kind, when they do it in an apartment building where people are involved," said Deputy Fire Chief Herbert J. Gurn

None of the occupants was hurt. Two firemen, Lt. Steve Kryscio, 55, and Gerald Skora, 32, were hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation.

Eight fires were set in basements of two of the apartment buildings. The others were touched off in stairways of the third building. Total damage was estimated at $5,300.

Police were questioning three juveniles taken into custody in the area.

State Legislative Council Recommends New Election Laws

MADISON (AP) — A legislative council committee recommended Tuesday that Wisconsin's election laws be scrapped in favor of a new statute.

After the 10-4 vote, the council's Election Laws Revision Committee launched discussion of the proposed new legislation.

Louis Hanson of Mellen, state Democratic chairman and a committee member, offered the motion to recommend to the 1967 Legislature that new laws be written. It received bipartisan support.

Man Who Shot Detroit Rabbi Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Richard Wishnetsky, 23, who shot the rabbi of his congregation before turning a pistol on himself, died of his wound today.

Wishnetsky, brilliant honors student and one-time mental patient, shot himself in the head Saturday after twice shooting Rabbi Morris Adler, 59, internationally known Jewish leader, as the rabbi conducted Sabbath services Saturday.

Rabbi Adler, in the intensive care unit of Sinai Hospital, remained in grave condition. Doctors who performed brain surgery on the rabbi for the second time Monday, said Tuesday they noted "a few small gains which suggest an improving trend."

Wishnetsky, a former Woodrow Wilson scholar at the University of Michigan before being committed to a Michigan mental institution, had been receiving counseling from Rabbi Adler.

Wishnetsky's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wishnetsky, remained by the young man's bedside until his death.

U. S. Arms Help Israel, U.A.R. Defense Needs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has sold arms to both Israel and the Arab nations to help them meet "legitimate defense needs," the State Department said in a policy statement made public today.

"United States military sales have been on a selective basis and in support of our objectives of maintaining friendly relations with all the states of the area while seeking to advance peace, progress and stability," the department said.

Holy Superman!

Library of Congress Collects Comic Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Batman, Superman and other heroes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Holy Thesis!

They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the sedate library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

2,500 Titles

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

Unlike magazines, there are no bound volumes available, so the library has to take special care of the yellowing, cracking old comics. In addition their value is growing — a copy of the first comic in which Superman appeared sold last year for $100.

May Microfilm

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said.

The oldest comic book listed in the library's files is a January 1936 edition of Detective Comics. Although earlier comic books had reprinted newspaper funnies, Detective Comics became the first one with original material when it was first issued in 1937.

A year later, Action Comics came along and gave birth to Superman, followed by Batman who started in Detective Comics but got his own book in 1940.

Cold Weather Coming to Valley

Weyauwega Must Serve Gull Residence

PSC Order Ends Tiff Over Utilities Outside of City

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—The City of Weyauwega water utility has been ordered by the Public Service Commission to offer water and sewer service to the residence of Jerome E. Gull adjacent to Clark Street but outside of the city limits.

The commission, in rendering the decision on a complaint filed by the couple Sept. 30, 1965, said that the city utility had an obligation at that time to render the service, and that the obligation had continued since.

The Gull residence is located in the Town of Weyauwega in Waupaca County. The division of the city and town is marked by the center of Clark Street. The city utility argued that as the residence is located in the town, no obligation existed on the part of the city to supply the requested service.

The commission in ordering the offering of such service pointed out that other residents of the Town of Weyauwega received similar services from the city.

New London Seeks Federal Help for Floodway Project

City Plans Rasmussen Canal Study

NEW LONDON — The city council Tuesday voted to seek federal assistance in conducting an engineering study on the Rasmussen Canal floodway south of State 54.

Ray Pelishek, public works director, said he had talked with U S. Corps of Army Engineers officials at Wausau last week in regard to possible assistance in the floodway project.

Pelishek said the federal government would have to receive a formal request before the Corps of Engineers could assist. The move to ask for federal assistance in the program came at Mayor Wilmer Schlafers' request

Flood Threat

Each spring the waters of the Embarrass River threaten to flood portions of the Fifth Ward. The Rasmussen Canal is planned to carry off these excessive waters before they begin to spill over the river banks and into the residential areas.

Much of the dredging has been completed on the floodway course, but a strip of land adjoining the Embarrass River and separating the completed portion of the floodway remains intact.

This strip of land is about six feet higher than the floodway course and keeps the Embar-

30-Apartment Development

Brillion Will File Application for Low-Rent Housing for the Elderly

BRILLION — The Brillion Housing Authority will file an application for a 30-unit housing development for elderly citizens, the group decided Monday.

The authority, headed by R. A. Kleiber, was set up in September after the city recognized a need for government subsidized low - r e n t apartments. Other members of the group are Michael Ariens, Robert Ambros i u s, Howard Leppla and Mel Koch.

According to Kleiber, P a u l Pratt and other members of the State Department of Resource and Development are preparing a comprehens i v e community plan and a "workable program for community improvement" as part of the project. This will certify Brillion as a city that needs this type of housing, Kleiber said.

Pact With City

The authority has a co-operative agreement with the city to proceed with its application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal Department of Housing and Urban Developm e n t for funds, according to a second resolution adopted Monday.

This is necessary because local governments exempt the project from taxation. T h e usits will make payments in lieu of taxes to the city and pay for a share of the cost of municipal services.

Wayman and Catlin Architects and Engineers, Chicago, were hired by the authority last month to apply for a program and loan to provide the housing

"We are very satisfied with progress on this proje c t," Kleiber said. "Other prerequisites will be met in the near future. No potential sites for the units have been discussed, but all members of our group have been asked to give serious thought to this phase."

Salary Increases Approved For Chilton School Teachers

Board Okays $300 Starting Pay Boost; Base Now $5,200 Per Year

CHILTON — A $300 increase in teachers' starting salaries was approved Monday by the board of education.

The new base pay will be $5,200 a year compared with $4,900 in the old salary schedule.

Maximum salary which may be earned with a bachelor's degree will increase $550, from $7,400 to a new high of $7,950, which may be obtained through a 15-step process.

The $300 head of the household payment will now be dropped from the schedule. Yearly increases, which run in three-year cycles, will be $175, $175 and $200. Previously the first and second steps were $150.

The increases of $200 given to those teachers with a bachelor's degree plus 12 graduate credits and $500 to teachers with master's degrees will remain unchanged.

Insurance Single Rate

The board agreed to continue to pay the single rate for hospital, surgical and major medical coverage and also decided to assume 60 per cent of the diference between the s i n g l e rate and the family plan cost for heads of households.

Prior to adoption of the new schedule, the teachers' welfare committee had negotiated with the boards' representative, Supt. A. W. Gordon. Chairman Richard Kleine represented the welfare committee at Monday's meeting.

Other welfare committee members are Norman P a u t z, John Augsburger, Duane Youngsteadt, Keith Budzein and Mark Voskuil.

Swimming Director D u a n e Youngsteadt told board members that 60 per cent of high school students could not swim at all when the Chilton swimming program began in 1964. Now only 3-4 per cent could still not swim well enough to save themselves in the Chilton pool.

Program Stabilized

He pointed out that 500 students had enrolled in swimming classes the first summer, and that number dropped to 375 in the second season. Terming the program "stabilized," he said he expected a summer instructional enrollment of 350 - 400 in the future.

Students in the Chilton public school receive swimming instruction from 4th grade through their senior year in high school.

Board members approved a changeover to data processing for student scheduling, c l a s s listing, report cards, honor rolls and class rank.

According to Gordon, data processing would provide rapid and versatile scheduling, m a k e current data available for records and decision making and save professional staff and clerical time.

Although a company has not been selected, cost had b e e n estimated by one representative at around $1.75 per student.

Ticket Prices

It was also decided to go along with an Eastern Wisconsin League resolution establishing uniform admission prices f o r basketball and football games at 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Chilton had previously charged 50 cents for adult admission and 30 cents for students.

A resolution was passed stating the boards intention to exercise on option to buy the Wilford Elliott property subject to the voters' approval. This action will be recommended to the electorate at the next district meeting. Cost of property had been set at $17,500.

The 1966-67 school calendar was accepted which includes 179 teaching days, five in-service training days, three legal holidays and three convention days.

In-Service Training

In-service training will run from Aug. 23-26 with the students reporting for classes on Aug. 29. A second in-service day will be Jan. 23 at the end of the first semester.

Vacations are Thanksgiving, Nov. 24-27; Christmas, Dec. 22-Jan. 2; and Easter, March 20-26. Classes will be dismissed for the year on June 2 with commencement scheduled for Sunday, June 4.

It was announced that the faculty and administration would begin working on the North Central re-evaluation. Chilton public school first received North Central accreditation in 1917.

Music Clinic Feb. 26 at I-S

5 Schools Enter; Stevens Point Men to Instruct

Iola-Scandinavia High School will hold its annual Music Clinic Feb. 26. Schools participating will be Wittenberg, Waupaca, Amherst, Manawa and Iola - Scandinavia.

Two Wisconsin State University-Stevens Point music teachers will be working with the groups. Tom Braewer will instruct the bands and David Dick will work with vocal groups. The event is a preparation for the spring music festivals.

Philip Beavers, I-S band director, has made arrangements for the clinic and has schools scheduled so that they will not spend the entire day at the event.

The schedule includes 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., Waupaca band, Amherst chorus; 9:40 to 10:40 a.m., Amherst band, Waupaca chorus; 10:50 to 11:50 a.m., Iola babdl Manawa chorus; noon to 1 p.m., Manawa band, Iola chorus; 1 to 2 p.m., free; 2 to 3 p.m., Wittenberg chorus and 3:10 to 4:10 p.m., Wittenberg band.

24-Year Search

300 Arrowheads, Old Gun Found at Manawa

BY MRS. LUCILLE HAHN
Post-Crescent Correspondent

MANAWA — About 24 years of searching has resulted in a collection of more than 300 Indian arrowheads and a single shot hexagon-swing-out barrel .22 caliber pistol, dated 1745.

The items belong to Jim Behnke, route 1, Manawa, who has mounted the arrowheads and gun on a four by five foot board.

The Indian relics have all been found on the farm owned and operated by Jim and his father, Louis Behnke, in the Town of Little Wolf.

Jim maintains the best time to look for the arrowheads is immediately after a rain. The pieces of flint have been washed clean and glisten so they are easier to spot.

The collector has estimated that he has spent approximately eight hours of walking in plowed fields for each legitimate arrowhead he has found.

It is believed that Menomonee Indians inhabited the area. There are mounds in a wooded area on the farm, believed to be Indian graves. Bones have been found in similar mounds on a neighboring farm

The farm has been owned by Louis Behnke since 1942.

Frito-Lay Pays $100 For Violating Zoning In Town of Dayton

WAUPACA — Frito-Lay, Inc., which operates several potato farms in the Waupaca area, was ordered to pay damages of $100 and costs Tuesday when an agent for the firm entered a plea of guilty to a charge of violating a Town of Dayton zoning ordinance.

Gerard Peskie, route 1, Amherst, appeared in Municipal Justice Court for the plea and to pay the fine.

Move Building

Charges were brought against the firm by E. W. Turney, Town of Dayton building inspector, who claimed the firm failed to comply with setback regulations when it constructed a 42 by 62-foot steel building on Stratton Lake Road.

The firm also was ordered to move the building to comply with the code. Peskie said the building would be dismantled and reconstructed within 90 days. Constructed in December, 1965, the building was intended to be used as a storage and machine shed.

Turney also charged that the firm did not obtain a building permit before construction was started.

Swim, Pizza Party Scheduled at YMCA

A co-ed swim and pizza party for university - students and other young adults is scheduled at 8:45 p.m. Friday at the Appleton Family YMCA.

Swimming is planned from 9:15 to 10 p.m. The archery lanes and record players also will be available.

Waupaca Street Project Approved

State to Award Contracts For Churchill, Fulton Jobs

WAUPACA — Final plans for a $1,321,660 improvement project on Churchill and W. Fulton streets were approved Tuesday by the city council and authorization was given to the state to award contracts for the construction work.

The projects are in conjunction with the new U.S. 10 beltline project. Churchill Street will be the east entrance route to the city and Fulton Street the west entrance off the bypass. Work on the city streets will be included in the paving contract for the bypass. Bids will be opened March 1 at Madison and the work completed this year.

Included in the project will be paving of the bypass, curb and gutter on all of Churchill Street and from Morton Street to the bypass on Fulton Street has been set at $1,321,860.

To Share Costs

Cost of work to be done within the city limits will be shared by the city, state and federal governments. On the participating aspects of the project, such as curb and gutter and repaving of the streets, the city will pay 15 per cent of the cost.

On non-participating items, such as storm sewers and a section of sidewalk on Churchill Street across the Cary Mill pond, the city will pay the entire cost. Of the participating portions of the two projects, the cost to the city will be an estimated $20,860, while the non participating costs will be approximately $24,310. Including the engineering costs and right-of-way purchase, the cost to the city has been estimated at $55,050. This is slightly lower than original estimates, according to a State Highway Department official.

The bridge across Cary Mill pond will be widened in addition to the widening and repaving of Churchill Street.

Date Not Known

The highway department representative said the exact dates of when work on the projects will start or be completed will not be known until after the contracts have been awarded However, he said the bypass will be paved before work starts on rebuilding the city streets. He added that curb and gutters may be installed before the bypass paving is completed. The state representative said at no time will traffic be closed on either of the streets

The bypass is expected to be ready for traffic by late summer.

Commenting on future improvements on U.S. 10 in the Waupaca area, the representative said funds have already been allocated for the purchase of right-of-way from the west end of the bypass to Amherst Junction. Engineering work will be completed in this 11-mile section of highway in 1966 and actual work on rebuilding the highway will start sometime after July 1, 1967, he said.

3 Parishes Will Join For Services

CLINTONVILLE — The Union Ash Wednesday Lenten service will be at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 23 at the First Methodist Church.

Christ Congregational United Church of Christ, Salem Evangelical United Brethern Church and First Methodist Church will worship together.

Rev. Keith D. Farnham, director of The Wesley Foundation, Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, will speak. Students from The Wesley Foundation will participate in the service and will form the choir.

The Wesley Foundation is the organized educational ministry through which the Method i s t Church makes a unified approach to the tax - supported or independent college or university.

Rev. Daniel H. Stahmer, D.D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, is a member of t h e board of directors of The Wesley Foundation at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Moving on Pontoons

Police Startled by Floating Ice Shanty

Three ice fishermen whose shanty w a s spotted floating in the middle of Little Lake Butte Des Morts caused policemen from three departments several anxious minutes Tuesday morning.

The first call came in to the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department about 10 a.m. A citizen said that a man who had been removing a fishing shanty from the lake had disappeared.

Appleton police were notified since it appeared the shanty was floating, on a chunk of ice, downstream toward the city. Seven Appleton policemen in several squad cars were dispatched. At least two Outagamie County squad cars also were sent.

Patrolmen Dan Gillis and Elmer Marx started with a boat from the shore near St. Mary Cemetery, some distance from the floating shanty. From shore, it appeared a man was huddled alongside the shanty and it seemed the shanty was on an ice floe.

'Stranded' Fishermen

However, about the time the two policemen were nearly halfway to the "stranded" fisherman, Winnebago County police determined that the small building was on pontoons.

A sheriff's deputy, using a loudspeaker, asked if anyone was in the shanty.

A red-clad man popped out of the building and waved his hand, police said. When asked where he was headed, the man answered "sturgeon fishing." The rescue attempt then was called off, some 20 minutes after the first alert was sounded.

It later was learned that the same boat, apparently powered by a motor, worked upstream along Stroebe's Island late Monday. Some reports stated that as many as three men were on the floating shanty.

Chilton May Reduce Summer Water Bills

Cutback in Cost of Sewerage Service To be Provided in New City Ordinance

CHILTON — Drafting of an ordinance which will lower the sewage charge on the summer quarter water billing was approved Tuesday by the city council.

Under the new plan, the summer quarter charge will be the same as during the first quarter of the years

Persons would be able to use more water for lawn sprinkling and car washing without paying additional sewage charge. This water does not move through the sewage plant, aldermen were told.

It was pointed out that this is common practice in many area communities Walter Muehl, public works director said that the change would result in very little revenue loss.

Act at Next Meeting

The city attorney will present the ordinance at the next council meeting.

Aldermen also decided to contact United Appraisal for service during March and May to assess new construction. Aldermen felt that both real and personal value should be done at this time. It was decided to request that the company submit a contract stating estimated cost and an estimate of time involved in an appraisal.

Unanimous Approval

The completed Homebuilders Plat received unanimous council approval. It had already been approved by the state.

McMahon Associates, Inc., city engineers, will be given authority to establish grades and make a profile for the land along New Holstein Street which lies south and east of State 57 behind the county highway garage.

These will serve as a guide for cost estimates in the event that water and sewage service would be extended to this area. The service would come from Memorial Drive.

City Clerk Arthur Pohland said the state board of health committee on water pollution had sent the city applications for aquatic weed control if they wished to have this conducted on the Manitowoc River again this year as in the past.

A transfer of $17,000 from the budget was approved to permit a final payment on the sewage plant project. The unpaid total was $22,000. Muehl said he believed only the electrical contract remained to be paid.

Condolence Resolution

Aldermen passed a resolution of condolence for the death of Ald. Donald Haltinner who died Monday.

It was reported that the fire contracts had been referred to the fire chief. They must be signed by May 1.

Charges Denied

Bubolz Accuses Appleton of Polluting Waters

The City of Appleton was accused by Gordon Bubolz, Wolf River Plan Commission chairman, Monday of polluting waterways in this area.

Bubolz specifically said that:

—The headwaters of Bear Creek are being spoiled by Appleton's dumping (landfill) methods in the Town of Center.

—Another bad practice was the storage of Appleton's street salt in piles on the banks of the Fox River where, he said, they are washed into the river during rains.

Bubolz's accusations were refuted today by Public Works Director Robert W. Bues who said he had no intention of "becoming involved in a feud between the Wolf River and Fox Valley Plan Commissions, or any political hatchetry."

Bubolz showed members of the Neenah Club a picture of burning rubbish in a marshland and said this was the type of land use the commission (Wolf River) is trying to prevent.

The dump maintained by the City of Appleton is about seven miles from the city at Mackville. The refuse disposal there is the sanitary landfill method.

Shows Slides

"Sanitary — my eye!" he exclaimed.

During his speech, which centered on the theme of the need for more responsible preservation of the area's water resources, Bubolz also singled out what he considers several other examples of bad water usage practices.

One was his claim that Appleton was storing salt in piles at the riverfront near the Appleton Yacht Club, the area known as Lutz Park.

Another, Bubolz said, is the construction of a large ranch house on the banks of the Wolf River near Big Falls, which he said cut off the view of the falls.

Inventory Sites

Bubolz said the commission has taken an inventory of all possible sites along the river which may be reserved for public use and said federal and state agencies are helping to preserve these areas.

"If Mr. Bubolz felt that Appleton is causing a problem, we would have appreciated hearing from him about it," Bues said.

Bues said for the record he was pointing out that:

—Appleton has not piled any salt along the Fox River for over a year and has none there this winter. There are some stone chips, however.

—The landfill operation at Mackville is inspected periodically by the state and during the three years that he (Bues) has headed the department of public works here there has been no official complaint against the city.

"We do feel Appleton has grown to the point that the landfill operation should be replaced by an incinerator facility," Bues said, noting the project is included in the city's five-year plan.

Bues said a few years someone complained about the city having salt piles on the banks of the Fox River and state agencies were called in to make inspections "The city received a copy of the lab test from the state which indicated the stockpile at Lutz Park had no discernible effect on the river water in that area," Bues added.

"Unless we get documented complaints, or a directive from some state agency, the city assumes no problem exists," Bues said.

Amherst	2	10

Coach Tom Cox pace-setting Wolves defeated the Indians of Coach Jim Otte 71-64, in their first meeting. Runnerup Iola-Scandinavia, just one game off the pace, is a virtual cinch to maintain its winning ways against winless Wautoma.

Friday's other games send Wittenberg to Marion and Waupaca to Amherst. The Wittenberg-Marion clash is likely to weigh heavily on both clubs' first division hopes. Wittenberg won the previous engagement, 67-52.

With I-S a sure bet to win at Wautoma, Manawa must guard against a possible upset at the hands of the Indians. 'Wega blitzed Amherst, 96-62, in its last outing and is led by the circuit's No. 2 scorer, Greg Hildebrand.

Iola's George Gjertson, with a 36-point outburst against Wittenberg last Friday, rocketed into the CWC's individual scoring lead with 251 points, just three more than Hildebrand. Wittenberg's Tom Stoltenberg tallied 35 against I-S to move into a tie for third place with Waupaca's Jeff Looker at 242.

Manawa's 6-4 center, Al Sabrowsky, who had been the circuit's top scorer much of the season, slipped from a 3-way tie for first to fifth place with 236 points. Overall, 21 players are averaging over 10 points per game in league play.

1,180 Wins Clintonville Doubles Title

CLINTONVILLE — Carl Behnke and Werner Wernberg were high scorers in doubles with a total of 1,180 in the first city bowling association tournament which ended Sunday at Donaldson's Bowling Lanes. A total of 101 entries participated. Guy Donaldson and Earl Hedtke placed second in the double with 1,177; Bill Martens and Ed Horkey, third with 1,158; Elmer Kroll and Oscar Schoenike, fourth with 1,154, and Jim Westphal and Roger Goerlinger, fifth with 1,153.

In the singles, the top five were Elmer Kroll, 643; Richard Eggleston, 636; John Zimdars, 635; Cal Waite, 624, and Ronald Korth, 618.

World Prayer Day Set At Black Creek Church

BLACK CREEK — The World Day of Prayer will be observed by a union service at St. John United Church of Christ at 8 p.m. Feb. 25.

Mrs. Robert Geer, Menasha, will speak and there will be special music. It is open to the public.

	W	L
West DePere	11	1

Algoma	5	7
Seymour	5	7
Oconto Falls	4	8
Oconto	3	9
Bonduel	3	9
Pulaski	2	10

The big one, of course, is the DePere-West DePere entanglement on Phantom hardwood. The title could be at stake in this one.

The co-feature on the weekend card is the Kewaunee-Sturgeon Bay tussle at Kewaunee. The Indians fell before West DePere last weekend, and a victory coupled with a DePere win over the Phantoms will force a final-weekend showdown Feb. 25.

Elsewhere Friday night, Seymour and Oconto Falls meet on Panther planks. Bonduel treks to Algoma and Oconto plays host to Pulaski.

Bonduel, which has won two of its three games, climbed out of the cellar for the first time last week. They'd like to stay out of there but face a stiff challenge at Algoma. The Wolves still have a shot at the .500 mark and a home crowd to boot, so they rate the favorite.

Seymour and Oconto Falls, the loop's top "up-and-down" quintets rate about even at this point and the outcome is a toss-up.

John Hedtke's 756 Top Barebow Archery Score At New London Range

NEW LONDON—John Hedtke's 756 barebow score topped the archery competition at Ebert's Hall last week.

Steve Weber turned in a 455 to lead the junior archers. Jan Close scored 450 and Steve Fischer 410.

Indoor shooting is open to the public with junior matches starting at 6:30 p.m. and senior competition at 8 p.m. Wednesdays.

Wittenberg Alumni '5' Will Meet Faculty

WITTENBERG — The high school alumni will play the faculty in a basketball game at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Wrestlers Take Impressive Records to Sectional Test

NEW LONDON — Twenty-four wrestlers will carry impressive records into the weekend sectional tournament from a regional test between 10 schools here Friday and Saturday.

Seymour's Dick Dunks took the 112-pound title in grand fashion and maintained an unblemished 21-0 record. Manawa's Gary Hass remained unbeaten at 133 pounds as he built his season record to 18-0 and 154-pound teammate, Tom Griffin, is 18-0-1.

The Wolves John Flanagan took the 120-pound title and is 16-1 going into the sectional pairings. Other top records are New London's Bruce Schoen, 145 pounds, 10-0-1, and Dave Meyer, 180 pounds, 16-2-1, and Hortonville's Steve Becher, 95 pounds, 16-1.

Lost Close Match

Other qualifiers and their records are Manawa's Larry Klepps, 103 pounds, 13-7; Larry Fietzer, 112 pounds, 12-7; Ron Hein, 138 pounds, 11-6.

Seymour's Dale Hodkiewicz, 120 pounds, 13-2-1; Ron Mueller, 127 pounds, 16-4-1; Gary Hooyman, 154 pounds, 16-4. New London's Jay Larsen, 127 pounds, 15-5-1; Jim Malliet, 133 pounds, 15-5-1.

Hortonville's Gene Bosin, 138 pounds, 13-5-2; Neenah's Darwin Westphal, 95 pounds, 8-3; Mike Milliken, 165 pounds, 14-4; Kevin Milliken, 180 pounds, 8-6-1; Bondow, heavyweight, 12-4.

Marion's Fred Zimmerman, 103 pounds, 8-0, and Jerry Steinke, 165 pounds, 12-1, and Iola - Scandinavia's Paul Isaacson, 145 pounds, 11-5.

New Point Totals

Final tabulation of team points showed some changes from totals of Saturday. Manawa took the team title with 70 points and Seymour second place with 64, both an increase of two from Saturday.

Other team results were New London, 57; Hortonville 46; Neenah, 44; Menasha, 42; Marion, 28; Weyauwega, 22; Iola-Scandinavia, 18, and Clintonville, 17.

Installation Rite Set at Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE—New members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be initiated at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Veterans Memorial Building.

"Americanism" is the February theme. Committee members are Mrs. George Berndt, Mrs. Ed Hangartner, Mrs. Marie Kuschel, Mrs. Len Manser and Mrs. Magdalene Ruddy.

Hunters to Hear Fish Manager

CLINTONVILLE — Don Folz, fish manager in Waupaca County for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, will speak at the annual dinner of the Bow Hunters' Club at Fischer's Riviera Supper Club at 7 p.m. Feb. 26.

Trophies will be awarded for the past season. The dinner is open to the public.

15 Returning Lettermen

Bulldog Runners Start Individual Workouts

NEW LONDON — Members of the 1966 Washington High School track team began individual workouts today.

Coach Ken Renning said formal practice sessions would begin around the middle of March. The Bulldog thin clads have performed remarkably well in past years — considering there are no track facilities for the school to work out on and all meets are held on unfamiliar tracks.

The team was 2-1 in dual meets last year. The lone loss was a 60-58 decision to Kimberly. It was 1-2 in triangular meets.

Meets scheduled are Manitowoc Indoor invitational, March 31; Appleton, April 15; Clintonville, April 19; Shawano, April 22; Kaukauna, April 26; Kimberly, April 28; Stevens Point Relays, May 4; Menasha, May 10; Mid-Eastern Conference, May 14 and Weyauwega, May 17.

Chilton Man's Fish Leads Pike Derby

STOCKBRIDGE — A 7-pound, 8½-ounce walleye caught by Roger Good, Chilton, was the largest fish registered in the fifth week of the Chamber of Commerce sponsored winter pike derby and is the current season's leader.

In the Sturgeon Derby an 85-pounder speared by Mark Zahringer, Sherwood, was the heaviest for the first week of sturgeon season. Zahringer will receive a $10 gift certificate at the annual Sturgeon Festival here March 6.

The fish was registered at Wally Krug's station.

World Day of Prayer Plans Set at Amherst

AMHERST — Women of Peace Lutheran and the Methodist Church are making plans for a World Day of Prayer Feb. 25, in the Methodist Church.

In charge of the program are Mrs. Chester Loberg and Mrs. Edwin Carr, of the Lutheran church and Mrs. Richard Olk and Mrs. Gardner Harvey of the Methodist church.

The program will start at 2 p.m.

Manawa Still Undefeated In BABA North Division

MARION — Manawa remained undefeated in the Northern division of the BABA as it won its eighth straight game, downing Birnamwood, 138-78. Bowler edged Menominee 91-89 to take over sole possession of the runnerup spot. Bonduel forfeited to New London in the other scheduled game.

The game at Keshena was close all the way. The two teams were tied 46-all at halftime. The lead changed hands the entire fourth quarter and tied 89-89 with 40 seconds left when Steve Voelz put Bowler ahead.

Marc Pecha led Bowler with 29 points followed by Jerry Schleim with 20. Bob Grignon took scoring honors and paced Menominee with 34 points.

Manawa took a 63-33 halftime lead and coasted to victory. Tom Cox led Manawa with 40 points while Mike Allen had 35. Bob Dickman and Steve Schulz led Birnamwood with 27 and 23 points respectively.

Games next weekend will see Menominee at Birnamwood, Marion at Bowler, and Manawa at Bonduel.

Dennis P. Kroes In Good Condition At Great Lakes

A 22-year-old Marine lance corporal from Kaukauna is expected to arrive at Great Lakes Naval Hospital today after being wounded in fighting near Chu Lai, Viet Nam, last Saturday.

Dennis P Kroes, son of Mrs Sylvester Huss, route 1, Kaukauna, received shrapnel wounds in the jaw and neck when an unknown explosive device went off while he was on a mission.

He was flown to a California military hospital Tuesday and is expected to arrive at the naval hospital near Chicago this afternoon. He told his mother in a telephone conversation Tuesday evening that he was listed in good condition.

Kroes is a 1962 graduate of Kaukauna High School and joined the Marines in July of that year. He arrived in Okinawa last May and was transferred to Viet Nam in August. He will complete four years of military service this July.

Lt Jeruc is married to the former Susan Makoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Makoski, 1412 W. Lindbergh St., Appleton. The couple has one child. Mrs. Jeruc is attending the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Friday Last Day For New London School Aspirants

NEW LONDON — Letters of intent to seek a position on the New London School District board of education must be filed with the superintendent by Friday.

Both board members whose terms expire, Gordon Reidenbach, president, and Kenneth Bleck treasurer, have filed letters of intent to seek their second terms.

Reidenbach, 210 W Pine St., is an accountant with Edison Wood Products. Bleck route 3, is a Town of Lebanon farmer. Hold over members are Eugene Fuhrmann, Marion Markman, Fred Bernegger, Alfred Lau and Clair Babcock.

Cost of New London Hot Lunch Program Figured at $80,000

Would Serve Entire District; Reaction Sought at Referendum

NEW LONDON — Total cost of initiating a hot lunch program in the school district will be about $80,000.

$19,000 Kitchen

Edgar A. Steubenrauch and Associates, architects on the senior high school, estimated the cost of completing the kitchen area in the new senior high school at $19,200.

Another $8,000 would be needed for tables, a truck for transporting food to outlying schools and miscellaneous equipment.

A special advisory referendum will be held in the spring to give the Board of Education an indication of the views of the district electorate on the hot lunch program.

New London is one of about five large high schools in the state which do not have hot lunch facilities. Appleton is the only other one in the area.

Statement on Costs

A statement on the cost of the program, number of students expected to take part and how it will be operated will be sent to district residents.

The school lunch division of The Deparment of Public Instruction estimates 1,500 to 1,600 students would eventually participate in the hot lunch program. The program would be available to all students in the district except those in kindergarten.

Kindergarten youngsters attend school on a half-day basis and are transported home for meals and to school after noon meals.

Central Kitchen

Food for the program would be prepared in a central kitchen located in the new high school and transported to the other schools. Present plans would call for children from the Washington Junior High School to walk to the new building for lunch. It is about one block away.

Operational cost of the program has not been determined. School administrators feel a contingency fund would have to be established as it is not known whether the program would be self sustaining.

Amount of surplus commodities available for the program would have a bearing on the cost of operation.

Swine Sale Is Saturday At Chilton

CHILTON—The 20th annual bred gilt and boar sale start at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the fair grounds' Calumet Arena.

The sale is held under the auspices of the Northeastern Wisconsin Swine Breeders Association. All breeds of purebred boars and gilts will be offered. Free catalogs may be obtained from the Calumet County Extension Office.

Indications point to another good year in the swine business, said County Agent Orrin Meyer. Feeder pigs are selling at more than $20, he said.

CLINTONVILLE — Volunteers, preferably older men and women, are being sought to work from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Mondays to assist the handicapped program in crafts and simple woodworking projects at the activity center.

Anyone able to help is asked to contact Mrs. Ray Phillips, program director. It is sponsored by the Waupaca County Association for Retarded Children.

Waupaca High Curlers Record Win Over AHS

WAUPACA — Waupaca High School's curling squad won four games while losing two in a series of dual matches with Appleton, Saturday, at Appleton.

Waupaca's A team skipped by Rex Pope won two games defeating Kuehnel, 9-1 and Randolph by a 6-2 count. Kuehnel is the Appleton B team and Randolph is the A team. Jeff Nelson skipped the Waupaca B team as they split their two matches, defeating Krause, the Appleton C team, by a 5-4 score after being downed by Randolph, 3-2. Marc Peterson skipped the Waupaca C team and they defeated Krause by a score of 10-2 and lost to Kuehnel, 6-2.

Both schools will be in the Madison invitational bonspiel this weekend. Waupaca will send two teams and Appleton one.

Scout Leaders Plan Session At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Harold Weiland, 107 Elm St., will be host to a meeting of the North District, Valley Council Boy Scouts of America, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Richard Herrema, Shawano, North District chairman, will be in charge.

Items for discussion will include the Health and Safety First Aid event which is scheduled March 26 at Shiocton, the progress of troops being registered for Gardner Dam Camp for the summer, and recruitment of necessary merit badge counselors for the Scouts and Explorers of the North District.

This meeting is for all institutional representatives and members-at-large of the North District.

Rhinelander Man Gets 60-Day Jail Sentence

CLINTONVILLE — James G Hoag, 27, Rhinelander, was committed to the Waupaca County jail for 60 days Monday after he failed to pay a $150 fine on charges of battery, using abusive language and drunkenness.

Municipal Justice Nathan Wise issued the commitment papers Monday morning.

Reports Head Agenda Of Manawa Meeting By Group for Retarded

MANAWA — The Waupaca County Association for Retarded Children will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the Manawa High School in the home economics room to hear reports on the budget committee and board of directors meetings.

A report on the state directors' meeting Feb. 6 at Madison will be given by Frank DiCristina, Clintonville, who attended as an alternate for Tony Buhr, Marion, state director for the Waupaca County association.

AFS Weekend Planned

Youth of 16 Nations To 'Invade' Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE—Sixteen nations of the world will be represented at the American Field Service weekend Feb. 25-27.

The schedule of activities for the weekend begins Friday evening with registration at the senior high school followed by the Kimberly basketball game. After the game, the Clintonville AFS Chapter will sponsor a dance in the high school cafeteria.

Bowling at the Donaldson Lanes is set for Saturday morning. Afternoon activities will include basketball, volleyball, listening to records, and dancing at the senior high school.

Annual Dinner

The annual AFS dinner and program at Christus Lutheran Church parish hall will be Saturday evening. Tickets for the dinner are on sale by AFS members and at the Clintonville National Bank, Dairyman's State Bank and Erickson's Drug Store.

After the dinner, there will be a party at the home of John Huffman for the AFS guests.

The weekend will conclude Sunday with church services and dinner with the host family in the morning and a tea in the [illegible] sponsored by the National Honor Society at the school.

New London to Request Federal Help for Canal

rass from running off into the ditch.

Cities Seek Assistance

Pelishek said the meeting in Wausau was attended by about 150 persons, all seeking assistance for sewage plant or public health facilities. He said the city's application for a federal grant to help finance construction of an addition to the municipal sewage plant was still in the active file.

It would be necessary for the city to re-apply for aid and submit new cost figures on the project this year, Pelishek said.

Lee Macklin, operator of a local theater, submitted a petition in opposition to Community Antenna television (CATV). Macklin cited availability of all major networks out of Green Bay as a reason for opposing CATV.

Mayor Schlafer appointed two committees to work on recommendations of the planning commission and to have reports of their studies ready for the March 7 meeting of the commission.

To Check Rezoning Request

The board of public works and judiciary committee were authorized to investigate the rezoning of some residential property on Waupaca Street for commercial use.

Ben Huzzar, operator of a grocery store at Waupaca and Shawano streets, had requested the rezoning for possible expansion of the store.

The board of public works and the traffic and safety committee were appointed to investigate the purchase of property and the development of an alley on the north side of Water Street between Shawano and Wisconsin streets.

The committee is to investigate the cost of purchasing the right-of-way for the alley, make a study on the advisability of developing the alley and bring in a recommendation on its findings to the planning commission.

Black Creek Legion Women to Sponsor Girl to Badger State

BLACK CREEK — The American Legion Auxiliary voted Monday to sponsor a girl to Badger Girls State.

The group also voted to donate $5 to the American Field Service and $2 toward the purchase of rehabilitation stamps.

Reservations were taken for the county council scheduled for March 15 at Kimberly.

The group decided to participate again in the Youth Government Day March 8, and to have a potluck dinner at the March meeting in honor of the American Legion's 47th anniversary.

Twin Lakes Council Top State Recruiter

WEYAUWEGA — The Twin Lakes Council, Boy Scouts of America, led all councils in the 1965 breakthrough program to reach more boys, Herman Brandmiller, regional district deputy, reported Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the Twin Lakes Council executive committee at Hotel Weyauwega.

Brandmiller, who served as Valley Council executive with headquarters in Appleton several years after World War II, said Twin Lakes Council showed a 6.7 per cent growth in 1965, ranking 13th in the region and tops in the state.

"Twin Lakes Council rates real high regionally and nationally," Brandmiller reported. In Boys Life subscriptions, the national scouting magazine, the council ranks fourth in the region, it was ninth regionally in camping with 78.8 per cent of Wisconsin the troops participating and more than 50 per cent of the boys taking part. In addition, the council finished 1965 "in the black," the executive commented.

Sharapac Klondike Derby

Marvin Mather, chairman, reported that the Sharapac District Klondike Derby will be Sunday at the Twin Lakes camp near Waupaca, weather and snow conditions permitting. Waupaca, King, Weyauwega, Fremont, Iola, Manawa, Wild Rose, Wautoma, Plainfield, Coloma, Hancock and Scandinavia are in the Sharapac District of the Twin Lakes Council.

Charles Johnson, Twin Lakes District staff member who had charge of activities in the Mascoutin and Sharapac Districts, has accepted a new scouting post at Muskegon, Mich. A search is underway for a replacement as well as for an additional staff member for the Oshkosh district, A. M. (Duffy) Meyer, Oshkosh, president of Twin Lakes Council, reported.

Omar Runyan, Oshkosh, council executive, reported Oshkosh will be the site of one of five regional seminars March 5. The course will include finance, organization and extension and new scoutmaster training course. The staff will be formed of National Council Headliners and local council training experts.

Hearing Set On Salt Price Fixing Charge

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Another pre-trial hearing is set for March 4 in U.S. District Court here on the suits of seven states and several cities and counties seeking civil damages from four major U.S. salt producers.

Defendants are the Morton Salt Co., Chicago; International Salt Co., Clarks Summit, Pa.; Diamond Crystal Salt Co., St. Clair, Mich., and Carey Salt Co., Hutchinson, Kan.

Named as co-conspirators in many of the suits are Cargill, Inc., Minneapolis; Culter-Magner Co., Duluth, Minn.; American Salt Co., Olathe, Kan.; Barton Salt Co., Hutchinson, Kan.; and Hardy Salt Co., St. Louis, Mo.

The federal government presented an anti-trust suit against the four defendants in 1961 and 1962, charging conspiracy to fix the price of rock salt. Carey entered a no contest plea and was fined $10,000. Morton, International and Diamond Crystal were acquitted by a federal court jury.

However, Judge Gunnar H Nordbye, Minneapolis, ruled that although the jury found insufficient evidence to warrant conviction on criminal intent the companies nevertheless are liable for civil damages.

Permanent School Milk Program Asked By Minnesota Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation which would make permanent the school milk program was proposed today by Rep. Ancher Nelsen, R-Minn.

The bill would also provide funds to carry out the program, starting with an appropriation of $110 million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

In a House speech, Nelsen criticized the Administration's proposed curtailment of the school milk and lunch programs.

"Such cutbacks," he said, "should not be condoned as a necessity because of the war in Viet Nam when all the money supposedly saved is simply being spent on other more questionable domestic programs.

Oshkosh-Owned Dog Winner In Westminster Hound Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Ch. Zelzy Mooremaides Magic, a wire-haired Fox Terrier owned by Marion G Benker of Pebble Beach, Calif., became the first of her breed to go to the top in two decades Tuesday night when she took Best-In-Show at the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show.

Magic, with Jimmy Butler on the other end of the lead, is an english import and came to the United States three years ago She has been trying to score ever since

James A Farrell, Jr., of Darien, Conn., the judge, required just 13 minutes to make his decision before a Madison Square Garden crowd of about 11,000

The other five finalists aligned against Magic, who won the terrier group, included

Ch Aennchens Poona Dancer, a Maltese, belonging to F. E Oberstar and L G Ward of Euclid, Ohio, the Toy champion

Ch Fezziwig Raggedy Andy, an old English sheepdog, entered by Mr and Mrs. Hendrik Van Rensselaer of Basking Ridge, N.J., the working winner.

Ch. Blaneywood Country Squire, an Irish setter, owned by Marion T. Darling of San Jose, Calif., the sporting victor.

Girl Scout Fete At Marion Hall Attracts 50

MARION — About 50 Brownie, Junior, and Cadette Girl Scouts, their fathers and leaders, attended the Girl Scout Father-Daughter banquet at the city hall Sunday evening.

The Brownies were in charge of the event headed by leaders Mrs. Lyle Henschel and Mrs. Tom Newcomb and committee chairman Mrs. David Wilke.

After the dinner, a program was presented for the guests. The Junior Girl Scouts, led by Mrs. Garland Sturms, sang "Little Johnny England". The Cadettes presented an original skit, "Won't You Please Come Home?" Their leader is Mrs. Joe Brandenburg. Tom Newcomb showed a movie on Girl Scouting.

Medical Miracle Mixed Blessing, Doctor Insists

MADISON (AP) — Medical miracles have created a myth that disease is no longer a fact of life, an official of the American Medical Society said Tuesday.

Progress of "miracle medicine" is a mixed blessing, an example of "too much of a good thing," said Dr. Roald Grant, who is director of professional education for the American Medical Society.

Dr. Grant told the State Medical Society's Wisconsin Work Week of Health conference:

"The big medical research center has created the myth that all man's medical problems can be solved miraculously if only enough energy and funds are invested in research.

"The public no longer passively accepts disease and accidents as facts of life. The miracles of modern medicine are considered a birthright," Dr. Grant said.

Schedule on Wages Okayed For Teachers

Administrative Classes Extra Time Pay Covered

Schedule classifications for administrators, resource staff and extra pay for extra time for teachers was presented by the professional improvement committee and approved Monday by the Appleton Board of Education.

The first category, which involves department heads, junior high counselors, deans, vice principals and head teachers, is the only category where a flat rate of increase was changed to a variable rate of increase.

The classification includes a teacher contract year plus 10 half-days, which will be distributed at the beginning and end of the year, plus a 2.5 to 5 per cent salary differential on six steps.

Counselors, Principals

High school counselors and deans and junior high principals (certified) fall in the second classification. Stipulations include a teacher contract year plus 10 days and a salary differential from 5 to 10 per cent on six steps.

Third category includes supervisors (city-wide) of music, physical education, art, language arts and library who will be contracted for a year plus 15 days with a salary differential of 10 to 15 per cent on six steps.

Elementary principals and vocational coordinators are covered in the fourth category. Stipulations include a teacher contract year plus 25 days and a salary differential of 15 to 20 per cent on six steps.

Category Five

Category five includes junior high principals, director of the child service center, director of special education and senior high vice principal. All will be contracted for a year plus 35 days and have a salary differential of 25 to 30 per cent on six steps.

Sixth classification covers the senior high school principal who will be contracted for a year plus 45 days and have a salary differential of 40 to 45 per cent on six steps.

Administrative assistant to the superintendent and elementary and secondary directors of instruction are covered in the seventh step. It includes a teacher contract year plus 50 days and a salary differential of 45 to 50 per cent on six steps.

Extra Pay, Duties

The committee, headed by Charles Buchanan, also presented changes in the list of extra pay for extra time for teachers for the 1966-67 school year.

On the elementary level, intramural men and women teachers as well as noon lunch hour supervisers will receive $2.50 per hour for extra time.

Junior high teachers supervising lunch hours and in charge of printing also will receive $2.50 per hour of extra time.

All other teachers are involved in senior high activities.

Forensics Schedule

In forensics, the teacher in charge of debate will receive an extra $200, an increase of $100; declamatory, $150; oratory, $150, and extemporaneous speaking, $150, an increase of $50 in the latter three categories.

Publications personnel have the following increases: Clarion, $400 extra in place of free time; Clarion business staff, $150, an increase of $50; Talisman school paper, $400 in place of free time; business staff, $150, an increase of $50; editorial assistant $200, an increase of $100; "Patterns of Star Dust" publication, $150 increase of $50; publicity, $200 — increase of $100.

Music department personnel will have the following increases: band, $200, up $50; chorus, $100 and orchestra, $100, both up $25.

Printing personnel will receive $300 extra; visual aids, $250; locker manager, $200; cafeteria supervision and cashier, $2.50 per hour for extra time.

Miller to Buy General Brewing California Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—General Brewing Corp. directors voted to sell their plant at Azusa, Calif., to the Miller Brewing Co. for $8 million.

The sale is subject to approval by General's stockholders and is contingent upon clearance by the Department of Justice. General and Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co. are co-defendants in an anti-trust suit.

General brews Lucky Lager, Labatt's and Fisher beers.

Both Miller and Schlitz are Milwaukee firms.

Jess Nicks, General Brewing president, said his firm's breweries in San Francisco, Salt Lake City and Vancouver, Wash., have the capacity to meet present and anticipated demands.

Kaukauna Youth Fined $20 on Reduced Charge Of Inattentive Driving

David G. Foster, 19, route 1, Kaukauna, was fined $20 and costs Tuesday afternoon on a charge of inattentive driving that was reduced from hit and run during a court trial in Outagamie County Court Branch 1.

Foster pleaded guilty to the reduced count. He was arrested by Outagamie County traffic police the afternoon of Dec. 12, following a two-vehicle accident on County Trunk S in the Village of Freedom. Owner of the other car was Marland M. Maulick, 37, Freedom. The Maulick car was parked.

Foster pleaded innocent to the original count and filed an affidavit of prejudice against County Judge Gustave J. Keller. The case was heard before County Judge Urban P. VanSusteren.

Foible of Business

5'9" Boyle Berates Tall Men, Especially Boss

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the secret ambitions of many employes is to work for a midget

They would give him total devotion

They are weary of working for tall people

It would be fun for them as a change to look down on the boss —rather than up — while he tediously explains why they don't have the merit to merit a merit raise

One of the troubles of the average employe is that he rarely can see eye to eye with his boss All he glares at is his boss's belt buckle

It is a foible of the business world that there is a connection between a man's altitude and the quality of his brains

The thought seems to be that the higher a man stands the smarter he is The executive should loom above the crowd This is supposed to build morale and improve leadership.

Actually it doesn't

Height is no proof of brains. Witness the dinosaur, the tallest creature to stride the earth. It died in swamps.

Every inch above 6 feet may help a basketball player, but life is not a basketball game. The majority of mankind's memorable leaders have stood between 5 feet 7 and 5 feet 10 inches

Other disturbers of the commonplace, such as Napoleon Bonaparte, Julius Caesar and Voltaire, were of medium height or below. So was Einstein.

If you will go to a board meeting of many a gigantic corporation, you will find it inhabited by tall men. Then an agile, squirrelly little fellow, chunky as a tree stump, comes in — and all those big fellows haul themselves to their feet and salute him

Snap, snap snap! He gets things done.

Tall men often are like Christmas packages. The wrapping is worth more than the contents. The best brains don't come in the large economy size. More often they come in the small economy size.

One of the reasons that most tall men are predictably less intelligent than people of average or less height is that the air is thinner up there where heads swim. They don't get enough oxygen.

And another thing—

EDITOR'S NOTE: Well, we might as well cut off this dithyramb here. The facts are that Boyle is 5 feet 9 inches tall His boss is 6 feet 1.

State Marks 20th Anniversary Of Using Fluorides in Water

BY E. B. JORRIS, M.D.
State Health Officer

February marks the 20th anniversary of the day when the city of Sheboygan began adding fluorides to its water as a means of promoting better dental health for its citizens—particularly children. First in Wisconsin, Sheboygan was among the first four cities in the nation to adjust the fluoride content of its public water supply.

It's most appropriate that the Sheboygan anniversary comes in February. The week of Feb. 6-12 is National Children's Dental Health Week and is being observed in varying ways in many communities. And on Feb. 6 a two-and-a-half day National Dental Health Assembly convened in Washington to discuss floridation. More than 400 national authorities representing public affairs, engineering, the social sciences, communications, law, public health, medicine, and dentistry were to consider fluoridation as it relates to their areas of interest. It is anticipated that the published proceedings of the assembly will constitute a treasury of fluoridation data.

Here in Wisconsin, Dr. Michael Arra, director of the division of dental health of the State Board of Health, reported in a 1965 year-end summary that at least three of every five persons in the state are now drinking water with a fluoride content adequate to provide proper dental protection. Furthermore, at least two dozen municipalities are actively considering the addition of fluorides to their presently unadjusted water supply systems.

Adoption of fluoridation of public water supply by Wisconsin communities has shown a resurgence in recent years. After Sheboygan began water fluoridation in 1946 the next cities to adopt the adjustment of fluoride content were Elkhorn and Madison in 1948. Nine communities began fluoridation in 1949; then interest reached a peak and in the next 4 years 78 public water supply systems were added to the fluoride roster. The state's largest city, Milwaukee, adopted fluoridation in 1953. From 1954 through 1960 there was a lag and only 14 cities and villages joined the fluoridation ranks in the 7-year period. By 1961 there was a revival in interest in this means to improve dental health and in each of the last 4 years at least a dozen of our state municipalities have adopted fluoridation of public water supply.

State Board of Health surveys in Sheboygan, Amery, Antigo, and other communities provide impressive proof of the effectiveness of fluoridation of the public water supply in the prevention of dental decay.

Life Returns to Normal After Revolt in Lagos

Many Civil Servants In Nigeria Assume Righteous Attitude

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Life has returned to what passes for normal in Africa's most populous nation a month after the military revolution

Nigerians discuss the new policies of the military governor, Maj Gen J T U Aguiyi-Ironsi, while sipping palm wine between glances at "The Flintstones" and "Wrestling from Chicago" on television

Traffic clogs the narrow odorous streets in this seaside capital Soccer games draw capacity crowds and Nigerian youths garbed in traditional British whites play cricket on the infield of the Lagos race track

Few troops are seen The police, who seemed to disappear during the uprising, have again taken up their duties Trade union leaders who led two general strikes in three years are promising industrial peace

Ministers Ousted

Many civil servants have adopted a smug and righteous attitude since the army ousted ministers and most political appointees

Trading stalls vending everything from auto parts to individual cigarettes are open from early morning to far into the night. Formidable "market mammies" run these businesses and trading usually is conducted in high-pitched haggling with much arm waving

Prices of staple foodstuffs like rice and plantains increased after the revolt but were rolled back under army orders Market mammies complain Nigerians wearing "military looking uniforms" demand free food

Roadblocks inside the cities have been lifted, and garishly painted "mammy wagons" careen through streets scattering pedestrians and bicyclists

Mammy Wagons

Mammy wagons are basic transport here. They are trucks fitted with wooden bodies designed to carry passengers, freight and livestock, usually at the same time

Village petitions for "pipe-borne water and other amenities" are now sent to military authorities instead of politicians.

Nigerian newspapers, most of the shrill political organs before the coup, now use much space praising the military regime

Mail is no longer opened for inspection as it was for a week after the revolt. But the government cable office exercises strict censorship on news dispatches. All references to tribalism or corruption in the old government are deleted Only flattering descriptions of the military rulers are accepted (This story was airmailed)

Photographs of slain Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa and President Nnamdi Azikiwe — who remains in London — have been removed from government and private buildings.

Nigeria's building boom continues Charity fund-raising drives have resumed

Schools opened on schedule for the spring semester. College students have so far obeyed a military rule against shouting party slogans, carrying placards or holding political meetings.

Urban Morality Needs Revision, Lutheran Claims

CHICAGO (AP)— A Lutheran layman from Milwaukee told a convocation of Methodists Tuesday that in seeking to develop new moral objectives for urban life "one of the major tasks for the church is to overcome the demonic forces of the city."

Frank P Zeidler, former three-term Socialist mayor of Milwaukee and now a consultant in public affairs spoke to some 1,700 delegates to the fourth National Methodist Convocation on Urban Life in America

The cynical people of the city," Zeidler said "the ones who feel that they really know what the patter of rewards and punishment is for conduct in urban life seem to act on the proposition that the cunning, the crafty, the selfish and the heartless (who may have a veneer of morality) are the ones who succeed

State Man Sentenced For Slaying of Wife

RICE LAKE (AP) — Thorolf Erickson, 50 Cameron who pleaded guilty to the deer rifle slaying of his wife was sentenced Tuesday to 20 years in the State Prison at Waupun

Erickson, a construction worker, had pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife, Jacqueline, 37, in a cafe parking lot April 4, 1965

Morgan, a 2-Year-Old Chimp from the Franklin Park Zoo in Boston, took time out from his stint as a model to offer a few opinions on the handiwork of 6-year-old Jeff Lyons Children at the Children's Art Center were creating likenesses of their live models using such products as knockwursts, carrots, olives and toothpicks Judging from his expression, Morgan apparently liked the creation (AP Wirephoto)

Allies Harass Viet Cong In Ground and Air Actions

Infantry Division ended Operation Mallet 30 miles east of Saigon The division claimed 47 Viet Cong killed, 10 captured, 24 base camps cleaned out, 78 sampans sunk, and 13 tons of rice, 10 rifles, 2 trucks, 6 radios and miscellaneous supplies captured since Jan 28

Operation Taro Leaf by the 25th Infantry Division 15 miles northwest of Saigon also closed out after 12 days with a record of 11 Viet Cong killed, 35 buildings destroyed and 47 tunnels blown up

Both areas had been for years almost uncontested insurgent strongholds from which they harassed the countryside to the outskirts of Saigon.

Heavy Casualties

The Viet Cong inflicted heavy casualties on South Vietnamese militiamen when they attacked an outpost near Da Nang, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, and set it afire

Two guerrillas were reported killed when two Vietnamese ranger companies, about 240 men reached the outpost, but the bulk of the attackers had fled

The American casualties last week totaled 517 — 91 killed, 423 wounded and 3 missing in action The week before there were 89 Americans reported killed, 499 wounded and 8 missing

South Vietnamese battle casualties last week were 249 killed and 104 captured or missing, a spokesman announced The figures reported the previous week were 184 killed and 121 missing.

Hospital Ship

The United States bolstered its medical facilities today with the arrival of the hospital ship Repose off Chu Lai The ship, which served in the Korean war, can accommodate 922 patients She has a helicopter platform to which casualties can be ferried direct from the battlefield

Gen Maxwell D Taylor, a military adviser to President Johnson and former U S ambassador to South Viet Nam, told the Empire Club in Toronto, Canada Tuesday night that the initiative in the war "has passed to our side"

We can now move pretty well wherever we want whenever we want" he said "We are indeed making progress"

In Seoul the South Korean capital the pro-government newspaper Hankook Ilbo reported that South Korea would add two combat divisions — more than 24,000 men — to its 20,000 troops in South Viet Nam if current negotiations for more U S aid are successful

During Visit

An agreement to send the additional troops is likely to be concluded during Vice President Hubert H Humphrey's visit to Seoul Monday the paper said The two additional divisions would bring Korea's commitment in Viet Nam to an army corps

Philippine President Ferdinand E Marcos and senior members of his Nacionalista party agreed in principle Tuesday to send a 2,000-man battalion of engineers and security troops to South Viet Nam

The Philippine Congress still has to approve the decision, which many congressmen and senators oppose.

Knowles to Undergo Annual Physical Check

MADISON (AP) — Gov Warren P Knowles will enter University Hospitals Feb 27 for two or three days of medical tests

I feel fine" Knowles said Tuesday but I enter the hospital every year about this time for a complete physical check"

fore the Senate Foreign Relations Committee

Gen Maxwell D Taylor, former ambassador to Saigon and a presidential adviser, is scheduled to appear Thursday Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be Friday's witness

Sen Richard B Russell, D-Ga chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, asked for speedy action He said it is "vital that this bill clear the Congress by the latter part of this month"

Russell said in an interview he will oppose any effort to attach to the measure any policy rider Critics of Johnson's policies have been talking about offering language which would admonish the President against expanding the Viet Nam war

Russell predicted overwhelming approval of the bill when a vote is reached

"We have around 300,000 Americans in Viet Nam, or in the waters adjacent to it," he said "They did not order themselves there

"Without regard to a divergence of views, practically every senator feels we should support with equipment, food, medical services and other necessities those who are fighting under our flag in that tortured land"

Nevertheless, Sen Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for a group which protested the resumption of air strikes against North Viet Nam targets, said critical issues are involved and "this legislation should not be hurried through."

He said the administration should not ask for a vote "until it has made its case" before the Foreign Relations group.

Wisconsin's Health

State Board of Health Long Has Had Radiation Program

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D.
State Health Officer

On Feb 1 Wisconsin's first radiation protection code became effective. Activation of this code was the culmination of more than 18 months of effort by a nine-member advisory composed of individuals chosen for their competency in this field.

Creation of the code was ordered by the 1963 Wisconsin legislature when it adopted the radiation protection act. This calls for the registration of all radiation installations in the state and empowers the State Board of Health and the Industrial Commission to formulate, adopt and enforce rules to prohibit and prevent unnecessary radiation Provisions of the act pertaining to industrial applications are enforced by the Industrial Commission while applications in the medical, dental, and paramedical fields are the responsibility of the State Board of Health About 98 per cent of the 4,800 registered installations fall under the jurisdiction of the Board of Health

Radiation protection measures however, have long been an activity of the State Board of Health — even though a published administrative code has just become effective A Division of Radiation Protection was set up and staffed in 1962. And long before that we set up, and still carry on, a program of monitoring nuclear "fallout" as a public health measure.

A milestone in these activities of the State Board of Health was passed just a few weeks ago when early in January the technicians of the Division of Radiation Protection completed the assignment of checking and adjusting every dental X-ray unit in the state Wisconsin's dentists have welcomed this benefit for their patients What this means to the average citizen is that he can visit the office of any dentist practicing in the state and be assured that he will not be exposed to excess radiation if it should be necessary to take a dental X-ray

Inspection Program

A similar inspection and adjustment program is being carried on for X-ray units in physicians' offices, hospitals, laboratories and other installations

Do the inspections reveal a need for correction? Dr William L Lea, director of the Division of Radiation Protection, reports that two of every five units checked so far have required adjustment. This service reaffirms the policy of the State of Wisconsin to "prohibit and prevent exposure to ionizing radiation in amounts which are or may be detrimental to health."

Members of the advisory radiation protection council that drew up the code are: Cornelius T. Young, vice president of the Wisconsin Electric Power Co., Milwaukee, chairman; R. S. Miller, of the atomic energy division of Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., Greendale; Ralph F. Frank, radiologist at Eau Claire; Joseph C. Phillips, of the AFL-CIO from Oak Park, Ill.; and Seymour Abrahamson, Ph. D., radiation geneticist at the University of Wisconsin; Warren Von Ehren, executive director of the Wisconsin Hospital Association; Wm. L. Lea, Ph. D., director of the Radiation Protection Division of the State Board of Health; Raymond C. Thurow, D.D.S., orthodontist; John H. Juhl, M.D., radiologist at University Hospitals, all of Madison.

London Critics Hard on Actor Richard Burton

All Agree Actress Elizabeth Taylor 'Walked Very Well'

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor did a walk-on bit opposite Richard Burton Monday night and the London critics agreed that she walked well.

Enjoying a brief respite between movie contracts, the screen's most expensive team are appearing free of charge for seven performances in the Oxford University Dramatic Society's production of Christopher Marlowe's "Dr Faustus" Burton plays the title role Miss Taylor appears as the vision of Helen of Troy.

Burton, once a notable Hamlet in London and New York, got mixed reviews. There was general criticism of the rest of the cast, all amateurs

Only Generous

The Daily Mail's Bernard Levin commented, "It was generous of Mr. Burton and Miss Taylor to give their services but this does not make his performance any less shallow.

"Once upon a time Mr. Burton played Hamlet with as much promise as has been seen in England since the war. But that was a dozen years ago; it's wonderful what a regimen of rotten films will do."

W.A. Darlington of the Daily Telegraph said Burton's voice "is as fine and resonant as ever, and he rose to his best moments when they came."

"A sad example of university drama at its worst," said the Times.

Teacher 'May Have Killed' Debbie Fijan

WHEATON, Ill (AP) — A man who says he "could have" slain 10-year-old Debbie Fijan but claims no memory of the deed is charged with murder in the West Chicago schoolgirl's death.

He is Loren F Schofield, 27, Debbie's favorite teacher at the Benjamin Elementary School north of West Chicago where Debbie was a fifth-grader. The girl's body, stabbed 18 times with a penknife, was found Friday night in a ditch near the school

Schofield was charged early Tuesday and is being held without bond in Du Page County Jail State's attorney William V. Hopf said Schofield failed three lie detector tests, after three earlier tests proved inconclusive.

"Yes, I could have done it," Hopf quoted Schofield as saying. "I am capable of it. I won't deny it. I'm sick and I need help."

Drop in Unemployment Rates Changes Depressed Area Status

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Economic development when measured by employment rates does not always pay off, 19 northern Wisconsin counties are learning

The 19 counties are among the 21 northern counties designated several years ago by the federal goverment as economically depressed areas, because their unemployment rates were greater than 7 per cent.

Gov Warren P Knowles announced Tuesday at a state capitol press conference that about April 1 the federal government will change the designation of the 19 counties and will no longer consider them as depressed, due to a drop in the unemployment rates of the area.

Remaining on the list of depressed areas for the purpose of federal assistance under the Public Works and Economic Development Act passed by Congress last year will be Iron and Menominee Counties

No longer eligible to apply for federal aids after the cut-off date will be Adams, Ashland, Bayfield, Burnett, Douglas, Florence, Forest, Juneau, La Crosse, Langlade, Lincoln, Marinette, Oneida, Price, Rusk, Washburn counties

Speed Action

The chief executive urged that local officials in the 19 counties speed action on proposed federal aid projects under the act The projects, he said, would be considered by the federal aid officials administering the programs if the requests met all other requirements and were received before the cutoff date, which has tentatively been set for April 1.

The governor suggested that county officials contact Wisconsin congressmen to file requests for federal assistance before the date.

The 21 counties were designated as depressed areas several years ago under the conditions of the Area Redevelopment Act, which was abandoned last year upon the passage of the Economic Development Act The first federal program granted aid for any public program in depressed areas and the second gave assistance only for programs in depressed areas where the program will contribute to economic growth

Knowles also questioned the effectiveness of a program that measures economic well-being only in terms of relative unemployment rates

Not Unexpected

Paul Pratt, director of the state Department of Resource Development, said that the announcement from the federal government was not unexpected He recently conferred with federal aid officials in Washington, D C and received assurances that aid requests filed before the cutoff date meeting all other criteria will not be prejudiced because of a change in designation, he said

A full year must pass after the designation change is made before the areas affected again can be surveyed for another possible change of designation, Pratt said.

Knowles also announced at the press conference he has designated Pratt's agency as the state department that will administer and coordinate federal grants for state comprehensive water and related land resources planning under the 1965 Water Resources Planning Act of the Congress

The selection of the resource department is temporary, Knowles said, pending legislative consideration in May of a plan to combine the management of the state's water resources into one state agency from the more than a dozen departments that now exercise such authority If the revision is not accomplished, the resource department will keep the new task of managing the $100,000 a year received from the new program.

WPSC to Consider Green Bay Firm's Building Plans

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — An application by the Bay West Paper Co. in Green Bay for permission to enlarge a building and a door over tracks of the Milwaukee Road railway on the plant grounds will be considered in a hearing by the state Public Service Commission on March 1

The commission in 1951 granted permission for the company to construct the building over the tracks. The company now plans to enlarge the structure and move the present door

The hearing will be held at the commission headquarters at 1 30 p.m
